TRUMAN SCORES VICTORY ON CONTROLS ISSUE

House Passes Compromise Extension Bill

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—The House tonight passed, 194 to 142, and sped to President Truman a compromise 10-month extension of price and wage controls due to expire at midnight Monday.

The Senate had approved the measure earlier in the day on a voice vote. The compromise had been hammered out by a Senate-House conference committee in a gruelling night session that ended early today.

Although the administration did not get all it asked, by any means' the bill was regarded as something of a victory for President Truman. The Senate-House committee knocked out a House amendment by Rep. Talle (R-Iowa) to remove controls from all commodities not under rationing or allocation.

Since nothing is rationed now, and few things are allocated, this would have been a body blow to the administration control plans.

The conferees also drastically modified a provision by Rep. Cole (R-Kas) to guarantee sellers their price markups based on individual rather than industry-wide profit margins before the outbreak of the Korean War.

The version adopted by the compromise on this point amounts to a restatement of present law.

The administration suffered a blow when the conferees decided to retain a provision exempting processed fruits and vegetables from price controls.

In the brief House debate preceding tonight's vote, nobody seemed happy with the new bill. Some Democrats thought it didn't go far enough and didn't give the administration enough control autnority to do the job properly.

However administration leaders in the House called the bill workable and predicted the President would sign it.

Some Republicans thought it gave the President more control over the people than is needed. One of them, Rep. Colt of Kansas, urged that the compromise be defeated. He said that if Congress doesn't assert itself, there will be controls for 20 or more years.

The measure sailed through the Senate with only a scattering of "no" votes. In the House the decision was closer, as had been expected all along.

On final passage, 127 Democrats, 66 Republicans and one independent voted for the bill, and 108 Republicans and 36 Democrats opposed it.

Arrests Recorded By La. State Police

Oscar M. Pace, 60, of Marion, was apprehended by members of the local troop state police, during the past week and charged with operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors and having no chauffeur's license.

Also arrested were Emily O. Johnston, 26, Rayville, and Eafron Calloway, 57, Negro, Route 1, Rayville. Both were charged with reckless driving and causing property damage.

Loran Donald Hood, 28, Route 1, Lilly, and Charles E. Bates, 23, 3011 Alabama avenue, Shreveport, were apprehended for speeding in trucks.

Man Killed In Blast At Lake Charles Plant

LAKE CHARLES, La., June 28 (AP) — One man was killed and another injured in an explosion that demolished one building and damaged several others at the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. plant early today.

Thomas McCain of Lake Charles was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital after he was removed from the wreckage of a three-story building more than four hours after the explosion.

Plant officials said the building, termed non-hazardous because of its construction, normally worked from 20 to 25 men. However, they said, only two or three men work there on Saturdays.

Leo Guimbellot, 38, of Lake Charles, was taken to a hospital where his condition was termed not serious. Other workers, cut by flying debris, were treated by the plant doctor. They were not identified.

Firemen from Lake Charles and a company unit fought the blaze following the blast and brought it under control by mid - morning. The plant is located seven miles southwest of Lake Charles.

Cause of the blast at reactor plant No. 2 was not determined. Three large buildings and another reactor were damaged. Walls were caved in and part of the roofs blown off.

Boggs Temporary Superintendent Of City Schools Here

Announcement Of Appointment Of Central Grammar School Principal For 30-Day Period Made As Supt. Boyet Accepts Baton Rouge Post

Announcement that J. M. Boyet, superintendent of Monroe city schools, will not apply for re-appointment to that position, that Supt. Boyet has accepted a position in Baton Rouge and that G. E. Boggs, principal of Central Grammar School has received a temporary appointment as superintendent of Monroe city schools was made Saturday by members of the incoming and outgoing city school boards.

It was stated that Mr. Boggs was given the temporary appointment by the old board at the request and in cooperation with the new board.

This appointment was necessary, it was stated, in order to have the position filled during the time between Mr. Boyet's leaving here and the appointment of a permanent superintendent. Mr. Boggs was appointed for a 30-day period covering the month of July.

The appointment was made when Superintendent Boyet let it be known that he would not apply for re-appointment and was announced coincident with Superintendent Boyet's announcement that he has accepted another position.

Superintendent Boyet, who has served for the last four years as superintendent of Monroe city schools and whose term ends June 30, announced Saturday that he will leave to assume a post with the L. S. U. extension department on July 1. In announcing his plans to accept the new position, Mr. Boyet released the following letter for publication:

"To Employes of the Monroe City School Board, Monroe, La.

Dear Co-Workers and Friends:

"The opportunity to serve as superintendent of the Monroe city schools for the past four years has been a challenging and stimulating experience. My term of office, as established by the board, will end at midnight on June 30, 1952. Due to the circumstances existing recently I am not requesting an extension of the contract. I, therefore, express to each of you, and to all persons employed by the board during the past four years, my sincere appreciation of the support and co-operation you have given during the years I have been privileged to work with you in Monroe.

"I have expressed to the members of the Monroe city school board appreciation of their very fine service as our leaders during these four years. Some of the members have served for a longer period of time, which has brought the advantage of their knowledge of the system and their background

Sen. Sparks Opposes Bond Issue

Senator James D. Sparks Saturday afternoon declared that he was opposed to the bond issue which recently passed the state House of Representatives and is to come before the senate in the near future.

Declaring that he believed that the bond issue of the size now before the legislature should be voted upon by the people, Senator Sparks said he favored a popular vote on the issue and that the state legislature had no constitutional right to issue these bonds.

Senator Sparks listed his reasons for opposition to the issue as:

"1. I do not believe we should reduce taxes and then borrow the money we need to operate the government.

"2. I think that any bond issue of this magnitude should be submitted to the people to be voted upon.

"3. I think the present is unconstitutional in that the legislature has no right to issue these bonds.

"4. Last but not least I do not want to have the 'privilege' of voting to make Louisiana the first state in the nation in per capita debt."

Northeast Louisiana State College students from the Monroe area have arrived at Camp Gordon to participate in the six weeks military police R. O. T. C. summer camp training, they are: Roy L. Aston, Hugh I. Bradshaw, Daniel J. Dennett, Tommy B. Wilson, Eugene J. Sievers, Herbert Peterson, Marloyn G. McNabb, Winfield F. Massingale Bobby J. Jackson and Donald E. Hicks.

The military police R. O. T. C. summer camp is designed to train college and university R. O. T. C. cadets in the field. The MP R. O. T. C. camp is held at Camp Gordon to utilize the vast facilities of the provost marshal general's center. Thirty colleges and universities will be represented at the camp this year.

Practical work is the emphasis of cadet training. This will include firing of the military police weapons, the M-1 rifle, the .45 caliber pistol, the 12 gauge riot-type shotgun, and the .45 caliber submachinegun. One week of combat field exercises will be conducted incorporating offensive and defensive tactics.

Additional technical training in military police functions and operations also is given to augment the theoretical knowledge gained in the college and university classrooms.

Improvement Shown By Injured Youth

Marvin Brasher, 16 - year - old youth who was injured Friday in a collision of his motor scooter and a city bus, was reported to be "quite a bit improved" late Saturday. He was in the St. Francis Sanitarium, where attendants said he was conscious and "feeling very good."

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Brasher, 609 North Sixth street, West Monroe.

Brasher received a fractured skull, abrasions and contusions when his scooter rammed into the side of a city bus driven by William Cornett. The bus was hit to the rear of the back door while crossing the intersection of Jackson and Harrison streets.

Brasher was taken to the St. Franvis Sanitarium by a Mulhearn ambulance.

Selman Field Bill Clears The Final Hurdle In House

LA. LAWMAKERS DUE TO TACKLE HEAVY SCHEDULE

Senate Will Act On Record Breaking Appropriation Bill

BATON ROUGE, June 28 (AP)—Louisiana lawmakers get back to work tomorrow night ready to act on a mass of legislation in the closing two weeks of the session.

The emphasis will be on money bills in the Senate, where the adding machines are clicking above the half billion mark in acts and constitutional proposals set for final legislative passage.

Monday has been put aside for Senate action on the administration's record - shattering general appropriation bill, now nearing the $400 million figure.

The original bill, submitted by Gov. Robert Kennon's fiscal experts, called for $392 million.

When the giant omnibus bill reached the floor of the House, after approval by the Appropriations Committee, representatives tacked on $3 million more, mainly for educational needs.

This week the Senate Finance Committee, meeting in a day-long executive session, slapped on another $2 million to hire guards at the state penitentiary, take care of various salary raises, and set up a permanent registration of voters system in Caddo, East Baton Rouge and Orleans Parishes.

Both houses will be asked to consider $30 million bond issues, one a constitutional proposal, the other a simple act.

The 100-member House of Representatives, which just sent a $30 million capital outlays bond issue on to the Senate, will be looking at an oft-amended Senate proposal that started out as a $12 million tunnel bill and ended up as a $30 million "bridge approaches and major projects" highway bond issue.

A House committee amended the constitutional proposal to use the same funds from a $30 million bond issue for the Highway Department River bridge at New Orleans and finance other major construction projects throughout the state.

In the amending process, the tunnel gave way to "bridge or tunnel" for the Industrial Canal, and the other projects included a Red River bridge at Shreveport, improvements to Highway 90 through Crowley, Lafayette and Thibodaux, and a bridge at Lake Charles.

As an addition to the constitution, this bond issue needs 67 affirmative votes in the House.

The Senate will be considering a House-passed $30 million bond issue which sets up a Louisiana building authority to supervise funds for capital improvements at "charitable, educational and correctional institutions" throughout the state.

Dubbed "the watermelon bill" by Welborn Jack of Shreveport, it passed the House by a 66-29 vote, a victory for the administration, despite the fact floor leader James Eubank of Alexandria voted against it.

The building authority bond issue, needed but 51 favorable votes for House passage, since unlike the highway issue, it is a simple act. It also broke the House attendance record for the session, with only reside in Monroe and will be engaged in business, the nature of which he is not ready to make known at present.

Mr. Meek, native of Monroe, was educated in the local public schools later graduating from Wake Forest College in North Carolina. He saw service in the first world war.

He was president of the operating company that erected Hotel Louisiana in Bastrop in 1930. Later he served for three and a half years as room clerk in Hotel Frances. For the past four years he has served as manager of the Lotus Club here.

Mr. Meek is a Mason, member of the Bayou DeSiard Country Club and member of the board of deacons of the First Baptist Church. He has been ever active in club, social and church circles. His wife also is prominent along similar lines, and their two daughters are Mary Elizabeth, wife of Major G. E. Mulvey, with the American air force in London, England and Shelby Aileen, wife of Lt. E. L. Gladney, Third, with the air force stationed in Cocoa, Fla.

"I regard Mr. Meek well suited to take over the hotel management for his past experience has been along this line and in which he has ever been eminently successful," stated Mr. McHenry.

Mr. Gibson assumed management of Hotel Frances, the city's largest hotel which was first opened July 1, 1931, on January 1, 1944. He had been up to that time,

CITY ENGINEER KELLER RESIGNS

States He Is Leaving Post To Devote Entire Time To Own Business

Thomas M. Keller, city engineer, offered his resignation to Mayor John E. Coon last week to be effective July 1.

Keller's resignation from the post which he has held for four years was submitted so that he could devote full time to his personal business, The Keller Company, 1612 DeSiard street.

"In leaving the post of city engineer, to which I was appointed four years ago, I want to thank all persons in the city hall for the cooperation which they have given to me during the past," said Keller.

Mayor Coon issued a letter after receiving Mr. Keller's resignation stating:

"It is with real regret that I accept your resignation as city engineer, effective July 1st.

"I wish to express my appreciation for the real service that you have rendered the city of Monroe as city engineer in a period during which the city of Monroe has unquestionably accomplished great things in the way of public improvements.

"Your services as city engineer, and that of your staff, has always been of the highest character and I wish you every success for the future."

No announcement has been made as to who will be Keller's successor.

Cong. Passman Reports Army Engineers Due Here In August To Draft Plans To Expedite Reactivation Of Military Base

Congressman Otto E. Passman yesterday informed the News-Star—World that Army engineers will arrive in Monroe in August to draft their initial plans for building construction projects relating to the reactivation of Selman Field.

Passman reported that the House yesterday gave final approval to the appropriation bill which will provide for funds to carry out the original authorization amounting to $23,750,000 for reactivation of the field.

"The amount of money allocated to the project will be larger than originally planned," he reported. "The specific outlay planned for building construction cannot yet be made public."

He reported that with yesterday's passage, the bill had successfully cleared its final hurdle in the House. "No trouble in the Senate is anticipated," he added.

The House passed the reactivation bill several weeks ago, by practically a unanimous vote. It was then sent to the committee and was returned to the floor of the House for final approval yesterday.

The annual payroll of the field, which will be comprised of 6,400 men, will be in excess of $20,000-000. The appropriation, as specified by Congress, will be spent for airfield pavements, liquid - fuel storage, and dispensing facilities, communications, navigational aids, and airfield lighting facilities, operational facilities, aircraft maintenance facilities, troop housing facilities, family housing, administrative and community facilities, utilities, land acquisition and medical facilities.

Death Vigil Being Held

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., June 28 (AP)—James P Longworth was not dead tonight, but he was still hopeful.

The 69-year-old mountaineer was weary after a day of waiting for the death he had expected at 7 a. m. (EST) today.

God, he said, had told him twice, while he prayed on the mountainside. that he would die at that specific time. Longworth already had arranged for his own funeral.

But the pallbeaters and a group of friends and relatives waited vainly as the day wore on and death did not come.

Longworth thought he knew the reason. Twice during the day, he said, death "hit him" but he fought it off. But the next time, he promised as he lay in bed, he would not resist.

Twice too, he arose from an apparent coma and shouted that he glimpsed heaven.

"It's beautiful over there," he

Omnibus Measure Passed By House

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — The House passed and sent to the Senate today a $10,122,840,780 omnibus appropriations bill. It was $3,731,205,250 below President Truman's requested figure.

Administration foes, aided by Democratic absenteeism, knocked out a total of $308,993,000 in two days of spirited debate.

Major cut was $243,993,000 from foreign aid. Another 65 million was sliced from TVA funds for new atomic power equipment

DRAGLINE, TREE CRUSH WORKER

Ray Johnson Dies Here After Receiving Injury Near Farmerville

Crushed between a dragline and a tree, in highway construction work, near Farmerville Tuesday afternoon, Ray Johnson, 38, was fatally injured. His death occurred in a Monroe hospital early Saturday.

The funeral will be held at Shiloh Baptist Church, near Bernice, Sunday, at 2 p. m. Rev. Van Burns will officiate. Interment will be in the church cemetery directed by Kilpatrick Funeral Home of Farmerville.

He is survived by his wife; a son, Charles Johnson; and the following daughters, Vabenia Johnson, Maxine Johnson and Annie Ray Johnson; four brothers, Leroy and J. Johnson, both of Chopin, La., William Johnson, U. S. A., and Elmer Johnson, Harvard, Neb.; and a sister, Mrs. J. C. Carnahan, Chopin, La.

2 Injured In Accidents On Highway

Two men were hospitalized for treatment of broken backs last night after the cars in which they were riding were wrecked in accidents which police blamed on slippery highways.

Fred Cox, Jr., 26, Laurel, Miss., sustained a broken back when riding in the back seat of a car driven by Mrs. L. A. Embrey, Jr., also of Laurel, skidded off Highway 80 near Calhoun hitting a tree and pushing in the rear end of the car. He was a passenger in the car. The impact broke Cox's back, the attending physician said.

Dr. L. A. Embrey, Jr., and Mrs. Embrey were not injured. The group were returning home from Dallas where they had attended the Jaycee's National convention.

H. A. Halbeck, an employee of Southern Bell Telephone company, hospitalized in the same room with Cox, suffered a broken back when the car in which he was riding slipped downhill about 10 miles west on Highway 80 and crashed into a ditch.

The driver was not injured and Halbeck was the only passenger. A driver traveling by stopped and carried Halbeck to the St. Francis hospital.

A Mulhearn ambulance carried Cox to the hospital.

Rainfall Lowers Mercury

A chain of 31 rainless days yesterday was broken when thunderstorms drenched Monroe causing the mercury to dip more than 24 degrees during a two hour period.

The rain measures .06 inches. During the height of the storm the temperature plummeted from 99.5 to 75.

The lashing storm lopped branches from trees throughout the city while Monroe city police said that several instances of exposed live wires were reported.

Backs Truman's Veto On Tidelands Issue

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — Advocates of state ownership of the submerged coastal lands received a blow tonight with announcement of Senator Kem (R-Mo) that he would vote to sustain President Truman's veto of the state control bill.

Leaders on both sides of the controversy indicated the issue of overriding the veto will not come to a vote before Congress quits for the national political conventions.

Wall Opposes Air Base At Selman Field; Says Better, Safer Locations Near Here

Shady Wall said yesterday that if he were elected to congress he would do everything in his power to prevent the establishment of a military air base in the Selman field area.

Wall said the establishment of a big bomber base in that area would endanger life and property in that densely populated section. "I think the base should be established in one of the thinly populated areas several miles out from Monroe," Wall said.

Wall a state representative from Ouachita parish, is presently campaigning for congress. In a statement last week, Wall said his campaigning would be done mostly on week ends and when the state legislature was in adjournment. He spoke in Ruston, Dubach Farmerville, Bernice and Bastrop yesterday.

Wall's announcement on the air base issue follows positive indication by the government that military installation of the strategic air command will be located near Monroe. Wall said he wanted it "clearly understood" that he was in favor of having the base but not at Selman field.

"In addition to looking at it from a safety standpoint," Wall said, "I think we should consider the fact that our only outlet to commercial air service would be threatened.

"I understand the base is likely to be a permanent military installation. In that event it would be folly to locate a big bomber base in an area that is so close to Monroe, and in a choice suburban area," Wall continued.

"If we are going to have a big air base, and I hope we do, why don't we locate it now in a spot that is not destined to be a part of the city of Monroe in just a few years.

"Thousands of level acres can be purchased a safe distance from Monroe and I think we should seek out one of these sites for the air base," Wall said.

Expanding on the possibility of jeopardizing commercial air service, Wall said that in the event Selman field was reclaimed by the government the people of Monroe and West Monroe had two alternatives. "We can forget air service or we must approve a bond issue to build another airfield."

Wall said Selman field was well suited for a municipal airport, but in his opinion a heavy bomber base in that area "would in time grow very unpopular with the people." The state legislator said that unpopularity apparently was not so easily foreseen by "those who are so overjoyed they would probably agree to move some of the business district in order to build the base.

"I am definitely in favor of

Acheson Draws Applause, Criticism On Berlin Visit

BERLIN, June 28—U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson arrived in Berlin today for a wellt ime 24-hour morale-boosting visit to this isolated city in the Russian Zone.

He came here directly from a meeting with the British and French foreign ministers in London. They decided, among other things, on what terms they would discuss with the Russians the question of unifying Germany.

Even as Acheson was flying here, the Western Allied commanders protested to the Soviets new restrictions which prevent West Berlin residents from crossing the Soviet Zone border line to visit relatives or to reach property they legally own. The Allies said the restrictions violate the 1949 Paris agreement ending the Russian blockade of Berlin.

West Berlin officials said 18,000 Germans have been affected by the Soviet restrictions imposed one by one on West Berliners since the Bonn government signed last month a peace contract with the Western Powers and agreed to put 500,000 West German soldiers in the projected Western European Army. Today the Allied commanders called the Soviet action "an inhumane policy."

Speaking for the Americans, Maj. Gen. Lemuel B. Mathewson, U. S. commandant, wrote to Soviet Commandant Sergei Dengin demanding the restrictions be lifted or that these West Berliners, suffering "untold distress," be paid "adequate compensation.

Berlin greeted Acheson with enthusiasm. Hundreds of Germans crowded around the gateways to Tempelhof Airdrome. There was a chorus of cheers as the American

The military police R. O. T. C. summer camp is designed to train college and university R. O. T. C. cadets in the field. The MP R. O. T. C. camp is held at Camp Gordon to utilize the vast facilities of the provost marshal general's center. Thirty colleges and universities will be represented at the camp this year.

Practical work is the emphasis of cadet training. This will include firing of the military police weapons, the M-1 rifle, the .45 caliber pistol, the 12 gauge riot-type shotgun, and the .45 caliber submachinegun. One week of combat field exercises will be conducted incorporating offensive and defensive tactics.

Additional technical training in military police functions and operations also is given to augment the theoretical knowledge gained in the college and university classrooms.

Improvement Shown By Injured Youth

Marvin Brasher, 16 - year - old youth who was injured Friday in a collision of his motor scooter and a city bus, was reported to be "quite a bit improved" late Saturday. He was in the St. Francis Sanitarium, where attendants said he was conscious and "feeling very good."

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Brasher, 609 North Sixth street, West Monroe.

Brasher received a fractured skull, abrasions and contusions when his scooter rammed into the side of a city bus driven by William Cornett. The bus was hit to the rear of the back door while crossing the intersection of Jackson and Harrison streets.

Brasher was taken to the St. Franvis Sanitarium by a Mulhearn ambulance.

LA. LAWMAKERS DUE TO TACKLE HEAVY SCHEDULE

Senate Will Act On Record Breaking Appropriation Bill

BATON ROUGE, June 28 (AP)—Louisiana lawmakers get back to work tomorrow night ready to act on a mass of legislation in the closing two weeks of the session.

The emphasis will be on money bills in the Senate, where the adding machines are clicking above the half billion mark in acts and constitutional proposals set for final legislative passage.

Monday has been put aside for Senate action on the administration's record - shattering general appropriation bill, now nearing the $400 million figure.

The original bill, submitted by Gov. Robert Kennon's fiscal experts, called for $392 million.

When the giant omnibus bill reached the floor of the House, after approval by the Appropriations Committee, representatives tacked on $3 million more, mainly for educational needs.

This week the Senate Finance Committee, meeting in a day-long executive session, slapped on another $2 million to hire guards at the state penitentiary, take care of various salary raises, and set up a permanent registration of voters system in Caddo, East Baton Rouge and Orleans Parishes.

Both houses will be asked to consider $30 million bond issues, one a constitutional proposal, the other a simple act.

The 100-member House of Representatives, which just sent a $30 million capital outlays bond issue on to the Senate, will be looking at an oft-amended Senate proposal that started out as a $12 million tunnel bill and ended up as a $30 million "bridge approaches and major projects" highway bond issue.

A House committee amended the constitutional proposal to use the same funds from a $30 million bond issue for the Highway Department River bridge at New Orleans and finance other major construction projects throughout the state.

In the amending process, the tunnel gave way to "bridge or tunnel" for the Industrial Canal, and the other projects included a Red River bridge at Shreveport, improvements to Highway 90 through Crowley, Lafayette and Thibodaux, and a bridge at Lake Charles.

As an addition to the constitution, this bond issue needs 67 affirmative votes in the House.

The Senate will be considering a House-passed $30 million bond issue which sets up a Louisiana building authority to supervise funds for capital improvements at "charitable, educational and correctional institutions" throughout the state.

Dubbed "the watermelon bill" by Welborn Jack of Shreveport, it passed the House by a 66-29 vote, a victory for the administration, despite the fact floor leader James Eubank of Alexandria voted against it.

The building authority bond issue, needed but 51 favorable votes for House passage, since unlike the highway issue, it is a simple act. It also broke the House attendance record for the session, with only

New Manager Named At Hotel Frances

Announcement Is Made Shelby Meek Will Replace E. C. Gibson

Announcement is made today by Carl H. McHenry, one of the principal owners of Hotel Frances that, effective July 15 next, Ernest C. Gibson will retire from the management of this hostelry. His successor will be Shelby Meek, well known local business man, who will relinquish management of the Lotus Club to assume his new duties. Mr. Gibson will continue to reside in Monroe and will be engaged in business, the nature of which he is not ready to make known at present.

Mr. Meek, native of Monroe, was educated in the local public schools later graduating from Wake Forest College in North Carolina. He saw service in the first world war.

He was president of the operating company that erected Hotel Louisiana in Bastrop in 1930. Later he served for three and a half years as room clerk in Hotel Frances. For the past four years he has served as manager of the Lotus Club here.

Mr. Meek is a Mason, member of the Bayou DeSiard Country Club and member of the board of deacons of the First Baptist Church. He has been ever active in club, social and church circles. His wife also is prominent along similar lines, and their two daughters are Mary Elizabeth, wife of Major G. E. Mulvey, with the American air force in London, England and Shelby Aileen, wife of Lt. E. L. Gladney, Third, with the air force stationed in Cocoa, Fla.

"I regard Mr. Meek well suited to take over the hotel management for his past experience has been along this line and in which he has ever been eminently successful," stated Mr. McHenry.

Mr. Gibson assumed management of Hotel Frances, the city's largest hotel which was first opened July 1, 1931, on January 1, 1944. He had been up to that time,

CITY ENGINEER KELLER RESIGNS

States He Is Leaving Post To Devote Entire Time To Own Business

Thomas M. Keller, city engineer, offered his resignation to Mayor John E. Coon last week to be effective July 1.

Keller's resignation from the post which he has held for four years was submitted so that he could devote full time to his personal business, The Keller Company, 1612 DeSiard street.

"In leaving the post of city engineer, to which I was appointed four years ago, I want to thank all persons in the city hall for the cooperation which they have given to me during the past," said Keller.

Mayor Coon issued a letter after receiving Mr. Keller's resignation stating:

"It is with real regret that I accept your resignation as city engineer, effective July 1st.

"I wish to express my appreciation for the real service that you have rendered the city of Monroe as city engineer in a period during which the city of Monroe has unquestionably accomplished great things in the way of public improvements.

"Your services as city engineer, and that of your staff, has always been of the highest character and I wish you every success for the future."

No announcement has been made as to who will be Keller's successor.

Cong. Passman Reports Army Engineers Due Here In August To Draft Plans To Expedite Reactivation Of Military Base

Congressman Otto E. Passman yesterday informed the News-Star—World that Army engineers will arrive in Monroe in August to draft their initial plans for building construction projects relating to the reactivation of Selman Field.

Passman reported that the House yesterday gave final approval to the appropriation bill which will provide for funds to carry out the original authorization amounting to $23,750,000 for reactivation of the field.

"The amount of money allocated to the project will be larger than originally planned," he reported. "The specific outlay planned for building construction cannot yet be made public."

He reported that with yesterday's passage, the bill had successfully cleared its final hurdle in the House. "No trouble in the Senate is anticipated," he added.

The House passed the reactivation bill several weeks ago, by practically a unanimous vote. It was then sent to the committee and was returned to the floor of the House for final approval yesterday.

The annual payroll of the field, which will be comprised of 6,400 men, will be in excess of $20,000,000. The appropriation, as specified by Congress, will be spent for airfield pavements, liquid - fuel storage, and dispensing facilities, communications, navigational aids, and airfield lighting facilities, operational facilities, aircraft maintenance facilities, troop housing facilities, family housing, administrative and community facilities, utilities, land acquisition and medical facilities.

Death Vigil Being Held

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., June 28 (AP) —James P Longworth was not dead tonight, but he was still hopeful.

The 69-year-old mountaineer was weary after a day of waiting for the death he had expected at 7 a. m. (EST) today.

God, he said, had told him twice, while he prayed on the mountainside, that he would die at that specific time. Longworth already had arranged for his own funeral.

But the pallbearers and a group of friends and relatives waited vainly as the day wore on and death did not come.

Longworth thought he knew the reason. Twice during the day, he said, death "hit him" but he fought it off. But the next time, he promised as he lay in bed, he would not resist.

Twice too, he arose from an apparent coma and shouted that he glimpsed heaven.

"It's beautiful over there," he

Omnibus Measure Passed By House

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — The House passed and sent to the Senate today a $10,122,840,780 omnibus appropriations bill. It was $3,731,205,250 below President Truman's requested figure.

Administration foes, aided by Democratic absenteeism, knocked out a total of $308,993,000 in two days of spirited debate.

Major cut was $243,993,000 from foreign aid. Another 65 million was sliced from TVA funds for new atomic power equipment

DRAGLINE, TREE CRUSH WORKER

Ray Johnson Dies Here After Receiving Injury Near Farmerville

Crushed between a dragline and a tree, in highway construction work, near Farmerville Tuesday afternoon, Ray Johnson, 38, was fatally injured. His death occurred in a Monroe hospital early Saturday.

The funeral will be held at Shiloh Baptist Church, near Bernice, Sunday, at 2 p. m. Rev. Van Burns will officiate. Interment will be in the church cemetery directed by Kilpatrick Funeral Home of Farmerville.

He is survived by his wife; a son, Charles Johnson; and the following daughters, Vabenia Johnson, Maxine Johnson and Annie Ray Johnson; four brothers, Leroy and J. Johnson, both of Chopin, La., William Johnson, U. S. A., and Elmer Johnson, Harvard, Neb.; and a sister, Mrs. J. C. Carnahan, Chopin, La.

2 Injured In Accidents On Highway

Two men were hospitalized for treatment of broken backs last night after the cars in which they were riding were wrecked in accidents which police blamed on slippery highways.

Fred Cox, Jr., 26, Laurel, Miss., sustained a broken back when riding in the back seat of a car driven by Mrs. L. A. Embrey, Jr., also of Laurel, skidded off Highway 80 near Calhoun hitting a tree and pushing in the rear end of the car. He was a passenger in the car. The impact broke Cox's back, the attending physician said.

Dr. L. A. Embrey, Jr., and Mrs. Embrey were not injured. The group were returning home from Dallas where they had attended the Jaycee's National convention.

H. A. Halbeck, an employee of Southern Bell Telephone company, hospialized in the same room with Cox, suffered a broken back when the car in which he was riding slipped downhill about 10 miles west on Highway 80 and crashed into a ditch.

The driver was not injured and Halbeck was the only passenger. A driver traveling by stopped and carried Halbeck to the St. Francis hospital.

A Mulhearn ambulance carried Cox to the hospital.

Rainfall Lowers Mercury

A chain of 31 rainless days yesterday was broken when thunderstorms drenched Monroe causing the mercury to dip more than 24 degrees during a two hour period.

The rain measures .08 inches. During the height of the storm the temperature plummeted from 99.5 to 75.

The lashing storm lopped branches from trees throughout the city while Monroe city police said that several instances of exposed live wires were reported.

Backs Truman's Veto On Tidelands Issue

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — Advocates of state ownership of the submerged coastal lands received a blow tonight with announcement of Senator Kem (R-Mo) that he would vote to sustain President Truman's veto of the state control bill.

Leaders on both sides of the controversary indicated the issue of overriding the veto will not come to a vote before Congress quits for the national political conventions.

Wall Opposes Air Base At Selman Field; Says Better, Safer Locations Near Here

Shady Wall said yesterday that if he were elected to congress he would do everything in his power to prevent the establishment of a military air base in the Selman field area.

Wall said the establishment of a big bomber base in that area would endanger life and property in that densely populated section. "I think the base should be established in one of the thinly populated areas several miles out from Monroe," Wall said.

Wall a state representative from Ouachita parish, is presently campaigning for congress. In a statement last week, Wall said his campaigning would be done mostly on week ends and when the state legislature was in adjournment. He spoke in Ruston, Dubach Farmerville, Bernice and Bastrop yesterday.

Wall's announcement on the air base issue follows positive indication by the government that military installation of the strategic air command will be located near Monroe. Wall said he wanted it "clearly understood" that he was in favor of having the base but not at Selman field.

"In addition to looking at it from a safety standpoint," Wall said, "I think we should consider the fact that our only outlet to commercial air service would be threatened.

"I understand the base is likely to be a permanent military installation. In that event it would be folly to locate a big bomber base in an area that is so close to Monroe, and in a choice suburban area," Wall continued.

"If we are going to have a big air base, and I hope we do, why don't we locate it now in a spot that is not destined to be a part of the city of Monroe in just a few years.

"Thousands of level acres can be purchased a safe distance from Monroe and I think we should seek out one of these sites for the air base," Wall said.

Expanding on the possibility of jeopardizing commercial air service, Wall said that in the event Selman field was reclaimed by the government the poeple of Monroe and West Monroe had two alternatives. "We can forget air service or we must approve a bond issue to build another airfield."

Wall said Selman field was well suited for a municipal airport, but in his opinion a heavy bomber base in that area "would in time grow very unpopular with the people." The state legislator said that unpopularity apparently was not so easily foreseen by "those who are so overjoyed they would probably agree to move some of the business district in order to build the base.

"I am definitely in favor of

Acheson Draws Applause, Criticism On Berlin Visit

BERLIN, June 28—U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson arrived in Berlin today for a wellwell-time 24-hour morale-boosting visit to this isolated city in the Russian Zone.

He came here directly from a meeting with the British and French foreign ministers in London. They decided, among other things, on what terms they would discuss with the Russians the question of unifying Germany.

Even as Acheson was flying here, the Western Allied commanders protested to the Soviets new restrictions which prevent West Berlin residents from crossing the Soviet Zone border line to visit relatives or to reach property they legally own. The Allies said the restrictions violate the 1949 Paris agreement ending the Russian blockade of Berlin.

West Berlin officials said 16,000 Germans have been affected by the Soviet restrictions imposed one by one on West Berliners since the Bonn government signed last month a peace contract with the Western Powers and agreed to put 500,000 West German soldiers in the projected Western European Army. Today the Allied commanders called the Soviet action "an inhumane policy."

Speaking for the Americans, Maj. Gen. Lemuel B. Mathewson, U. S. commandant, wrote to Soviet Commandant Sergei Dengin demanding the restrictions be lifted or that these West Berliners, suffering "untold distress," be paid "adequate compensation.

Berlin greeted Acheson with enthusiasm. Hundreds of Germans crowded around the gateways to Tempelhof Airdrome. There was a chorus of cheers as the American official drove past in the automobile of the U. S. high commissioner, John H. McCloy.

But the East Berlin Communist press was not enthusiastic. The Reds' newspapers called for "big actions to get rid of the American warmongers." They said the policies of Acheson and his supporters in Allied councils "must be fought off with fire and sword."

West Berlin police were tipped the Communists planned some street fighting at West Berlin city hall to protest Acheson's visit, but called it off at the last minute. West Berlin police — and their fire hoses — have frequently dampened Communist enthusiasm the past year.

Aides of the U. S. secretary said he might have something to say about the current Communist tactics in a speech dedicating a million-dollar American memorial library tomorrow. He also will have a press conference tomorrow.

Despite the wearing friction between the East and West, the Allies and the Russians officially maintained their courtesies. The Soviets asked permission to send a delegation to any formal function for Acheson and were invited to a reception given by Gen. Mathewson in his home tonight. The Russians nominated Vladimir Semenov, political adviser to the Soviet Control Commission, and Dengin.

Acheson will fly in President Truman's personal plane, the Independence, to Vienna after noon tomorrow. American and Austrian police arrested 22 Communists in the U. S. sector of Vienna last night for smearing anti-Acheson signs on streets and walls.

Sixteen thousand West Berliners have registered claims to gardens, homes, businesses and other pieces of property now lost to them since the East Zone restricted their free movement from West Berlin. West Berlin Protestant church authorities said the restrictions keep Berliners from the city's biggest Protestant cemetery at Stahnsdorf. More than 100,000 West Berliners are buried in the Soviet-occupied zone.

the air base locating in this area, but I don't think we ought to be over enthusiastic and make a mistake that we can't undo," Wall said.

"In addition to the heavy population near Selman field we have our college just a short distance away and the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home is right at the field," he said.

"Should I be elected," according to Wall, "I will work to secure a safe location for the military field. I say let's get the military base, but let's put it where we can be proud of it in years to come.

"The best remedy for a mistake is not to make it," Wall concluded.

exclaimed. "Such beautiful people."

Longworth was in seemingly good health when he took to bed last night. Today, he got out of bed and collapsed, and said he was "numb from the hips down."

The Kentuckian's anticipated demise was discussed more freely than the torrid weather in this city of 15,000 residents at the foot of Cumberland Mountain.

More than 200 persons flocked to the home of his daughter, where Longworth lives, to see what would happen.

The Rev. James Foster, pastor of the Church of God, of which Longworth is a member, and Longworth's daughter said they, too, believed Longworth had grappled with death. They said they noticed a change in him.

tary school just being completed down on Plum and South Fifth streets, and does it ever have a name! "Cotton Mill District School." Seems a pity doesn't it, with all other little schools with such pretty names. Sounds as though that part of town is the slum district, but it isn't, really, because most of the homes are new and well kept.

Inform me, please, in your column how a school does get its name.

Thank you.

A home owner in that area, and the parent of elementary age school children.

We understand that it is not permissible hereafter to name a public school for anyone who is still alive. There are a number of retired school teachers in Monroe whose record is such that it would seem suitable that their names be used to designate new school buildings, but the fact that they are still living is the only block in the way.

Lida Benton was named, as we recall, after the death of that fine educator; Georgia Tucker was named for the mother of Guy P. Stubbs, who was highly revered and who died many years ago; Sherrouse school, as we understand it, was not named for any individual but as a general name of the family which is prominent and highly regarded locally.

It would be of interest if persons would send in names that they may suggest for designation of the new city schools soon to be used here. While school teachers may be of paramount importance, other prominent individuals of the past in Monroe might be utilized as names for the fine new schools here. Suggestions are in order.

Halting for several minutes in or near T. L. Fidler's store on the Monroe - Bastrop road, several miles out, early Saturday morning, Mrs. J. N. McRee laid her pocket book on the fender of her car.

Later she forgot it and drove on. When she missed the article, she knew it must have fallen on to the highway.

It contained many valuable papers and money. She will gladly pay a reward and she can be reached by phone at 3-8944.

of experience. It has been my good fortune to serve the educational interests in the entire atate which enables me to evaluate accurately their philosophy and service to the city schools. It has been easy to recognize the spirit of unselfishness which has characterized their work, and to see that their only motive was to serve the interests of the children of Monroe. Every action of the board has been motivated by this desire to take such action which in their considered judgment would advance the cause of education in Monroe. I am most grateful for this association.

"The privilege of working with Mr. E. L. Neville has been a great honor and one of the great satisfactions of my entire educational experience. The friendship of Mr. and Mrs. Neville is cherished as we return to Baton Rouge to make our home.

"I am submitting in a letter to the board on June 26th a statement of accomplishments during the past years, which achievements, I believe, represent sound, constructive educational progress when evaluated by present-day standards for elementary and secondary education. These achievements represent our combined effort, and unfortunately can not present the part played by each individual in the total picture. The numberless personal successes and contributions of employees could not be given the recognition they deserve due to the necessity to limit the length of the statement. It is our hope that the children, parents and other citizens view our work with approval as we have tried to meet the needs of each child and of the group.

"I have accepted a position in Baton Rouge. Public announcements of such appointments are by the administrative head of the employing agency. The assignment will include work throughout the entire state. I trust that this will permit me to work again with many of you as this new assignment progresses.

"Sincerely yours,

manager of Hotel Alvis in Monroe. A Georgian by birth, he has now completed 36 years in hotel operations.

Selling out his interest in the lease of Hotel Gregg, in Longview, Tex., at the time of the big East Texas oil boom, Gibson first was connected with the company that erected and operated Hotel Louisiana in Bastrop. From there he became manager of Hotel Alvis, Monroe, from 1932 to 1944, when he went with Hotel Frances.

Mr. Gibson has established a noteworthy record in civic enterprises and in his connection with the First Methodist Church in Monroe.

He served eight years as chairman of the Ouachita Parish Red Cross chapter; president of the Civic Music Association for seven years and also was outstanding in his connection with the Monroe Lions Club. He was the first man from the state of Louisiana to be elected to serve on the board of Lions International.

In connection with his leaving the hotel management, Mr. Gibson expressed sincere appreciation for the cooperation of the public which has made his efforts a success, and he assures that he will still continue to reside in Monroe and to be engaged in another business operation which will be divulged all in good time.

Lt. Gov. C. E. Barham has been outspoken in his opposition to the building authority, maintaining that it puts too much power in the hands of too few people, and denies the public a chance to vote on it.

With the president of the Senate opposed to the bill, a fight is expected, possibly outdoing the three-hour debate that climaxed the final stages of its journey through the House.

Up in the House for reconsideration is a proposal by Welborn Jack to compensate station owners from losses due to "shrinkage and evaporation" of gasoline in paying state gasoline taxes.

Jack's bill harvested a 54-29 favorable vote on its first outing, just 13 short of the majority needed for a constitutional proposal.

According to the Shreveport lawmaker, his bill once had 66 cosigners, "until the Governor began calling people in to rally them against it."

Jack and the administration are battling over whether the most serious shrinkage will be in the gasoline tanks or the state treasury which stands to lose about $350,000 from the one per cent deduction asked.

The House will also be studying the constitutional proposal affecting the state's 31-year-old constitution, longest of any state. Both are sponsored by Rep. Algie Brown of Shreveport.

One is literally "a constitutional amendment to end constitutional amendments." It provides for "referendum bill" which are adopted by a vote of the people, the same as an amendment, but are not added to Louisiana's constitution.

Brown's other proposal asks that a constitutional convention be called in Baton Rouge next January to rewrite completely the state's highest law.

JAMES NOE FILES TELEVISION APPLICATION

James A. Noe, former governor of Louisiana and owner of radio station WNOE, New Orleans, through his Washington attorneys Roberts and McInnis, Friday filed a television application for channel four specifying maximum power and tendering for the commissions approval a proposed program schedule with emphasis on public service, news, sports, education and programs of civic and cultural interest.

Noe stated that if WNOE's application for channel four was granted the most powerful television transmitter and studios will be constructed and that the stations personnel will amount to about 75 people. Also the engineering for WNOE TV calls for the construction of a 1,058 foot tower which will be the tallest structure in the state.

Noe said the present policies of WNOE will be followed in the operation of this new television station time and facilities will be made available to all organizations. Noe further said that he realized that a competitive hearing would be held for channel four and that the fight for this choice spot on the TV dial may be a bitter one but he believes that WNOE with its past record of service to the public is deserving of every consideration on the part of the FCC.

Confidence was expressed by Noe as to the favorable outcome of the hearing.

Mrs. Crowell was carried to her home Saturday morning.

PAGEANT PLANS MILE OF MEAT

Credit should go to the Northeast Louisiana Sports Carnival Association, Inc.—it hasn't forgotten one single item in order to make the Miss Louisiana Beauty pagent, to be staged July 4, 5 and 6, a tremendous success.

While mustering over the plans for the three-day event recently the board of trustees and officers of the organization were graced by the presence of a concession dealer from Memphis, Tenn.

Having a knowledge that people enjoy eating quite a bit while on vacation, the board of trustees were bargaining with the concession man for a "new fangled hot dog."

This hot dog, which sells with tremendous success at fairs, requires quite a bit of meat.

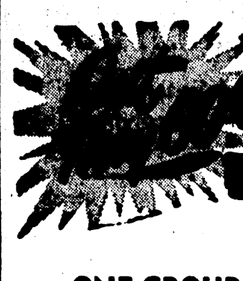

So, one enterprising member of the board decided that in order for all persons in Lake Providence during the three-day event to have a hot dog, the concession gentleman must bring a long one mile of meat.

The term, one mile of meat, means that if all the meat he brings were stretched out it would reach one mile.

Not being satisfied with this accomplishment, the organization has arranged for a private plane, so that if worse comes to worst and the Memphis man runs out of meat, the plane can zoom to Memphis and return with another mile.

This is planning by an organization which is going forward—"we will not be satisfied with one mile of meat—there will be another one along in a short while."

It's a good idea to count on ¼ to 1/3 cup of raw rice for each serving. This amount will make about one cup of cooked rice.

official drove past in the automobile of the U. S. high commissioner, John H. McCloy.

But the East Berlin Communist press was not enthusiastic. The Reds' newspapers called for "big actions to get rid of the American warmongers." They said the policies of Acheson and his supporters in Allied councils "must be fought off with fire and sword."

West Berlin police were tipped the Communists planned some street fighting at West Berlin city hall to protest Acheson's visit, but called it off at the last minute. West Berlin police — and their fire hoses — have frequently dampened Communist enthusiasm the past year.

Aides of the U. S. secretary said he might have something to say about the current Communist tactics in a speech dedicating a million-dollar American memorial library tomorrow. He also will have a press conference tomorrow.

Despite the wearing friction between the East and West, the Allies and the Russians officially maintained their courtesies. The Soviets asked permission to send a delegation to any formal function for Acheson and were invited to a reception given by Gen. Mathewson in his home tonight. The Russians nominated Vladimir Semenov, political adviser to the Soviet Control Commission, and Dengin.

Acheson will fly in President Truman's personal plane, the Independence, to Vienna after noon tomorrow. American and Austrian police arrested 22 Communists in the U. S. sector of Vienna last night for smearing anti-Acheson signs on streets and walls.

Sixteen thousand West Berliners have registered claims to gardens, homes, businesses and other pieces of property now lost to them since the East Zone restricted their free movement from West Berlin. West Berlin Protestant church authorities said the restrictions keep Berliners from the city's biggest Protestant cemetery at Stahnsdorf. More than 100,000 West Berliners are buried their in the Soviet-occupied zone.

the air base locating in this area, but I don't think we ought to be over enthusiastic and make a mistake that we can't undo," Wall said.

"In addition to the heavy population near Selman field we have our college just a short distance away and the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home is right at the field," he said.

"Should I be elected," according to Wall, "I will work to secure a safe location for the military field. I say let's get the military base, but let's put it where we can be proud of it in years to come.

exclaimed. "Such beautiful people."

Longworth was in seemingly good health when he took to bed last night. Today, he got out of bed and collapsed, and said he was "numb from the hips down."

The Kentuckian's anticipated demise was discussed more freely than the torrid weather in this city of 15,000 residents at the foot of Cumberland Mountain.

More than 200 persons flocked to the home of his daughter, where Longworth lives, to see what would happen.

The Rev. James Foster, pastor of the Church of God, of which Longworth is a member, and Longworth's daughter said they, too, believed Longworth had grappled with death. They said they noticed a change in him.

tary school just being completed down on Plum and South Fifth streets, and does it ever have a name! "Cotton Mill District School." Seems a pity doesn't it, with all other little schools with such pretty names. Sounds as though that part of town is the slum district, but it isn't, really, because most of the homes are new and well kept.

Inform me, please, in your column how a school does get its name.

Thank you.

A home owner in that area, and the parent of elementary age school children.

We understand that it is not permissible hereafter to name a public school for anyone who is still alive. There are a number of retired school teachers in Monroe whose record is such that it would seem suitable that their names be used to designate new school buildings, but the fact that they are still living is the only block in the way.

Lida Benton was named, as we recall, after the death of that fine educator; Georgia Tucker was named for the mother of Guy P. Stubbs, who was highly revered and who died many years ago; Sherrouse school, as we understand it, was not named for any individual but as a general name of the family which is prominent and highly regarded locally.

It would be of interest if persons would send in names that they may suggest for designation of the new city schools soon to be used here. While school teachers may be of paramount importance, other prominent individuals of the past in Monroe might be utilized as names for the fine new schools here. Suggestions are in order.

Halting for several minutes in or near T. L. Fidler's store on the Monroe - Bastrop road, several miles out, early Saturday morning, Mrs. J. N. McRee laid her pocket book on the fender of her car.

Later she forgot it and drove on. When she missed the article, she knew it must have fallen on to the highway.

It contained many valuable papers and money. She will gladly pay a reward and she can be reached by phone at 3-8944.

of experience. It has been my good fortune to serve the educational interests in the entire state which enables me to evaluate accurately their philosophy and service to the city schools. It has been easy to recognize the spirit of unselfishness which has characterized their work, and to see that their only motive was to serve the interests of the children of Monroe. Every action of the board has been motivated by this desire to take such action which in their considered judgment would advance the cause of education in Monroe. I am most grateful for this association.

"The privilege of working with Mr. E. L. Neville has been a great honor and one of the great satisfactions of my entire educational experience. The friendship of Mr. and Mrs. Neville is cherished as we return to Baton Rouge to make our home.

"I am submitting in a letter to the board on June 26th a statement of accomplishments during the past years, which achievements, I believe, represent sound, constructive educational progress when evaluated by present-day standards for elementary and secondary education. These achievements represent our combined effort, and unfortunately can not present the part played by each individual in the total picture. The numberless personal successes and contributions of employees could not be given the recognition they deserve due to the necessity to limit the length of the statement. It is our hope that the children, parents and other citizens view our work with approval as we have tried to meet the needs of each child and of the group.

"I have accepted a position in Baton Rouge. Public announcements of such appointments are by the administrative head of the employing agency. The assignment will include work throughout the entire state. I trust that this will permit me to work again with many of you as this new assignment progresses.

"Sincerely yours,

"J. M. Boyet, superintendent."

NEW MANAGER

manager of Hotel Alvis in Monroe. A Georgian by birth, he has now completed 36 years in hotel operations.

Selling out his interest in the lease of Hotel Gregg, in Longview, Tex., at the time of the big East Texas oil boom, Gibson first was connected with the company that erected and operated Hotel Louisiana in Bastrop. From there he became manager of Hotel Alvis, Monroe, from 1932 to 1944, when he went with Hotel Frances.

Mr. Gibson has established a noteworthy record in civic enterprises and in his connection with the First Methodist Church in Monroe.

He served eight years as chairman of the Ouachita Parish Red Cross chapter; president of the Civic Music Association for seven years and also was outstanding in his connection with the Monroe Lions Club. He was the first man from the state of Louisiana to be elected to serve on the board of Lions International.

In connection with his leaving the hotel management, Mr. Gibson expressed sincere appreciation for the cooperation of the public which has made his efforts a success, and he assures that he will still continue to reside in Monroe and to be engaged in another business operation which will be divulged all in good time.

four members absent when the action was taken.

Lt. Gov. C. E. Barham has been outspoken in his opposition to the building authority, maintaining that it puts too much power in the hands of too few people, and denies the public a chance to vote on it.

With the president of the Senate opposed to the bill, a fight is expected, possibly outdoing the three-hour debate that climaxed the final stages of its journey through the House.

Up in the House for reconsideration is a proposal by Welborn Jack to compensate station owners from losses due to "shrinkage and evaporation" of gasoline in paying state gasoline taxes.

Jack's bill harvested a 54-29 favorable vote on its first outing, just 13 short of the majority needed for a constitutional proposal.

According to the Shreveport lawmaker, his bill once had 66 cosigners, "until the Governor began calling people in to rally them against it."

Jack and the administration are battling over whether the most serious shrinkage will be in the gasoline tanks or the state treasury which stands to lose about $350,000 from the one per cent deduction asked.

The House will also be studying the constitutional proposal affecting the state's 31-year-old constitution, longest of any state. Both are sponsored by Rep. Algie Brown of Shreveport.

One is literally "a constitutional amendment to end constitutional amendments." It provides for "referendum bill" which are adopted by a vote of the people, the same as an amendment, but are not added to Louisiana's constitution.

Brown's other proposal asks that a constitutional convention be called in Baton Rouge next January to rewrite completely the state's highest law.

JAMES NOE FILES TELEVISION APPLICATION

James A. Noe, former governor of Louisiana and owner of radio station WNOE, New Orleans, through his Washington attorneys Roberts and McInnis, Friday filed a television application for channel four specifying maximum power and tendering for the commissions approval a proposed program schedule with emphasis on public service, news, sports, education and programs of civic and cultural interest.

Noe stated that if WNOE's application for channel four was granted the most powerful television transmitter and studios will be constructed and that the stations personnel will amount to about 75 people. Also the engineering for WNOE TV calls for the construction of a 1,058 foot tower which will be the tallest structure in the state.

Noe said the present policies of WNOE will be followed in the operation of this new television station time and facilities will be made available to all organizations. Noe further said that he realized that a competitive hearing would be held for channel four and that the fight for this choice spot on the TV dial may be a bitter one but he believes that WNOE with its past record of service to the public is deserving of every consideration on the part of the FCC.

Confidence was expressed by Noe as to the favorable outcome of the hearing.

Mrs. Crowell was carried to her home Saturday morning.

PAGEANT PLANS MILE OF MEAT

Credit should go to the Northeast Louisiana Sports Carnival Association, Inc.—it hasn't forgotten one single item in order to make the Miss Louisiana Beauty pagent, to be staged July 4, 5 and 6, a tremendous success.

While mustering over the plans for the three-day event recently the board of trustees and officers of the organization were graced by the presence of a concession dealer from Memphis, Tenn.

Having a knowledge that people enjoy eating quite a bit while on vacation, the board of trustees were bargaining with the concession man for a "new fangled hot dog."

This hot dog, which sells with tremendous success at fairs, requires quite a bit of meat.

So, one enterprising member of the board decided that in order for all persons in Lake Providence during the three-day event to have a hot dog, the concession gentleman must bring a long one mile of meat.

The term, one mile of meat, means that if all the meat he brings were stretched out it would reach one mile.

Not being satisfied with this accomplishment, the organization has arranged for a private plane, so that if worse comes to worst and the Memphis man runs out of meat, the plane can zoom to Memphis and return with another mile.

This is planning by an organization which is going forward—"we will not be satisfied with one mile of meat—there will be another one along in a short while."

It's a good idea to count on ¼ to 1/3 cup of raw rice for each serving. This amount will make about one cup of cooked rice.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

FINE FEATHERS WONT HIDE A CASE OF POOR GROOMING

Good grooming is the backbone of a woman's allure.

Never be fooled by thinking that a famous-name hat or gown makes up for frowsy hair, poorly manicured nails, the wrong kind of makeup applied in a blotchy careless way, or for slightly soiled collars or shoes that need polishing. All of the small parts of good grooming add up to a shining, peasant whole which is indefinable in itself but immediately recognizable.

It is essential to be beautifully groomed for a smart turnout. The dress you have on is not nearly so important as its fit, its lines, its press, and your figure. The becomingness of the hat you wear is essential but well groomed hair will set off any hat. The right style in hairdo and a hat which goes with it are the vital factors.

This theory is as encouraging as it is true. Many women become discouraged because they do not have much money to spend for clothes, and many of them give up and become careless because of this.

A Daily Routine

Always remember that a lovely figure and good posture set off the most inexpensive clothes, that good grooming and faithful care of hair and skin are the foundations of beauty. You can achieve attractiveness whether you have lots of money to spend or practically none, but you will have to pay the price of daily attention to yourself.

Here are the minimum requirements for good health and good looks:

The right kind of food and plenty of sleep.

One scrubbing soaking bath a day. Add a shower if you wish.

Fifteen minutes of mat exercises for vitality and a well proportioned figure.

Scalp massage or those 100 strokes with the brush.

Face Cleansings

Two careful cleansings of the face at least twice during every 24 hours.

Lubricating cream applied to the face and neck and left for a few hours each day or left on at night.

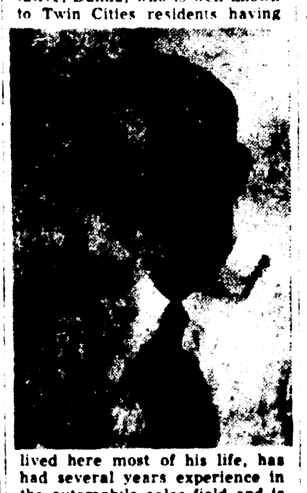

If you add facial exercises, outdoor sports or a daily walk, so much the better.

The smart woman today is natural, vbrant, charming and well groomed, and the little outline of essential daily routine I have suggested to you today will take you a long way toward that goal.

Tomorrow: Going to Make a Speech? Proper Makeup Will Help."

UNITED STATES POLL

PRINCETON, N. J., June 28 — Supposing two Midwesterners, Taft and Stevenson, were the rival candidates for president and the election was being held now, how would the nation vote?

Results of the latest survey of Princeton Research Service for the United States Poll indicate that these two men are just about even in popularity among the nation's voters. Only two percentage points separate those who now say they would vote for Taft and those who say they would vote for Stevenson.

Here's the national vote according to today's findings. Voters were asked, "Suppose Taft is the Republican candidate and Stevenson the Democratic candidate, which party would you like to see win the election—the Republican or the Democratic party?" The results were:

Taft vs. Stevenson
Nationwide

Taft	46 per cent
Stevenson	44 per cent
No opinion	8 per cent
Neither	2 per cent

That a Taft-Stevenson contest could be a real horse race can be seen from how persons who classified themselves as Independents said they'd vote.

Each person in today's survey was asked whether he classified himself as a Republican, Democrat, or Independent. And an analysis of today's survey findings shows that Independents who make a choice between the two are almost evenly divided. The tally.

Independent Vote Only,
Nationwide

Taft	43 per cent
Stevenson	41 per cent
Neither	1 per cent
Undecided	15 per cent

Among persons who consider themselves Republicans, Taft's margin over Stevenson is overwhelming.

G. O. P. Voters Only
Nationwide

Taft	83 per cent
Stevenson	12 per cent
Neither	2 per cent
Undecided	3 per cent

With Democrats, on the other hand, the preference of Stevenson to Taft is almost as great.

Democrats Only, Nationwide

Stevenson	74 per cent
Taft	17 per cent
Neither	3 per cent
Undecided	6 per cent

Today's "trial heat" can be considered of significance because:

1. The two men are from the same section of the country; and

2 Each man has shown himself to be a big vote getter in his own state.

Stevenson in 1948 was elected governor by a margin of 572,000, running far ahead of the presidential ticket in Illinois that year.

And in 1950, Ohio voters gave Taft a 431,000 margin when it returned him to the U. S. senate.

Today's survey is the first of a series of presidential "trial heats" in which Princeton Research Service will match candidates of rival parties against one another.

It must be emphasized that while the survey is a reflection of attitudes toward Taft and Stevenson at the present time, it is not an indication of what might happen in November if these two men head the rival tickets.

The Monroe Morning World presents the reports of the United States Poll exclusively in this area. The service is operated by the Princeton Research Service staff of trained reporters.

Cypress Club Has Its June Meeting

The Cypress Home Demonstration Club held its June meeting in the home of Mrs. G. F. Owens. It was opened with singing led by Mrs. J. C. McGrew. Pledge of allegiance was led by Mrs. N. T. Williamson.

After reports by various leaders Mrs. Euna Spielman gave a demstration "How To Be Well Dressed." She stressed that this need not cost too much money.

Mrs. J. C. McGrew was named chairman of a committee composed of Mrs. McGrew, Mrs N. Pinton, and Mrs. G. F. Owens to purchase a piano to be placed in the club house. Plans for the fair were discussed.

Mrs. Hilton Owens won the prize in recreation.

Mrs. Owens served delicious refreshments to the following: Mrs. Cleo Bonnett, Mrs. N. Pinton, Mrs. N. T. Williamson, Mrs. D. D. Head, Mrs. E. D. McGrew, Mrs. J. C. McGrew, Mrs. Hilton Owens, Mrs. Spielman, Misses Flay Pinton, Sue Head, Rosemary Williamson, Linday Owens, Patsy McGrew, Dianne Bonnett, and Masters Reggie Owens, Roger Pinton and Rickey Bonnett.

The next meeting will be held July 15 in the home of Mrs. J. C. McGrew.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

FINE FEATHERS WONT HIDE . . A CASE OF POOR GROOMING

Good grooming is the backbone of a woman's allure.

Never be fooled by thinking that a famous-name hat or gown makes up for frowsy hair, poorly manicured nails, the wrong kind of makeup applied in a blotchy careless way, or for slightly soiled collars or shoes that need polishing. All of the small parts of good grooming add up to a shining, peasant whole which is indefinable in itself but immediately recognizable.

It is essential to be beautifully groomed for a smart turnout. The dress you have on is not nearly so important as its fit, its lines, its press, and your figure. The becomingness of the hat you wear is essential but well groomed hair will set off any hat. The right style in hairdo and a hat which goes with it are the vital factors.

This theory is as encouraging as it is true. Many women become discouraged because they do not have much money to spend for clothes, and many of them give up and become careless because of this.

A Daily Routine

Always remember that a lovely figure and good posture set off the most inexpensive clothes, that good grooming and faithful care of hair and skin are the foundations of beauty. You can achieve attractiveness whether you have lots of money to spend or practically none, but you will have to pay the price of daily attention to yourself.

Here are the minimum requirements for good health and good looks:

The right kind of food and plenty of sleep.

One scrubbing soaking bath a day. Add a shower if you wish.

Fifteen minutes of mat exercises for vitality and a well proportioned figure.

Scalp massage or those 100 strokes with the brush.

Face Cleansings

Two careful cleansings of the face at least twice during every 24 hours.

Lubricating cream applied to the face and neck and left for a few hours each day or left on at night.

If you add facial exercises, outdoor sports or a daily walk, so much the better.

The smart woman today is natural, vbrant, charming and well groomed, and the little outline of essential daily routine I have suggested to you today will take you a long way toward that goal.

Tomorrow: Going to Make a Speech? Proper Makeup Will elp."

UNITED STATES POLL

PRINCETON, N. J., June 28 — Supposing two Midwesterners, Taft and Stevenson, were the rival candidates for president and the election was being held now, how would the nation vote?

Results of the latest survey of Princeton Research Service for the United States Poll indicate that these two men are just about even in popularity among the nation's voters. Only two percentage points separate those who now say they would vote for Taft and those who say they would vote for Stevenson.

Here's the national vote according to today's findings. Voters were asked, "Suppose Taft is the Republican candidate and Stevenson the Democratic candidate, which party would you like to see win the election—the Republican or the Democratic party?" The results were:

Taft vs. Stevenson
Nationwide

Taft	46 per cent
Stevenson	44 per cent
No opinion	8 per cent
Neither	2 per cent

That a Taft-Stevenson contest could be a real horse race can be seen from how persons who classified themselves as Independents said they'd vote.

Each person in today's survey was asked whether he classified himself as a Republican, Democrat, or Independent. And an analysis of today's survey findings shows that Independents who make a choice between the two are almost evenly divided. The tally.

Independent Vote Only,
Nationwide

Taft	43 per cent
Stevenson	41 per cent
Neither	1 per cent
Undecided	15 per cent

Among persons who consider themselves Republicans, Taft's margin over Stevenson is overwhelming.

G. O. P. Voters Only
Nationwide

Taft	83 per cent
Stevenson	12 per cent
Neither	2 per cent
Undecided	3 per cent

With Democrats, on the other hand, the preference of Stevenson to Taft is almost as great.

Democrats Only, Nationwide

Stevenson	74 per cent
Taft	17 per cent
Neither	3 per cent
Undecided	6 per cent

Today's "trial heat" can be considered of significance because:

1. The two men are from the same section of the country; and

2 Each man has shown himself to be a big vote getter in his own state.

Stevenson in 1948 was elected governor by a margin of 572,000, running far ahead of the presidential ticket in Illinois that year.

And in 1950, Ohio voters gave Taft a 431,000 margin when it returned him to the U. S. senate.

Today's survey is the first of a series of presidential "trial heats" in which Princeton Research Service will match candidates of rival parties against one another.

It must be emphasized that while the survey is a reflection of attitudes toward Taft and Stevenson at the present time, it is not an indication of what might happen in November if these two men head the rival tickets.

The Monroe Morning World presents the reports of the United States Poll exclusively in this area. The service is operated by the Princeton Research Service staff of trained reporters.

Cypress Club Has Its June Meeting

The Cypress Home Demonstration Club held its June meeting in the home of Mrs. G. F. Owens. It was opened with singing led by Mrs. J. C. McGrew. Pledge of allegiance was led by Mrs. N. T. Williamson.

After reports by various leaders Mrs. Euna Spielman gave a demstration "How To Be Well Dressed." She stressed that this need not cost too much money.

Mrs. J. C. McGrew was named chairman of a committee composed of Mrs. McGrew, Mrs N. Pinton, and Mrs. G. F. Owens to purchase a piano to be placed in the club house. Plans for the fair were discussed.

Mrs. Hilton Owens won the prize in recreation.

Mrs. Owens served delicious refreshments to the following: Mrs. Cleo Bonnett, Mrs. N. Pinton, Mrs. N. T. Williamson, Mrs. D. D. Head, Mrs. E. D. McGrew, Mrs. J. C. McGrew, Mrs. Hilton Owens, Mrs. Spielman, Misses Flay Pinton, Sue Head, Rosemary Williamson, Linday Owens, Patsy McGrew, Dianne Bonnett, and Masters Reggie Owens, Roger Pinton and Rickey Bonnett.

The next meeting will be held July 15 in the home of Mrs. J. C. McGrew.

There are 92 known elements and it is believed no more can exist.

Russian Answers

Prime Minister Churchill was on safe ground when he told a questioner in the House of Commons that he would welcome "full, sincere and wholehearted talks" between the Soviet Union and the Western Powers. So would other Western statesmen, But, as Mr. Churchill recognizes, it does not lie within the competence of the Western countries to bring about such a millennial negotiation.

The paradox of the truce negotiations in Korea is obvious to all the Western world. Now comes Mr. Malik, who, as president of the United Nations Security Council for June — launches a new propaganda offensive against the United States on the subject of germ warfare. At the same time, the Soviet embassy as Washington makes a surprising new approach to the Department of State for settlement of Russia's lend-lease account, on which there has been no real progress since 1945.

This is without doubt in the familiar Marxian tradition of simultaneous motion in opposite directions. The Swedish government is meanwhile left to ponder on the depth of Soviet gratitude for Sweden's cautious abstention from defense arrangements of the free world. So, careful not to offend its powerful Russian neighbor, so meticulous in observing all neutral niceties, Sweden is outraged at the shooting down of an unarmed amphibian plane which encountered two Russian jet fighters over international waters.

Sweden's sense of outrage is natural, but the Swedes ought not to be surprised. Their prime minister has, for example, had to warn the Soviet ambassador at Stockholm against the embassy's espionage activities. Seven Swedes have gone to trial accused of giving vital military secrets to the USSR, one of whom has confessed his guilt.

With its former allies and with neutrals alike, the Soviet standard of conduct is brutal, when it suits Moscow's purposes. The Soviet Union is neither to be appeased nor trusted.

Principal propaganda target just now is the United States. U. S. failure to ratify the Geneva protocol of 1925, which prohibits bacteriological warfare, is sure proof to Mr. Malik that the U. S. fights with germs.

Is there the slightest evidence in all this of a "sincere and wholehearted" state of mind on the part of the Soviet government? As Mr. Churchill implied in his House of Commons statement, to put the question is to answer it.

Medical School Aid

How to keep the nation's 79 medical schools going when prospects of further endowment grow slimmer and slimmer and the cost of educating a doctor rises to $7000 more than he pays in tuition is a serious problem, indeed. It is, of course, a phase of the more widespread difficulties which beset the privately endowed colleges and universities throughout the country. President Dodds of Princeton recently pleaded that they be maintained as "islands of independence without political accountability," so that education could remain unfettered by dependence on federal subsidy.

Fortunately for the medical schools, there is already established a National Fund for Medical Education, which last year made "preliminary grants" of $1,600,000. And yet, if these schools are not to depend upon Federal subsidy and be under bureaucratic control, they cannot depend upon the ebb and flow of contributions by the public, but must have assurance of dependable year-to-year income. That is the objective of the Committee of American Industry for this national fund, whose chairman, Colby M. Chester, has mailed appeals to 17,000 corporations, seeking to enlist their support.

Says Mr. Chester:

"Government intervention into this traditionally private field could spell the kiss of death for academic freedom and would most assuredly add to the alarming degree of Socialism that is ours in America today."

S. Sloan Colt president of the fund insisted that without enough competent doctors—we need more now than ever before—the gains of medical research in recent years "will be minimized if not entirely nullified."

The 79 medical schools have been graduating 6,000 doctors a year and giving refresher courses to 23,000 others to keep them abreast with recent progress of medical science.

Back of this movement can clearly be seen the fear that Federal subsidy to medical education would be the entering wedge for socialized medicine like that in Great Britain.

The Next Step

Early in May, the Federal Reserve Board suspended Regulation W, which controlled installment buying. This action obviously stemmed from the fact that there are ample supplies of merchandise in all categories, and shortages are almost unknown in the consumer-goods field.

This was a step in the right direction. And Congress could use it as a precedent for taking a far more important step—the elimination of all price and wage controls.

There is only one law which should govern a free nation's economy—and that is the law of supply and demand. There has been a great deal of idle talk as to whether suspension of the artificial controls would result in higher prices or lower prices. No one knows with certainty, and this question is beside the point anyway. Controls hamstring the economy. They take the drive out of it and discourage initiative. In many instances they fall hardest on the small business and prevent its growth. They substitute the judgement of politicians and professional bureaucrats for natural economic law. A dynamic nation is a free nation—and vice versa.

Congress has held long hearings on the Defense Production Act. Witness after witness has testified to the damage the controls have done and are doing, and has backed that attitude up with facts and figures. It's high time we got them and the Office of Price Stabilization, the costly administering agency.

It Had To Happen

When man attempts to controvert nature he frequently maneuvers himself into an unhappy and complicated situation. A case in point is reported from eastern Washington, and concerns rain. Wheat farmers need moisture. Fruit growers need dry weather and sunshine.

Those who want rain are having the clouds seeded. The opposition is sending up chemicals to offset the seeding, and a feud is on.

This situation was certain to evolve from an attempt by man to control the weather. The practice would not be harmful if only one crop were involved. But for a corn [illegible] to attempt to produce rain when his neighbor has [illegible] must inevitably result in disagreement and contro[illegible].

[illegible] situation exists in the Southwest at present. [illegible] is in full swing at a time when the corn [illegible] to bring rain for the corn would at [illegible] of one of the area's best money crops, [illegible] to the wheat grower.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

THE COST OF EUROPEAN AID

Since 1945, the United States has given Europe, Asia and Africa $40 billion. This is mostly for free. Out of that amount, Europe got the lion's share. Great Britain got $6,122,276,000. An additional $6,431,249,750 has been voted by Congress, making a total of more than $46 billion.

If to this is added lend-lease, UNRRA and similar funds, then since 1939 the United States has contributed more than $100 billion, mostly to the European nations. Little of this money has directly percolated down to the people of the countries aided but has been used by the various governments to sustain themselves in power. Had methods been devised to bring American aid more directly to the people, and not through their governments, the United States would today be more popular in Europe.

The State Department has issued a publication entitled, "Our Foreign Policy," which contains the following amazing statement:

"Paul Hoffman maintains that European recovery has not cost the American taxpayer a nickel. He bases this statement on the conviction that, but for the economic and political revival of free Europe, the United States would have had to spend many billions more on armament. In short, American aid has saved Europe not only from economic collapse but also from communist domination."

This would be interesting if true. Unfortunately, in spite of this huge expenditure on European recovery, the United States, for the current fiscal year, has to expend about $60 billion on its military activities. This does not include the atomic program nor the full cost of the Korean War.

Nor has European aid actually reduced the effectiveness of the Communists in Europe and we are at this very moment involved in a most delicate situation in Germany.

Those engaged in these programs have a way of saying that any criticism of their judgment, any questioning of their infallibility is only the product of hindsight. This again is utterly untrue, for the debate on the Marshall Plan and European military aid, the opposition to which was led by Herbert Hoover, was prolonged, fully reported and on the record. The ascertainable and checkable facts of today establish the correctness of the opposition. The use of the word, "hindsight," is intended to indicate that errors of judgment made since 1933 in the conduct of our foreign policy were not perceived or discussed by anyone. There is a vast literature of protest. The most recent and effective book on this subject is 'Back Door to War," by Charles Callan Tansill, a valuable document.

The program of European aid can only be justified by the services which come to this country by it. Often when these expenditures are first requested, Congress is asked for token sums. Having once got Congress to approve of the project in principle, the disciples of Harry Hopkins in the art of spending find ways and means of increasing appropriations. Thus, a scheme as Point Four is now being burgeoned into a very expensive operation which the American taxpayer will have to pay for because he is committed to it.

The principal spenders of our time, Paul Hoffman, Averell Harriman and their associates, find plausible explanations for pouring money out of this country. It seems that they feel impelled to get rid of our money. No matter how the form changes to meet public opinion, the amount averages out to about $6 billion a year, which seems to be the figure that had been set for the export of American wealth.

One of the problems that will have to be settled in the forthcoming election is whether this country is bound to continue to export capital abroad to maintain European governments. Once the conventions are over, it will be possible to work back to these questions with a degree of objectivity.

While our budget cannot in the immediate future be reduced by $40 billion, as General Eisenhower suggested off the cuff, it ought not to range toward $100 billion which is fantastic. This country cannot long afford a budget of that size.

Candidates will not be able to duck this discussion nor to say that it only cost every American man, woman, and child $265. That is not hay for most of us who earn our livings and have not inherited wealth. I know lots of things I could do with $265 that would be more worthwhile than shipping it to Europe to sustain governments in power.

Ripley's—Believe It or Not!

Peter Edson

IN WASHINGTON

CHICAGO —(NEA)— There's another race on at Chicago, in addition to the race for the Republican presidential nomination. It's the battle of the king-makers.

Who will be the men who swing the deals that swing the votes that throw victory to one candidate or another? Who are the men who will occupy the smoke-filled rooms where the final deals, if any, are made?

The rivals for this honor want it primarily for the power they hope it will give them in the next four years—if the Republicans win the election. And even if they don't win, the influence of even a defeated party's boss is supposed to be something.

The first place these would-be President-makers turn up is in the states with large uncommitted delegations. Michigan's uncommitted 33 of 46 delegates and Pennsylvania's uncommitted 25 to 70 delegates are the big chips here.

If this combination of 58 unpledged delegates could be used to swing the full two-state slate of 116 votes, it could make or break Taft or Eisenhower. That is why many delegates like to hold back and play hard to get.

The key men in these two states are National Committeeman Arthur Summerfield of Michigan and Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania. Neither fully controls his state delegation.

Senator Taft claims 24 of the Michigan delegates, but has only six for sure. Eisenhower is given seven. The 33 unpledged hold majority control.

Fight Coming Within Pennsylvania Delegation

In Pennsylvania, Governor Fine has two powerful blocs to contend with. Some 20 delegates lean towards General Eisenhower. They are under the leadership of Sen. James H. Duff.

Taft is given 18 sure Pennsylvania delegates but claims 25 under the leadership of National Committeeman G. Mason Owlett. The fight within this delegation will be as dramatic as any waged on the convention floor.

Equal in size to Pennsylvania's delegation is California's 70 votes, pledged to Gov. Earl Warren. The governor is really his own political boss, but he has promised to make no deals.

On a somewhat lower level in point of power are Ex-Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota and Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland.

Gov. Stassen has 24 Minnesota votes plus two in Colorado. The general belief has been that he is in this race only for what he can get out of it later, or as a stalking horse for General Ike. Stassen's trouble is that he does not control enough votes to be a real power.

The same is true of Governor McKeldin. Talk of a possible Fine-Summerfield-McKeldin alliance to throw the nomination has been denied by all three. But it is a possibility, if the going gets rough.

The party stalwarts listed above are the men who will be sought after by the managers and floor leaders for Taft and Eisenhower. In this contest, Taft is an able and experienced professional politician in his own right. General Eisenhower is a complete amateur who says he wants no part of politics and must rely on others for his maneuvering.

Ike Planners Able, But Not Old Hands

The general's principal board of strategy is a group of U. S. senators. They are able in their own rights but—aside from Senator Duff of Pennsylvania— not old

NOTEBOOK

Then take a tip from the Navajo: put a silver bell on her. Then you'll hear her coming—and you can get out of her way.

The Navajos started this peculiar custom hundreds of years ago because of a superstition that if a son-in-law and mother-in-law meet face to face unexpectedly both would go blind.

They had another rather unusual solution to this old family problem. If a young Indian brave knew a widow with an attractive daughter, he would first marry the widow, then the daughter-and thus avoid having any mother-in-law trouble at all. All he had to deal with was two wives. Simple?

The Navajos, long impoverished on a vast, arid 16 million-acre reservation embracing parts of four Western states, are America's largest Indian tribe. And instead of dying out they are increasing.

They still weave rugs and cast silver jewelry for the tourist trade. But they have a new source of income today—mining uranium for the palefaces' atom bombs.

The Navajos are held in high regard out here, and anthropologists think the white man well might adopt some aspects of their culture. They are a pretty well-adjusted people, and some feel that this is a result of their upbringing. Insanity is very rare among them. It is also said that no full-blooded Navajo stutters—an affliction which psychiatrists think arises from childhood insecurity.

"The Indians make their world's best parents," one man said. "They neither pamper nor punish their children. They let them learn for themselves, and as a result an Indian boy is self-reliant at the age of 10."

If a child must be punished, he isn't whipped. One of his parents simply throws water on him—a great disgrace.

The Navajos are among the cleanest of primitive peoples and love to take sweat baths followed by a plunge into cold water. If water is scarce, they roll naked in snow or dry sand. Long before the virtues of chlorophyll were extolled over radio and television, these Indians had a way of removing body odors. They simply rubbed themselves under the arms with hot porous rocks provided by nature's free drugstore.

But although they are spartan beyond belief, they are more doctor-minded than the hypochondriac matrons who dwell on Park Avenue in New York.

Some authorities estimate that about one out of every ten Navajo men is either a medicine man or studying to be one. One reason is that medicine men get high fees and their fees are always paid. The other reason s that Navajos, while fearless of death, are greatly afraid of illness. They are also afraid of dead people, and will abandon their home if a member of the family dies in it.

The Navajos don't go in for divorce as a hobby, but a wife is just as free to get one as her husband. Her method is to take her husband's saddle and other belongings and put them outside the hogan. If a husband wants a divorce, he just saddles up and rides away.

You can gather from this that lawyers don't do too well among the Navajos. The odd thing is that —with no laws to confuse them— most Navajos marry and live happily together ever after in their hogan-sweet-hogan on the range.

BASCOM TIMMONS IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, D. C. — t is only coincidence that the number of contested delegates in the 1912 and 1952 Republican national conventions are the same — 72 — but as the fight between the Taft and Eisenhower factions reaches the payoff stage, the resemblance between the two conventions becomes more marked, with Dwight D. Eisenhower cast in a reasonable facsimile of the role of Theodore Roosevelt, Robert A. Taft, in that of his own father, President William Howard Taft.

The retired general said in Texas that the contested delegates must not be allowed to vote to seat themselves or other contested delegates until their credentials have been passed and approved by the convention. In 1912 former President Theodore Roosevelt made the same demand. Then as now, he and his supporters claimed that the Republican National Committee which makes up the temporary roll call was overwhelmingly controlled by the Taft forces and that if the delegates certified by that committee were permitted to vote in the convention on seating of other contested delegates, the convention itself would be Taft-controlled.

It turned out exactly that way, and 1952 may well see a repetition with exactly the same number of delegates involved.

The Roosevelt delegates argued just as vigorously against the 1912 procedure as General Eisenhower and his spokesman do today. But precedents are against them and the temporary chairman of the 1952 Republican convention, Walter S. Hallavan of West Virginia can be expected to cite those as he makes his own rulings. If so they will be in harmony with those of Senator Elihu Root of New York in the 1912 convention.

Here is the practical picture as Senator Root summarized it:

The convention follows the rules set forth in the manual of the national House of Representatives, which specify that a member may not vote on a question concerning himself, but the disqualification must affect him as in individual and not as one of a class. Thus it has long been held that in a case where questions affected the title of a several members to their seats, each refrained from voting in his own case, but did vote on the identical cases of his associates.

This means for example that in the case of the contested delegates, from Texas and other states whichever delegates are temporarily seated may not vote when their own contests are brought to the convention floor for decision, but may vote upon all other contests and all other questions.

This may be slightly confusing to the reader, but Senator Root summed it up in another way. Suppose that a majority of the seats in the convention were contested. If none of them could take any part in the proceedings of the convention, it could not be organized. Politics being what it is, that possibility is not as remote as it may seem, for opposition factions could bring enough contests to delay the convening of the assemblage in an attempt to prevent a rival nomination.

The foundation for this reasoning is the celebrated case of Speaker of the House John G. Carlisle of Kentucky in 1883 in a tight contest for speakership of the first House controlled by the Democrats since the Civil War. Carlisle's own seat was contested. If none of them could take any part in the proceedings of the convention, it could not be organized. Politics being what it is, that possibility is not as remote as it may seem, for opposition factions could bring enough contests to delay the convening of the assemblage in an attempt to prevent a rival nomination.

The foundation for this reasoning is the celebrated case of Speaker of the House John G. Carlisle of Kentucky in 1883 in a tight contest for speakership of the first House controlled by the Democrats since the Civil War. Carlisle's own seat was contested at the time, but while the contest was being considered, along with a number of others, he exercised all the functions of a member, appointed all the committees of the House (as the Speaker did at that time) and performed all the other duties of his office. The Republicans did not question his right to be so treated, and that case affords the basis of the decisions which have been made at political conventions in the past and probably will continue to be in the future.

There can be other grounds for the charge that a convention is being steamrollered, as when one faction, controlling the credentials committee decides all of the contests in favor of the delegations supporting the candidate of that faction, as happened in the 1912 convention. The Republican National Committee has great discretion in the initial seating of delegates, but under a rule adopted in 1944 has restricted its own powers this year by tossing contests over districts delegates back to state conventions and committees.

It all sounds highly involved but so is the entire method by which the people select their candidates for president of the United States.

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, June 28. — One of my neighbors, while chatting about motion pictures the other day, came up with a "wild idea" — and it's stuck in my mind ever since.

"You know," he mused, "now that almost every country on earth has its own motion picture studios, they all ought to get together on a program for the production of, and exchange of, educational pictures. Suppose the heads pooled capital and talent for the filming of a series of, say, half a dozen pictures intelligently designed to show the rest of the world just how the people in that country live, what they hope to achieve, what their problems are, and what kind of artistic, religious and political backgrounds they have. And then suppose that those pictures were sent out on sort of a global circuit, to be seen and studied and 'felt' by the peoples of all the other countries. Maybe after the exchange had been completed, we'd all know one another well enough to bury our hatchets and try to live together peacefully."

As I said before, my neighbor's idea sticks in my mind. I know that Russia, for instance, would neither tolerate the exhibition, within its borders, of pictures truthfully depicting life in the United States, nor permit the export of pictures truthfully depicting life behind the Iron Curtain. But I wonder if such an idea couldn't be carried out by the free nations of the world.

There's no denying the fact that motion pictures could get their message across in much more forceful fashion than is possible through the printed word. And neither should there be any doubt of the fact that the peoples of the different nations are hungry for understanding of one another. The more I think about it, the more I think my neighbor's idea is more sound than "wild." I'd even like to wager that such pictures, truthfully and properly advertised, would play to bigger crowds than most of the boy - meets - girl romances that flood the screen.

Idol Chatter: Don't think I've ever seen an estranged wife enjoying her separation more than Mrs. Gary Cooper seems to be enjoying hers. . .Add swell actresses I'd like to see in worthwhile roles more often: Ann Sheridan. . . Amazing how often the "something borrowed" by a Hollywood bride is another woman's husband!. . . In-a-word description of Gene Kelly: Tap - notcher. . .Olivia de Havilland's $175,000 salary for "Cousin Rachel" proves that she's still one of Hollywood's more important purse - onalities, despite her lack of success on the stage. . . Wondering muse: Have you ever thought how few American men would be unable to swim if all swimming teachers looked like Esther Williams?

Time was when every screen star worthy of the title felt that it was impossible to play a scene without first being subjected to "mood music" calculated to put them into the proper emotional state. That practice has now been discarded by all but one or two of the old - timers (Joan Crawford, I believe, still insists on a musical "tune-up" now and then), but one of our newest newcomers, Marge Champion, has an interesting substitute. She gets into the mood by wearing, for a few hours before playing the scene, a costume to fit the occasion. For instance, being advised that her "dream dance" sequence for "Everything I Have Is Yours," in which she visions herself as a very dignified, and very graceful, great lady, was to be filmed one afternoon last week, she went to the studio wardrobe department and picked out an ankle - length, full - flowing dress once worn on the screen by Jeanette MacDonald. After wearing it all morning, she pronounced herself emotionally ready for work.

A few days after he finished his starring role in RKO's "The Thing" a year ago this summer, Ken Tobey and a young lady whom he met at a Hollywood party "fell in love at first sight." They were married a few weeks later, but in the interval RKO underwent an economy wave and Tobey was one of the many players who lost their contracts. His fiancee, being a practical girl, forbade him to buy her an engagement ring until he had another contract guaranteeing him a satisfactory period of steady work. Last week, after a year in which he's worked not at all, Tobey was re - signed by RKO on a long - term agreement. The job came just in time for him to buy his wife a diamond ring as an anniversary gift. They're celebrating their first anniversary tomorrow.

Russian Answers

Prime Minister Churchill was on safe ground when he told a questioner in the House of Commons that he would welcome "full, sincere and wholehearted talks" between the Soviet Union and the Western Powers. So would other Western statesmen, But, as Mr. Churchill recognizes, it does not lie within the competence of the Western countries to bring about such a millennial negotiation.

The paradox of the truce negotiations in Korea is obvious to all the Western world. Now comes Mr. Malik, who, as president of the United Nations Security Council for June — launches a new propaganda offensive against the United States on the subject of germ warfare. At the same time, the Soviet embassy as Washington makes a surprising new approach to the Department of State for settlement of Russia's lend-lease account, on which there has been no real progress since 1945.

This is without doubt in the familiar Marxian tradition of simultaneous motion in opposite directions. The Swedish government is meanwhile left to ponder on the depth of Soviet gratitude for Sweden's cautious abstention from defense arrangements of the free world. So, careful not to offend its powerful Russian neighbor, so meticulous in observing all neutral niceties, Sweden is outraged at the shooting down of an unarmed amphibian plane which encountered two Russian jet fighters over international waters.

Sweden's sense of outrage is natural, but the Swedes ought not to be surprised. Their prime minister has, for example, had to warn the Soviet ambassador at Stockholm against the embassy's espionage activities. Seven Swedes have gone to trial accused of giving vital military secrets to the USSR, one of whom has confessed his guilt.

With its former allies and with neutrals alike, the Soviet standard of conduct is brutal, when it suits Moscow's purposes. The Soviet Union is neither to be appeased nor trusted.

Principal propaganda target just now is the United States. U. S. failure to ratify the Geneva protocol of 1925, which prohibits bacteriological warfare, is sure proof to Mr. Malik that the U. S. fights with germs.

Is there the slightest evidence in all this of a "sincere and wholehearted" state of mind on the part of the Soviet government? As Mr. Churchill implied in his House of Commons statement, to put the question is to answer it.

Medical School Aid

How to keep the nation's 79 medical schools going when prospects of further endowment grow slimmer and slimmer and the cost of educating a doctor rises to $7000 more than he pays in tuition is a serious problem, indeed. It is, of course, a phase of the more widespread difficulties which beset the privately endowed colleges and universities throughout the country. President Dodds of Princeton recently pleaded that they be maintained as "islands of independence without political accountability," so that education could remain unfettered by dependence on federal subsidy.

Fortunately for the medical schools, there is already established a National Fund for Medical Education, which last year made "preliminary grants" of $1,600,000. And yet, if these schools are not to depend upon Federal subsidy and be under bureaucratic control, they cannot depend upon the ebb and flow of contributions by the public, but must have assurance of dependable year-to-year income. That is the objective of the Committee of American Industry for this national fund, whose chairman, Colby M. Chester, has mailed appeals to 17,000 corporations, seeking to enlist their support.

Says Mr. Chester:

"Government intervention into this traditionally private field could spell the kiss of death for academic freedom and would most assuredly add to the alarming degree of Socialism that is ours in America today."

S. Sloan Colt president of the fund insisted that without enough competent doctors—we need more now than ever before—the gains of medical research in recent years "will be minimized if not entirely nullified."

The 79 medical schools have been graduating 6,000 doctors a year and giving refresher courses to 23,000 others to keep them abreast with recent progress of medical science.

Back of this movement can clearly be seen the fear that Federal subsidy to medical education would be the entering wedge for socialized medicine like that in Great Britain.

The Next Step

Early in May, the Federal Reserve Board suspended Regulation W, which controlled installment buying. This action obviously stemmed from the fact that there are ample supplies of merchandise in all categories, and shortages are almost unknown in the consumer-goods field.

This was a step in the right direction. And Congress could use it as a precedent for taking a far more important step—the elimination of all price and wage controls.

There is only one law which should govern a free nation's economy—and that is the law of supply and demand. There has been a great deal of idle talk as to whether suspension of the artificial controls would result in higher prices or lower prices. No one knows with certainty, and this question is beside the point anyway. Controls hamstring the economy. They take the drive out of it and discourage initiative. In many instances they fall hardest on the small business and prevent its growth. They substitute the judgement of politicians and professional bureaucrats for natural economic law. A dynamic nation is a free nation—and vice versa.

Congress has held long hearings on the Defense Production Act. Witness after witness has testified to the damage the controls have done and are doing, and has backed that attitude up with facts and figures. It's high time we got them and the Office of Price Stabilization, the costly administering agency.

It Had To Happen

When man attempts to controvert nature he frequently maneuvers himself into an unhappy and complicated situation. A case in point is reported from eastern Washington, and concerns rain. Wheat farmers need moisture. Fruit growers need dry weather and sunshine.

Those who want rain are having the clouds seeded. The opposition is sending up chemicals to offset the seeding, and a feud is on.

This situation was certain to evolve from an attempt by man to control the weather. The practice would not be harmful if only one crop were involved. But for a corn farmer to attempt to produce rain when his neighbor has his hay cut must inevitably result in disagreement and contention.

Such a situation exists in the Southwest at present. Wheat harvest is in full swing at a time when the corn needs rain. Attempts to bring rain for the corn would at least delay harvesting of one of the area's best money crops, and would entail loss to the wheat grower.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

THE COST OF EUROPEAN AID

Since 1945, the United States has given Europe, Asia and Africa $40 billion. This is mostly for free. Out of that amount, Europe got the lion's share. Great Britain got $6,122,276,000. An additional $6,431,249,750 has been voted by Congress, making a total of more than $46 billion.

If to this is added lend-lease, UNRRA and similar funds, then since 1939 the United States has contributed more than $100 billion, mostly to the European nations. Little of this money has directly percolated down to the people of the countries aided but has been used by the various governments to sustain themselves in power. Had methods been devised to bring American aid more directly to the people, and not through their governments, the United States would today be more popular in Europe.

The State Department has issued a publication entitled, "Our Foreign Policy," which contains the following amazing statement:

"Paul Hoffman maintains that European recovery has not cost the American taxpayer a nickel. He bases this statement on the conviction that, but for the economic and political revival of free Europe, the United States would have had to spend many billions more on armament. In short, American aid has saved Europe not only from economic collapse but also from communist domination."

This would be interesting if true. Unfortunately, in spite of this huge expenditure on European recovery, the United States, for the current fiscal year, has to expend about $60 billion on its military activities. This does not include the atomic program nor the full cost of the Korean War.

Nor has European aid actually reduced the effectiveness of the Communists in Europe and we are at this very moment involved in a most delicate situation in Germany.

Those engaged in these programs have a way of saying that any criticism of their judgment, any questioning of their infallibility is only the product of hindsight. This again is utterly untrue, for the debate on the Marshall Plan and European military aid, the opposition to which was led by Herbert Hoover, was prolonged, fully reported and on the record. The ascertainable and checkable facts of today establish the correctness of the opposition. The use of the word, "hindsight," is intended to indicate that errors of judgment made since 1933 in the conduct of our foreign policy were not perceived or discussed by anyone. There is a vast literature of protest. The most recent and effective book on this subject is 'Back Door to War," by Charles Callan Tansill, a valuable document.

The program of European aid can only be justified by the services which come to this country by it. Often when these expenditures are first requested, Congress is asked for token sums. Having once got Congress to approve of the project in principle, the disciples of Harry Hopkins in the art of spending find ways and means of increasing appropriations. Thus, a scheme as Point Four is now being burgeoned into a very expensive operation which the American taxpayer will have to pay for because he is committed to it.

The principal spenders of our time, Paul Hoffman, Averell Harriman and their associates, find plausible explanations for pouring money out of this country. It seems that they feel impelled to get rid of our money. No matter how the form changes to meet public opinion, the amount averages out to about $6 billion a year, which seems to be the figure that had been set for the export of American wealth.

One of the problems that will have to be settled in the forthcoming election is whether this country is bound to continue to export capital abroad to maintain European governments. Once the conventions are over, it will be possible to work back to these questions with a degree of objectivity.

While our budget cannot in the immediate future be reduced by $40 billion, as General Eisenhower suggested off the cuff, it ought not to range toward $100 billion which is fantastic. This country cannot long afford a budget of that size.

Candidates will not be able to duck this discussion nor to say that it only cost every American man, woman, and child $265. That is not hay for most of us who earn our livings and have not inherited wealth. I know lots of things I could do with $265 that would be more worthwhile than shipping it to Europe to sustain governments in power.

IN WASHINGTON

CHICAGO —(NEA)— There's another race on at Chicago, in addition to the race for the Republican presidential nomination. It's the battle of the king-makers.

Who will be the men who swing the deals that swing the votes that throw victory to one candidate or another? Who are the men who will occupy the smoke-filled rooms where the final deals, if any, are made?

The rivals for this honor want it primarily for the power they hope it will give them in the next four years—if the Republicans win the election. And even if they don't win, the influence of even a defeated party's boss is supposed to be something.

The first place these would-be President-makers turn up is in the states with large uncommitted delegations. Michigan's uncommitted 33 of 46 delegates and Pennsylvania's uncommitted 25 to 70 delegates are the big chips here.

If this combination of 58 unpledged delegates could be used to swing the full two-state slate of 116 votes, it could make or break Taft or Eisenhower. That is why many delegates like to hold back and play hard to get.

The key men in these two states are National Committeeman Arthur Summerfield of Michigan and Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania. Neither fully controls his state delegation.

Senator Taft claims 24 of the Michigan delegates, but has only six for sure. Eisenhower is given seven. The 33 unpledged hold majority control.

Fight Coming Within Pennsylvania Delegation

In Pennsylvania, Governor Fine has two powerful blocs to contend with. Some 20 delegates lean towards General Eisenhower. They are under the leadership of Sen. James H. Duff.

Taft is given 18 sure Pennsylvania delegates but claims 25 under the leadership of National Committeeman G. Mason Owlett. The fight within this delegation will be as dramatic as any waged on the convention floor.

Equal in size to Pennsylvania's delegation is California's 70 votes, pledged to Gov. Earl Warren. The governor is really his own political boss, but he has promised to make no deals.

On a somewhat lower level in point of power are Ex-Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota and Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland.

Gov. Stassen has 24 Minnesota votes plus two in Colorado. The general belief has been that he is in this race only for what he can get out of it later, or as a stalking horse for General Ike. Stassen's trouble is that he does not control enough votes to be a real power.

The same is true of Governor McKeldin. Talk of a possible Fine-Summerfield-McKeldin alliance to throw the nomination has been denied by all three. But it is a possibility, if the going gets rough.

The party stalwarts listed above are the men who will be sought after by the managers and floor leaders for Taft and Eisenhower. In this contest, Taft is an able and experienced professional politician in his own right. General Eisenhower is a complete amateur who says he wants no part of politics and must rely on others for his maneuvering.

Ike Planners Able, But Not Old Hands

The general's principal board of strategy is a group of U. S. senators. They are able in their own rights but—aside from Senator Duff of Pennsylvania— not old

NOTEBOOK

Then take a tip from the Navajo: put a silver bell on her. Then you'll hear her coming—and you can get out of her way.

The Navajos started this peculiar custom hundreds of years ago because of a superstition that if a son-in-law and mother-in-law meet face to face unexpectedly both would go blind.

They had another rather unusual solution to this old family problem. If a young Indian brave knew a widow with an attractive daughter, he would first marry the widow, then the daughter-and thus avoid having any mother-in-law trouble at all. All he had to deal with was two wives. Simple?

The Navajos, long impoverished on a vast, arid 16 million-acre reservation embracing parts of four Western states, are America's largest Indian tribe. And instead of dying out they are increasing.

They still weave rugs and cast silver jewelry for the tourist trade. But they have a new source of income today—mining uranium for the palefaces' atom bombs.

The Navajos are held in high regard out here, and anthropologists think the white man well might adopt some aspects of their culture. They are a pretty well-adjusted people, and some feel that this is a result of their upbringing. Insanity is very rare among them. It is also said that no full-blooded Navajo stutters—an affliction which psychiatrists think arises from childhood insecurity.

"The Indians make their world's best parents," one man said. "They neither pamper nor punish their children. They let them learn for themselves, and as a result an Indian boy is self-reliant at the age of 10."

If a child must be punished, he isn't whipped. One of his parents simply throws water on him—a great disgrace.

The Navajos are among the cleanest of primitive peoples and love to take sweat baths followed by a plunge into cold water. If water is scarce, they roll naked in snow or dry sand. Long before the virtues of chlorophyll were extolled over radio and television, these Indians had a way of removing body odors. They simply rubbed themselves under the arms with hot porous rocks provided by nature's free drugstore.

But although they are spartan beyond belief, they are more doctor-minded than the hypochondriac matrons who dwell on Park Avenue in New York.

Some authorities estimate that about one out of every ten Navajo men is either a medicine man or studying to be one. One reason is that medicine men get high fees and their fees are always paid. The other reason s that Navajos, while fearless of death, are greatly afraid of illness. They are also afraid of dead people, and will abandon their home if a member of the family dies in it.

The Navajos don't go in for divorce as a hobby, but a wife is just as free to get one as her husband. Her method is to take her husband's saddle and other belongings and put them outside the hogan. If a husband wants a divorce, he just saddles up and rides away.

You can gather from this that lawyers don't do too well among the Navajos. The odd thing is that —with no laws to confuse them— most Navajos marry and live happily together ever after in their hogan-sweet-hogan on the range.

BASCOM TIMMONS IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, D. C. — t is only coincidence that the number of contested delegates in the 1912 and 1952 Republican national conventions are the same — 72 — but as the fight between the Taft and Eisenhower factions reaches the payoff stage, the resemblance between the two conventions becomes more marked, with Dwight D. Eisenhower cast in a reasonable facsimile of the role of Theodore Roosevelt, Robert A. Taft, in that of his own father, President William Howard Taft.

The retired general said in Texas that the contested delegates must not be allowed to vote to seat themselves or other contested delegates until their credentials have been passed and approved by the convention. In 1912 former President Theodore Roosevelt made the same demand. Then as now, he and his supporters claimed that the Republican National Committee which makes up the temporary roll call was overwhelmingly controlled by the Taft forces and that if the delegates certified by that committee were permitted to vote in the convention on seating of other contested delegates, the convention itself would be Taft-controlled.

It turned out exactly that way, and 1952 may well see a repetition with exactly the same number of delegates involved.

The Roosevelt delegates argued just as vigorously against the 1912 procedure as General Eisenhower and his spokesman do today. But precedents are against them and the temporary chairman of the 1952 Republican convention, Walter S. Hallavan of West Virginia can be expected to cite those as he makes his own rulings. If so they will be in harmony with those of Senator Elihu Root of New York in the 1912 convention.

Here is the practical picture as Senator Root summarized it:

The convention follows the rules set forth in the manual of the national House of Representatives, which specify that a member may not vote on a question concerning himself, but the disqualification must affect him as in individual and not as one of a class. Thus it has long been held that in a case where questions affected the title of a several members to their seats, each refrained from voting in his own case, but did vote on the identical cases of his associates.

This means for example that in the case of the contested delegates, from Texas and other states whichever delegates are temporarily seated may not vote when their own contests are brought to the convention floor for decision, but may vote upon all other contests and all other questions.

This may be slightly confusing to the reader, but Senator Root summed it up in another way. Suppose that a majority of the seats in the convention were contested. If none of them could take any part in the proceedings of the convention, it could not be organized. Politics being what it is, that possibility is not as remote as it may seem, for opposition factions could bring enough contests to delay the convening of the assemblage in an attempt to prevent a rival nomination.

The foundation for this reasoning is the celebrated case of Speaker of the House John G. Carlisle of Kentucky in 1883 in a tight contest for speakership of the first House controlled by the Democrats since the Civil War. Carlisle's own seat was contested. If none of them could take any part in the proceedings of the convention, it could not be organized. Politics being what it is, that possibility is not as remote as it may seem, for opposition factions could bring enough contests to delay the convening of the assemblage in an attempt to prevent a rival nomination.

The foundation for this reasoning is the celebrated case of Speaker of the House John G. Carlisle of Kentucky in 1883 in a tight contest for speakership of the first House controlled by the Democrats since the Civil War. Carlisle's own seat was contested at the time, but while the contest was being considered, along with a number of others, he exercised all the functions of a member, appointed all the committees of the House (as the Speaker did at that time) and performed all the other duties of his office. The Republicans did not question his right to be so treated, and that case affords the basis of the decisions which have been made at political conventions in the past and probably will continue to be in the future.

There can be other grounds for the charge that a convention is being steamrollered, as when one faction, controlling the credentials committee decides all of the contests in favor of the delegations supporting the candidate of that faction, as happened in the 1912 convention. The Republican National Committee has great discretion in the initial seating of delegates, but under a rule adopted in 1944 has restricted its own powers this year by tossing contests over districts delegates back to state conventions and committees.

It all sounds highly involved but so is the entire method by which the people select their candidates for president of the United States.

BIBLE THOUGHTS:

And now, saith the Lord that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, Though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord, and my God shall be my strength.—Isaiah 49:5.

The perfect love of God knoweth no difference between the poor and the rich.—Pacuvius.

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, June 28. — One of my neighbors, while chatting about motion pictures the other day, came up with a "wild idea" — and it's stuck in my mind ever since.

"You know," he mused, "now that almost every country on earth has its own motion picture studios, they all ought to get together on a program for the production of, and exchange of, educational pictures. Suppose the heads pooled capital and talent for the filming of a series of, say, half a dozen pictures intelligently designed to show the rest of the world just how the people in that country live, what they hope to achieve, what their problems are, and what kind of artistic, religious and political backgrounds they have. And then suppose that those pictures were sent out on sort of a global circuit, to be seen and studied and 'felt' by the peoples of all the other countries. Maybe after the exchange had been completed, we'd all know one another well enough to bury our hatchets and try to live together peacefully."

As I said before, my neighbor's idea sticks in my mind. I know that Russia, for instance, would neither tolerate the exhibition, within its borders, of pictures truthfully depicting life in the United States, nor permit the export of pictures truthfully depicting life behind the Iron Curtain. But I wonder if such an idea couldn't be carried out by the free nations of the world.

There's no denying the fact that motion pictures could get their message across in much more forceful fashion than is possible through the printed word. And neither should there be any doubt of the fact that the peoples of the different nations are hungry for understanding of one another. The more I think about it, the more I think my neighbor's idea is more sound than "wild." I'd even like to wager that such pictures, truthfully and properly advertised, would play to bigger crowds than most of the boy - meets - girl romances that flood the screen.

Idol Chatter: Don't think I've ever seen an estranged wife enjoying her separation more than Mrs. Gary Cooper seems to be enjoying hers. . .Add swell actresses I'd like to see in worthwhile roles more often: Ann Sheridan. . . Amazing how often the "something borrowed" by a Hollywood bride is another woman's husband!. . . In-a-word description of Gene Kelly: Tap - notcher. . .Olivia de Haviland's $175,000 salary for "Cousin Rachel" proves that she's still one of Hollywood's more important purse - onalities, despite her lack of success on the stage. . . Wondering muse: Have you ever thought how few American men would be unable to swim if all swimming teachers looked like Esther Williams?

Time was when every screen star worthy of the title felt that it was impossible to play a scene without first being subjected to "mood music" calculated to put them into the proper emotional state. That practice has now been discarded by all but one or two of the old - timers (Joan Crawford, I believe, still insists on a musical "tune-up" now and then), but one of our newest newcomers, Marge Champion, has an interesting substitute. She gets into the mood by wearing, for a few hours before playing the scene, a costume to fit the occasion. For instance, being advised that her "dream dance" sequence for "Everything I Have Is Yours," in which she visions herself as a very dignified, and very graceful, great lady, was to be filmed one afternoon last week, she went to the studio wardrobe department and picked out an ankle - length, full - flowing dress once worn on the screen by Jeanette MacDonald. After wearing it all morning, she pronounced herself emotionally ready for work.

A few days after he finished his starring role in RKO's "The Thing" a year ago this summer, Ken Tobey and a young lady whom he met at a Hollywood party "fell in love at first sight." They were married a few weeks later, but in the interval RKO underwent an economy wave and Tobey was one of the many players who lost their contracts. His fiancee, being a practical girl, forbade him to buy her an engagement ring until he had another contract guaranteeing him a satisfactory period of steady work. Last week, after a year in which he's worked not at all, Tobey was re - signed by RKO on a long - term agreement. The job came just in time for him to buy his wife a diamond ring as an anniversary gift. They're celebrating their first anniversary tomorrow.

The Taft board of strategy is pretty much what it has been in past campaigns. It is headed by David S. Ingalls of Cleveland, a Taft cousin. Tom Coleman of Wisconsin is Taft's convention floor manager. Congressman Clarence Brown of Ohio and B. Carroll Reece of Tennessee are big wheels.

Others include Ohio GOP Chairman Ray Bliss, former GOP National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton, Taft's (formerly Stassen's) campaign manager, Vic Johnson, and his secretary, Jack Martin.

These are the potential powers behind the now empty thrones—the wire pullers and fixers to watch for at Cricago.

Choudrant High Gives Names For Pelican State

CHOUDRANT, June 28. —(Special)— Two Choudrant high school students have been named delegates to the 12th annual Pelican Boys state and Pelican Girls state in Baton Rouge next August. They are Miss Nalda Emory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Emory, who will represent Choudrant at Girls State Aug. 21-29 and Paul Kidd, son of Mrs. Emma Lee Kidd, who will represent Choudrant at Boys State, Aug. 11-19.

Alternates named are Miss Mary Whitman and Morris Fletcher.

BOATING ON BEAUTIFUL LAKE PROVIDENCE

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA) — Behind the Screen: Interest in a movie biography of the late Lon Chaney—the screen's man of 1000 faces—is beginning to mount on flicker row. One independent producer has already approached Lon's son, who's carried his father's name through 190 films, on the idea.

There will be no family objection to putting the story on the screen, Lon Chaney told me on Warners' "Springfield Rifle" set. "My mother objected to some articles written about my father after his death," Lon said, "so we've avoided any talk about a movie until now."

Lon on the subject of an actor who could play his father: "Paul Muni in his heyday would have been perfect. I wouldn't insist on playing it myself. I couldn't do it unless they'd let me act like my old man did instead of directing me."

Richard Burton, the sensational British actor who will play the young hero opposite Olivia de Havilland in "My Cousin Rachel," flunked the screen test he made for Fox with a scene from the best-seller. But George Cukor showed Darryl Zanuck a print of a British movie that Burton made, "Woman of Dolwyn," and the actor was signed pronto.

Reports from Europe say that Joan Fontaine's movie, "Decameron Nights," is so torrid in content—it's taken from Boccacio's spicy tales—that it should be retitled, "The Candid Decameron Nights."

Never Fear

There will be no love scenes between Ethel Merman and Donald O'Connor in the movie version of "Call Me Madame"—just in case you're worrying about how Ethel and Donald would look in a clinch.

The Coconut Grove's 30th anniversary brought back a flood of memories—of Bing Crosby warbling there for $50 a week—when he showed up—and the quick-sketch artist who could do wonders with a violin. The manager needed entertainment for the Grove, found some South American musicians and the artist, Xavier Cugat, became an orchestra leader.

Busty, blonde Cleo Moore, due for a Marilyn Monroe buildup by Columbia, will star for Producer Hugo Haas next in "The Guest From Hell." It's a modern version of the Faust legend.

Sign of the times note. Twelve of the beautiful dolls who work as waitresses at the Palm Springs Doll House were offered movie contracts this season. All turned them down. . .Mack Sennett is reactivating plans to refilm Mabel Normand's biggest movie hit, "Molly O." Olivia de Havilland, claims Mack, is the only actress in Hollywood who could play the comedy role.

Producer Hal Roach, explaining the lost art of creating movie stars:

"You don't develop movie stars by writing movies and then casting them. That's reverse English. You write stories especially for new talent. That's the way Hollywood did it at the peak of the star era before World War II."

She Scores Again

Martita Hunt, who scored on Broadway a few seasons back in "The Madwoman of Chaillot," will play Jose Ferrer's mother in John Huston's production of "Moulin Rouge."

Titles with "American" and "U. S. A.." in them are being dropped in London. "Jim Thorpe, All-American" is showing as "Man of Bronze," and "Deadline, U. S. A." is marqueed merely as "Deadline."

Ground will be broken this summer on "Flynn's Inn," a big hotel project financed by Errol Flynn at Apple Valley, 100 miles from Hollywood.

There's a good chance John Barrymore, Jr., wil play a comedy role with his aunt Ethel in her telefilm series, "The Ethel Barrymore Theater." About her nephew with the famous name, she told me:

"He has a lot of natural talent as a comedian. It's a great thing to have a sense of humor in this business. That's why my brother John's 'Hamlet' was so good."

Answer to the "Where's cowboy Tex Ritter these days?" question. Tex is headed for London to star in the big city's first indoor rodeo since 1920, with a flock of U. S. cowboys, cowgirls and Indians.

Joe E. Lewis about a shapely starlet: "She's the kind of a girl you could take home to mother—when father isn't home."

New Priest Named To Serve Ferriday Church

FERRIDAY, June 28. —(Special) — Reverend Simone J. Vitale, S. T. D., has been appointed pastor of St. Patrick's Church and administrator of St. Charles Catholic Church in Ferriday by Bishop Charles Greco of the Diocese of Alexandria.

Father Vitale has lived in Italy where he was ordained to the priesthood, until 1946 when he came to New York. His work has been in New York, Shreveport, Monroe, and just prior to coming to Ferriday, he was in Marksville, La.

According to Father Vitale, the people of Ferriday gave him a small shower Thursday at his home in the St. Charles rectory. He has announced the schedule for summer services at St. Patrick's and St. Charles churches as follows: Every Sunday — St. Patrick's — Mass at 8:00 a.m.; at St. Charles, at 9:30 a.m.; week days, St. Patrick's (except Wednesdays at 7:00 a.m.; confessions will be heard every Saturday evening, St. Charles 4 to 5 p.m. and at St. Patrick's from 5 to 6 p.m. and week days after mass.

Franklin Parish To Celebrate July 4

WINNSBORO, June 28. —(Special)— Franklin parish will celebrate July Fourth with an all day program and picnic at Landis Memorial Park in Winnsboro.

According to Miss Carrice Russell, summer recreation director, the program will get underway at 8 a.m. with a downtown parade of decorated floats, cars, bicycles, horses and any other type of decorated vehicle that will add to the parade.

Mrs. B. S. Landis, Jr., is in charge of the decorated cars and floats, Homer E. Lowry the bicycles and Quitman Robinson the horses.

A man's softball game will be the feature attraction at 9 and at 10 there will be relay races of all types. There will be horse racing at 11 and old fashioned dinner-on-the-ground at 12 noon.

The afternoon program will feature an American Legion Junior baseball game and the very popular baby contest.

In the afternoon there will also be swimming races of all types at 4 and at 4:30 a swimming and diving exhibition will be presented. Coach Morgan Peoples, assistant recreation director, said that possibly a diving team from Northwestern State College could be obtained for this event. A water safety and lifesaving program will be presented at 5. The pool will close at 6.

METHODISTS TO BUILD CHURCH

Will Be Located At South 4th And Wilson; To Organize July 13

Realizing that there is need for a Methodist church on the south side, the sponsoring First Methodist Church downtown has purchased a site for a church at South Fourth and Wilson streets, a block north of Winnsboro road. A formal meeting and election of officers is scheduled July 13 at 11 a.m. in the Missouri Pacific clubhouse, (Booster Hall) Ouachita avenue. All interested are urged to attend.

The past few weeks, directed largely by Rev. Lea Joyner, who will be pastor when the church is erected, a survey has been made in the immediate area of the proposed church. Reverend Joyner states that the response has been highly gratifying.

The survey was done from house to house, many interested women gladly donating their time for the good of the cause. Those who aided in the survey are the following: Mrs. B. A. Hynum, Mrs. H. F. Vigneaux, Mrs. C. E. Vaughn, Mrs. B. E. Maroney, Mrs. W. H. Dennis, Mrs. C. B. Walker, Mrs. G. E. Wimbish, Mrs F. W. Stewart, Mrs. W. O. Danzey, Mrs. Adams Causey, Mrs. E. R. Cromwell, Mrs. W. J. Bowles, Mrs. Frank Babin, Mrs. Sam Baxter, Mrs. Sybil McDowell, Mrs. C. M. Waggoner, Mrs. Frank Copes, Mrs. Myrtle Mae Foster, Mrs. N. L. Moncrief, Mrs. D. D. Hoffpauir, Mrs. Jerome Easter, Mrs. C. R. Clay and Mrs. G. F. Snapp.

It is stated that there is every assurance that a building will be erected on the site so that services can be held early in the fall. District Supt. W. H. Giles is heartily in accord with the plan it is said.

Choudrant High Gives Names For Pelican State

CHOUDRANT, June 28. —(Special)— Two Choudrant high school students have been named delegates to the 12th annual Pelican Boys state and Pelican Girls state in Baton Rouge next August. They are Miss Nalda Emory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Emory, who will represent Choudrant at Girls State Aug. 21-29 and Paul Kidd, son of Mrs. Emma Lee Kidd, who will represent Choudrant at Boys State, Aug. 11-19.

Alternates named are Miss Mary Whitman and Morris Fletcher.

BOATING ON BEAUTIFUL LAKE PROVIDENCE

Jimmy Dillard, well-known Lake Providence resident, is shown above in his modern speedboat with Pat Wagley, another Lake Providence resident, who is quite an accompiished water skier. Both will take an active part in the water carnival to be presented on the lake.

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA) — Behind the Screen: Interest in a movie biography of the late Lon Chaney —the screen's man of 1000 faces— is beginning to mount on flicker row. One independent producer has already approached Lon's son, who's carried his father's name through 190 films, on the idea.

There will be no family objection to putting the story on the screen, Lon Chaney told me on Warners' "Springfield Rifle" set.

"My mother objected to some articles written about my father after his death," Lon said, "so we've avoided any talk about a movie until now."

Lon on the subject of an actor who could play his father: "Paul Muni in his heyday would have been perfect. I wouldn't insist on playing it myself. I couldn't do it unless they'd let me act like my old man did instead of directing me."

Richard Burton, the sensational British actor who will play the young hero opposite Olivia de Havilland in "My Cousin Rachel," flunked the screen test he made for Fox with a scene from the best-seller. But George Cukor showed Darryl Zanuck a print of a British movie that Burton made, "Woman of Dolwyn," and the actor was signed pronto.

Reports from Europe say that Joan Fontaine's movie, "Decameron Nights," is so torrid in content—it's taken from Boccacio's spicy tales—that it should be retitled, "The Candid Decameron Nights."

Never Fear

There will be no love scenes between Ethel Merman and Donald O'Connor in the movie version of "Call Me Madame"—just in case you're worrying about how Ethel and Donald would look in a clinch.

The Coconut Grove's 30th anniversary brought back a flood of memories—of Bing Crosby warbling there for $50 a week—when he showed up—and the quick-sketch artist who could do wonders with a violin. The manager needed entertainment for the Grove, found some South American musicians and the artist, Xavier Cugat, became an orchestra leader.

Busty, blonde Cleo Moore, due for a Marilyn Monroe buildup by Columbia, will star for Producer Hugo Haas next in "The Guest From Hell." It's a modern version of the Faust legend.

Sign of the times note. Twelve of the beautiful dolls who work as waitresses at the Palm Springs Doll House were offered movie contracts this season. All turned them down. . .Mack Sennett is reactivating plans to refilm Mabel Normand's biggest movie hit, "Molly O." Olivia de Havilland, claims Mack, is the only actress in Hollywood who could play the comedy role.

Producer Hal Roach, explaining the lost art of creating movie stars:

"You don't develop movie stars by writing movies and then casting them. That's reverse English. You write stories especially for new talent. That's the way Hollywood did it at the peak of the star era before World War II."

She Scores Again

Martita Hunt, who scored on Broadway a few seasons back in "The Madwoman of Chaillot," will play Jose Ferrer's mother in John Huston's production of "Moulin Rouge."

Titles with "American" and "U. S. A.." in them are being dropped in London. "Jim Thorpe, All-American" is showing as "Man of Bronze," and "Deadline, U. S. A." is marqueed merely as "Deadline."

Ground will be broken this summer on "Flynn's Inn," a big hotel project financed by Errol Flynn at Apple Valley, 100 miles from Hollywood.

There's a good chance John Barrymore, Jr., wil play a comedy role with his aunt Ethel in her telefilm series, "The Ethel Barrymore Theater." About her nephew with the famous name, she told me:

"He has a lot of natural talent as a comedian. It's a great thing to have a sense of humor in this business. That's why my brother John's 'Hamlet' was so good."

Answer to the "Where's cowboy Tex Ritter these days?" question. Tex is headed for London to star in the big city's first indoor rodeo since 1920, with a flock of U. S. cowboys, cowgirls and Indians.

Joe E. Lewis about a shapely starlet: "She's the kind of a girl you could take home to mother—when father isn't home."

New Priest Named To Serve Ferriday Church

FERRIDAY, June 28. —(Special) — Reverend Simone J. Vitale, S. T. D., has been appointed pastor of St. Patrick's Church and administrator of St. Charles Catholic Church in Ferriday by Bishop Charles Greco of the Diocese of Alexandria.

Father Vitale has lived in Italy where he was ordained to the priesthood, until 1946 when he came to New York. His work has been in New York, Shreveport, Monroe, and just prior to coming to Ferriday, he was in Marksville, La.

According to Father Vitale, the people of Ferriday gave him a small shower Thursday at his home in the St. Charles rectory. He has announced the schedule for summer services at St. Patrick's and St. Charles churches as follows: Every Sunday — St. Patrick's — Mass at 8:00 a.m.; at St. Charles, at 9:30 a.m.; week days, St. Patrick's (except Wednesdays at 7:00 a.m.; confessions will be heard every Saturday evening, St. Charles 4 to 5 p.m. and at St. Patrick's from 5 to 6 p.m. and week days after mass.

Franklin Parish To Celebrate July 4

WINNSBORO, June 28. —(Special)— Franklin parish will celebrate July Fourth with an all day program and picnic at Landis Memorial Park in Winnsboro.

According to Miss Carrice Russell, summer recreation director, the program will get underway at 8 a.m. with a downtown parade of decorated floats, cars, bicycles, horses and any other type of decorated vehicle that will add to the parade.

Mrs. B. S. Landis, Jr., is in charge of the decorated cars and floats, Homer E. Lowry the bicycles and Quitman Robinson the horses.

A man's softball game will be the feature attraction at 9 and at 10 there will be relay races of all types. There will be horse racing at 11 and old fashioned dinner-on-the-ground at 12 noon.

The afternoon program will feature an American Legion Junior baseball game and the very popular baby contest.

In the afternoon there will also be swimming races of all types at 4 and at 4:30 a swimming and diving exhibition will be presented. Coach Morgan Peoples, assistant recreation director, said that possibly a diving team from Northwestern State College could be obtained for this event. A water safety and lifesaving program will be pr esente dt5. Taoeplhloilwoo be presented at 5. The pool will close at 6.

METHODISTS TO BUILD CHURCH

Will Be Located At South 4th And Wilson; To Organize July 13

Realizing that there is need for a Methodist church on the south side, the sponsoring First Methodist Church downtown has pur - chased a site for a church at South Fourth and Wilson streets, a block north of Winnsboro road. A formal meeting and election of officers is scheduled July 13 at 11 a.m. in the Missouri Pacific clubhouse, (Booster Hall) Ouachita avenue. All interested are urged to attend.

The past few weeks, directed largely by Rev. Lea Joyner, who will be pastor when the church is erected, a survey has been made in the immediate area of the proposed church. Reverend Joyner states that the response has been highly gratifying.

The survey was done from house to house, many interested women gladly donating their time for the good of the cause. Those who aided in the survey are the following: Mrs. B. A. Hynum, Mrs. H. F. Vigneaux, Mrs. C. E. Vaughn, Mrs. B. E. Maroney, Mrs. W. H. Dennis, Mrs. C. B. Walker, Mrs. G. E. Wimbish, Mrs F. W. Stewart, Mrs. W. O. Danzey, Mrs. Adams Causey, Mrs. E. R. Cromwell, Mrs. W. J. Bowles, Mrs. Frank Babin, Mrs. Sam Baxter, Mrs. Sybil McDowell, Mrs. C. M. Waggoner, Mrs. Frank Copes, Mrs. Myrtie Mae Foster, Mrs. N. L. Moncrief, Mrs. D. D. Hoffpauir, Mrs. Jerome Easter, Mrs. C. R. Clay and Mrs. G. F. Snapp.

It is stated that there is every assurance that a building will be erected on the site so that services can be held early in the fall. District Supt. W. H. Giles is heartily in accord with the plan it is said.

For a quick sauce for asparagus add a little lemon juice and tarragon vinegar to commercially prepared mayonnaise; heat the mayonnaise over hot water stirring constantly.

MERIDIAN, MONROE IN DOUBLE HEADER TODAY

SCHEDULED TWIN BILL LAST NIGHT DELAYED BY RAIN

Sports Seeking To Continue Mastery Of Millers

Rain last night gave the Monroe Sports, appearing unsettled and jittery since the injury of Manager Charley Harrington, a chance to get a night of rest before plunging into a double header this afternoon with the Meridian Millers, leaders of the Cotton States League, at Legion Memorial Stadium.

The first game of today's twin bill is scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock.

While the rain came a welcome relief to the drought - plagued south, it might also have been a big favor for the Sports who had gone out in quest of their seventh straight win over the Millers last night. However, Meridian was ahead 2-0 when the downpour came in the third inning, erasing a Miller chance to get on the winning side of the ledger against the Sports.

Since Skipper Harrington was hospitalized with a fractured skull when hit by a pitched ball at Greenwood last Tuesday night, the Sports have been operating with revised lineups that puts an outfielder in the infield and pitchers and catchers in the garden patrol. Carl Franson, a third baseman, who normally would have been used to take up the slack, reportedly has a sore arm and is in Shreveport for treatment.

Indications that "something may be brewing" for the Sports was the presence here last night of officials of the parent Shreveport club, Bonneau Peters and "Cap" Roberts and Chief Scout Abe Miller. No announcements were forthcoming, however. Again, it might just have been a "social visit."

Meanwhile, Harrington is still a patient in LeFleur hospital at Greenwood, Miss.

Snapping back for two wins over Meridian today could give the Sports the spark they need although, if they follow their current form chart, they'll be lucky to break even when they swing into action again against the rest of the league.

Darvin Chrisco, Monroe ace, and Hal Graham, Meridian, were matching slants last night when the rain intervened. Graham had served up only one hit in two innings against the Sports. Chrisco retired the first six batters in order, but served up singles to Dolph Regelsky and George Foster to open the third and walked Graham to load the bases. Lou Pompelia followed with a single to drive in Regelsky and Foster just as the rain moved in to wash out the conframe.

Speed Up Tourney For Acting Champ

PATERSON, N. J., June 29 (AP)— The National Boxing Association today announced a speed-up in the featherweight tournament to select an acting titleholder while Sandy Saddler, the champion, is in the army.

N. B. A. Commissioner Abe J. Greene said that in behalf of the District of Columbia boxing commission, he had invited the winner of a bout between Willie Pep and Tommy Collins of Boston, scheduled for tomorrow in Boston, to attend a bout in Washington Wednesday night when two other contenders meet in the elimination.

The Washington bout is between Gene Smith, of Washington, and Glen Flanagan, of St. Paul, Minn. Smith nosed out Flanagan in a bout several months ago, but Saddler still was a civilian at the time.

Green said a match between the winner of the Boston and Washington bouts will be sought.

He said efforts will be made to arrange a west coast match between Fabela Chavez, Los Angeles, and Frankie Almond, Canadian champ. Also included in the American competition as an official entry is Percy Bassett, of Philadelphia, Greene added.

Experienced Halfbacks Are Returning To Bears

CHICAGO, June 28 (AP)—The Chicago Bears of the National Football League today signed two experienced left halfbacks, Chuck Hunsinger and George Gulyanics, for the 1952 season.

Hunsinger averaged better than five yards per try last season his second as a pro. Gulyanics joined the Bears in 1947.

Kraft Paper Tournament At Bastrop Opens Friday With $1,725 In Prizes

Mattinson Calls His Show 'Biggest Nine-Hole' Event

BASTROP, La., June 28. (Special)—Awards totalling $1,725 in value will be distributed among various flight winners in the eighteenth annual Kraft Paper Golf Tournament opening over the Morehouse Country Club course here Friday and running through next Sunday.

Host Pro Milo Mattinson tonight announced Joe Roundtree the Wilson representative, will again serve as official starter for his featured tournament of the season.

Mattinson also reported the greens on his course are in good playable condition and that a heavy rain during the night "did a world of good" toward helping bring the course into better condition after a long dry period.

"Our annual Kraft Paper event has the reputation of being the biggest nine - hole invitational in the country and we're doing all possible to keep it that way," Mattison declared. "For that reason we are asking out Bastrop golfers to qualify as soon as possible this week so that the course will be free for our visiting golfers on the final qualifying day Friday."

Three Monroe amateurs took practice rounds today. They were McVea Oliver, Robert Guerriero, and Herbert Land, Jr.

One Hitter Cops Monmouth Event

OCEANPORT, N. J., June 28 (AP) — The combination of Greentree stable's One Hitter and Jockey Ted Atkinson staged a blazing stretch finish today to score a length and a quarter victory in the $25,000-added Monmouth Handicap.

It appeared anybody's horse race as the contenders rounded into the stretch drive, but Atkinson applied a lusty whip and the six-year -old son of Shut Out -Bold Anna drew away.

The Putnam stable's Combat Boots got second place under a drive by Jockey Logan Batcheller by a scant nose from the Rokeby stable's Counts Delight. Joey Boy was fourth, with Three Rings last.

It was a thriller from start to finish for the crowd of 21,569, and One Hitter, the favorite, was clocked in 2:04 1-5 for the mile and one quarter. One Hitter paid $5.20, $3.20 and $2.40.

Sports Win In 15th

HOUSTON, June 28(AP) — Joe Szekely's single in the 15th inning gave Shreveport a 5-1 victory over the Houston Buffs here Saturday night and sent Houston down to its fifth straight defeat.

Jim Willis allowed only seven hits and struck out eight in going the route for the Sports.

George Eyrich, after pitching beautifully for 14 innings, tired badly in the 15th and was touched for five hits and relieved by Kenny Wild. After Szekely's safety, Jim Ackeret and Willis came through with hits to seal the victory for Shreveport.

Charleston Turns Out For 'Mudhens'

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 28 (AP)— Charleston baseball fans spilled over every available seat with 6,631 paid admissions to welcome American Association ball to town, although perhaps only temporarily, and the former Toledo Mudhens responded with a 4-1 victory over the Louisville Colonels.

Hank Behrman bested the Boston Red Sox $125,000 bonus pitching star, 18-year-old Frank Baumann, in a pitching battle. Baumann fanned six and allowed only seven hits, but Charleston's hits were timely. Rollie Hemsley, 43. The manager, doubled as did Fred Taylor. Nino Escaler's triple and singles by Stan Rojek and Barna also figured in the Charleston scoring.

Behrman suffered a bruised shin in the eighth inning when a hard drive by Taft Wright knocked him to the ground, before Bob DiPietro's single scored the only run.

A wall-brushing catch by Barna and a sensational atop by second baseman Leo Righetti helped Behrman.

Report North Caroline Player Seriously Hurt

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 28 (AP) —Milt McEneny, second baseman for the Charlotte Hornets of the Class B Tri-State Baseball League, was reported in serious condition today after being hit on the temple by a pitched ball last night.

Memorial Hospital reported McEneny hadn't fully regained consciousness.

His parents were expected later in the day from St. Bernard, Ohio.

Rubinoff was a member of the winning doubles team too. He and Jerry Moss beat Bob and Peter Green, Palm Beach, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.

DIAMOND WIZARD WILL SHOW HERE

Johnny Price Billed For Legion Stadium Friday

Baseball's one - man acrobatic show, Johnny Price, who spent most of the past winter entertaining our soldiers in Korea and the South Seas, has concocted some exciting new tricks to show fans of this area when he appears at Legion Memorial Stadium here Friday in an added attraction to the Monroe - Hot Springs Cotton States League game.

It may not seem possible but the fantastic Price, whose repertoire already includes some amazing maneuvers with a ball, bat and glove, has come up with several new acrobatic stunts in keeping with his policy of maintaining a perpetually fresh bag of tricks.

Baseball's outstanding entertainer, who has thrilled millions of fans from Alaska to South America, performed for the armed services on the Korean battle front this winter. He set up his bazooka and shot autographed baseballs toward the Reds.

"We could see the balls actually land behind the Red lines," Price said. "In fact, we could see the Reds pick up the baseballs. Most of the time they studied the balls for a long time. Guess they thought they were mines or booby traps."

Price, with his keen sense of humor, had actually written on each ball: "Return this ball to Hank Greenberg at Cleveland Stadium and receive two season passes to the Indians' home games," The Cleveland Baseball Company handles Price's bookings.

A minor league ball player for ten years, Price finally reached the majors in 1946 when the Indians brought him up from Oakland to double as a utility infielder as well as an entertainer. But his sensational talent as a trick artist so overshadowed his hitting ability that he soon decided to devote his entire time to presenting his incomparable act.

In it he manages to do everything conceivable with a baseball and a number of things that would never have been dreamed of by a less fertile mind. He can convincingly demonstrate 15 ways not to hit a baseball and then follow it up by showing 15 more for not throwing and not catching one. He chases fly balls in a jeep and even catches them from the moving vehicle while standing on his head. He can bat, throw and catch from this position or while hanging from a trapeze. He even catches high flies in the back or front of his uniform shirt and trousers.

One of his most amazing stunts is the feat of throwing three balls at one time to three different catchers with perfect control. Another is to toss two balls in the air simultaneously and fungo one into centerfield while fouling the other back against the screen in the opposite direction.

Durango Seeking Graziano Match

NEW YORK, June 28 (AP)—Ernie Durando, the "Rock" of Bayonne, N. J., wants to fight Rocky Graziano after his upset unanimous decision win over 20-year-old Norman Hayes of Boston.

"Give me Graziano or Ray Robinson," said Durando in his dressing room last night after the final Madison Square Garden show of the season.

Durando floored Hayes in the third round at a time when Hayes was giving Durando a rough time. The count had mounted to three and Hayes hadn't started to get up when the bell ended the round.

Pittsburgh Steelers Acquire Two Rookies

PITTSBURGH, June 28 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League announced today the signing of two more players, bringing the 1952 roster to 34.

They are rookies Pat Smithwick of Kewaunee, Wis., who played for St. Norbert College, and Jack Gearding of Xavier University, Cincinnati.

Gearding, 230-pound tackle, was the Steelers' fourth draft choice. Smithwick, 16th choice, was a pass-receiving star at St. Norbert. He stands 6-3 and weighs 205 pounds.

Select Coaches For Prep All-Star Game

MEMPHIS, June 28 (AP)— Coaches for the All-American high school football game were named today: Alabama's Red Drew for the East and Bill Glassford of Nebraska for the West.

The annual game, to be played here Aug. 29, matches the cream of prep school players east of the Mississippi River against those of the west.

The game is sponsored by the Wigwam Wisemen, and Oklahoma City charitable organization.

HAS 250TH ANNIVERSARY

NEW YORK (AP)—The Grace Episcopal Church in the borough of Queens has celebrated its 250th anniversary.

It was founded by a missionary of the London Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts in 1702. Next to Trinity Church in Manhattan, it is the oldest Episcopal Church in the State of New York.

BRIDGE TESTER BUILT

LONDON (AP)—Britain has built an 85-ton vehicle, believed to be the only one of its kind in the world, for testing road bridges. Named "Ossa upon Pelion"—after the Greek mountains of those names — the vehicle carries a 35-foot-long 50-ton chunk of concrete which can be maneuvered to change the weight on the vehicle's bogey wheels.

The weight on a single bogey can be varied at will from 20 to 90 tons for bridge-testing.

SNEAD, FERRIER TOP BEST-BALL

Mangrum, Middlecoff Chief Threat For Final Round

TOLEDO, O., June 28 (AP) — The Inverness Best - Ball $18,000 Invitational Tournament settled down to a two-way scrap today between the Sam Snead - Jim Ferrier and duos.

The leading pairs tangle Sunday afternoon in the final round of the 90 - hole clash in which a dozen of the country's top - flight professionals are competing.

Snead and Ferrier clung to a one-point lead with plus six, under the unique Inverness scoring system today. They handed last-placers Jimmy Demaret and Jack Burke a one - down defeat. Mangrum - Middlecoff, with a four-up conquest over Doug Ford and Ed (Porky) Oliver, boosted their rating to plus five.

In third place, at plus one, were veteran Byron Nelson and Skee Riegel, who manufactured a four-up win over Clayton Heafner and Marty Furgol.

Ford and Oliver were fourth, with no points, Heafner and Furgol were fifth at minus four, and Demaret - Burke were on bottom with minus eight after losing three matches.

Piersall Whole Show

BIRMINGHAM, June 28 (AP)—Jim (Showboat) Piersall had a field day tonight as the Birmingham Barons whipped the Memphis Chicks, 8-5, in their series opener.

Piersall, opticned to the Barons by the Boston Red Sox today, flew here tonight, climbed into a Baron uniform, stepped up the plate a few minutes later and hit a home run with two mates on base.

Maxim Declares His Purse Short

GROSSINGER, N. Y., June 28. (AP)—Josey Maxim, world light-hesvyweight champion, said today he received only 20 per cent of the gate receipts of Wednesday's bout with Ray Robinson, middleweight king. Robinson, Maxim said, received 40 per cent.

Previously it had been announced that Maxim and Robinson each got 30 per cent and an estimated $100,224.

Maxim thus received an estimated $66,816.40 for winning while Robinson received $133,633 for losing. Maxim made no mention how the theater - TV money, $90,000, was divided. Prior to the fight it was said both would get 30 per cent of that.

VICKERS RALLIES TO TRIP MERRINS

L. S. U. Star Beaten 1 Up In N. C. A. A. Golf Tourney

LAFAYETTE, Ind., June 28. (AP) —Slim Jim Vickers of Oklahoma, twice two holes down, came back in the afternoon round to defeat 19 year-old Eddie Merrins of Louisiana State, one up, in the championship match of the National Collegiate Golf Tournament today.

Dripping in 104 - degree heat, the 128 - pound Vickers tapped in a 15 - foot putt for a birdie 4 on the 36th hole to wind up the tight match. Merrins had a five - foot putt for a bird but, of course, didn't play it out as he had trailed by one hole since the 33rd.

The smooth - swinging Louisiana State boy, only 5 feet 6½, had Vickers two down midway in the morning round and still had a one-hole advantage at noon.

Vickers caught him on the first hole of the afternoon round with a four and one - half birdie 3 putt. The Oklahoman took the lead for the first time on the third afternoon hole with a par 4. Merrins had missed the green.

I'm Marie Claims Mayflower Purse

BOSTON, June 28 (AP)— I'm Marie, the Jay - Bob stable's sharp-running two-year-old filly, turned in a creditable 1:06 2-5 for five and W. L. Huntley's Mr. Songbird by 2½ lengths in the Mayflower Stakes today as Suffolk Downs closed a 60-day meeting.

Jockey Marshall Wilder kept I'm Marie close to the pace and she started her drive rounding the far turn, where Mr. Songbird took over from the tiring Texas Melody.

After the filly pulled away from Mr. Songbird coming into the home-stretch, Henry Forrest's Tea Patch closed strongly to gain show honors from Miss Joanne.

Favored by the 21,855 closing day crowd, I'm Marie paid $6.60, $3.40 and $2.80.

STAN MUSIAL TOP ALL-STAR CHOICE

Yankees, Indians Each Land Three On American Squad

CHICAGO, June 28. (AP)—Nine different teams are honored on the American and National League starting units for the all - star baseball game.

The poll conducted by the Chicago Tribune was headed for the second straight year by Stan (The Man) Musial, brilliant St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, who bagged 1,291,532 votes in the far - flung balloting.

The first - place New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians dominated the American League with three starters each, the Chicago White Sox and Boston Red Sox landing one apiece.

The National loop's eight starters, included two each from the Cardinals, first - place Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants, one apiece from the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phils.

Here's the way the 3,991,284 voting fans ordered Managers Casey Stengel of the Americans and Leo Durocher of the Nationals to start the All-Star teams:

American League

First Base—Eddie Robinson, Chicago.

Second base — Bobby Avila, Cleveland.

Catcher — Larry Berra, New York.

First base — Whitey Lockman, New York.

Second base — Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn.

Third base — Bobby Thomson, New York.

Shortstop — Gran Hamner, Philadelphia.

Center field — Stan Musial, St. Louis.

Right field — Enos Slaughter, St. Louis.

Catcher — Roy Campanella, Brooklyn.

The 16 honored players will start the game and play at least three innings, unless injured or sick.

Stengel and Durocher, who automatically became rival All - Star managers when they led the Yankees and Giants to 1951 pennants, will round out their 25-player squads with their own pick of pitchers and replacements for the 16 starters.

The complete National roster will be announced Monday and the American League roster on Tuesday.

Boston's Di Maggio finished second to Musial in the individual vote - getting with 1,279,818 for the American League center field job. Brooklyn's Robinson was third with 1,266,396, followed by Berra with 1,252,791, and Sauer with 1 241,094.

MERIDIAN, MONROE IN DOUBLE HEADER TODAY

SCHEDULED TWIN BILL LAST NIGHT DELAYED BY RAIN

Sports Seeking To Continue Mastery Of Millers

Rain last night gave the Monroe Sports, appearing unsettled and jittery since the injury of Manager Charley Harrington, a chance to get a night of rest before plunging into a double header this afternoon with the Meridian Millers, leaders of the Cotton States League, at Legion Memorial Stadium.

The first game of today's twin bill is scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock.

While the rain came a welcome relief to the drought - plagued south, it might also have been a big favor for the Sports who had gone out in quest of their seventh straight win over the Millers last night. However, Meridian was ahead 2-0 when the downpour came in the third inning, erasing a Miller chance to get on the winning side of the ledger against the Sports.

Since Skipper Harrington was hospitalized with a fractured skull when hit by a pitched ball at Greenwood last Tuesday night, the Sports have been operating with revised lineups that puts an outfielder in the infield and pitchers and catchers in the garden patrol. Carl Franson, a third baseman, who normally would have been used to take up the slack, reportedly has a sore arm and is in Shreveport for treatment.

Left Fielder Bob Sprentall had been working at third. Right Fielder Bobby Weber shifted to left while pitchers and catchers alternate in right, and on able Second Baseman Jesse "The Ripper" Van Winkle has fallen the task of marshalling the Sports while Harrington is out of action.

Indications that "something may be brewing" for the Sports was the presence here last night of officials of the parent Shreveport club, Bonneau Peters and "Cap" Roberts and Chief Scout Abe Miller. No announcements were forthcoming, however. Again, it might just have been a "social visit."

Meanwhile, Harrington is still a patient in LeFleur hospital at Greenwood, Miss.

Snapping back for two wins over Meridian today could give the Sports the spark they need although, if they follow their current form chart, they'll be lucky to break even when they swing into action again against the rest of the league.

Darvin Chrisco, Monroe ace, and Hal Graham, Meridian, were matching slants last night when the rain intervened. Graham had served up only one hit in two innings against the Sports. Chrisco retired the first six batters in order, but served up singles to Dolph Regelsky and George Foster to open the third and walked Graham to load the bases. Lou Pompelia followed with a single to drive in Regelsky and Foster just as the rain moved in to wash out the conframe.

Speed Up Tourney For Acting Champ

PATERSON, N. J., June 29 (AP)—The National Boxing Association today announced a speed-up in the featherweight tournament to select an acting titleholder while Sandy Saddler, the champion, is in the army.

N. B. A. Commissioner Abe J. Greene said that in behalf of the District of Columbia boxing commission, he had invited the winner of a bout between Willie Pep and Tommy Collins of Boston, scheduled for tomorrow in Boston, to attend a bout in Washington Wednesday night when two other contenders meet in the elimination.

The Washington bout is between Gene Smith, of Washington, and Glen Flanagan, of St. Paul, Minn. Smith nosed out Flanagan in a bout several months ago, but Saddler still was a civilian at the time.

Green said a match between the winner of the Boston and Washington bouts will be sought.

He said efforts will be made to arrange a west coast match between Fabela Chavez, Los Angeles, and Frankie Almond, Canadian champ. Also included in the American competition as an official entry is Percy Bassett, of Philadelphia, Greene added.

Experienced Halfbacks Are Returning To Bears

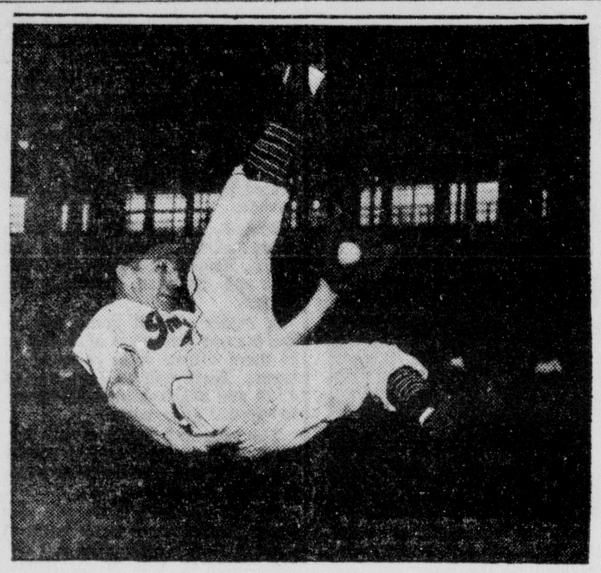

CHICAGO, June 28 (AP)—The Chicago Bears of the National Football League today signed two experienced left halfbacks, Chuck Hunsinger and George Gulyanics, for the 1952 season.

Hunsinger averaged better than five yards per try last season his second as a pro. Gulyanics joined the Bears in 1947.

Birmingham Getting Jim Piersall From Red Hose

BOSTON, June 28 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox announced today they have optioned Jim Piersall, colorful young outfielder, to Birmingham in the Southern Association and recalled Outfielder Faye Throneberry from Louisville.

Outfielder Gene Stephens, who has been at Albany, was reassigned to Louisville.

THE FAMED DIAMOND entertainer, Johnny Price (above), will display his abundant baseball wizardry in an exhibition at Legion Memorial Stadium here Friday, it was announced yesterday by Monroe Business Manager Paul Manasseh.

Kraft Paper Tournament At Bastrop Opens Friday With $1,725 In Prizes

Mattinson Calls His Show 'Biggest Nine-Hole' Event

BASTROP, La., June 28. (Special)—Awards totalling $1,725 in value will be distributed among various flight winners in the eighteenth annual Kraft Paper Golf Tournament opening over the Morehouse Country Club course here Friday and running through next Sunday.

Host Pro Milo Mattinson tonight announced Joe Roundtree the Wilson representative, will again serve as official starter for his featured tournament of the season.

Mattinson also reported the greens on his course are in good playable condition and that a heavy rain during the night "did a world of good" toward helping bring the course into better condition after a long dry period.

"Our annual Kraft Paper event has the reputation of being the biggest nine - hole invitational in the country and we're doing all possible to keep it that way," Mattison declared. "For that reason we are asking out Bastrop golfers to qualify as soon as possible this week so that the course will be free for our visiting golfers on the final qualifying day Friday."

Three Monroe amateurs took practice rounds today. They were McVea Oliver, Robert Guerriero, and Herbert Land, Jr.

One Hitter Cops Monmouth Event

OCEANPORT, N. J., June 28 (AP) — The combination of Greentree stable's One Hitter and Jockey Ted Atkinson staged a blazing stretch finish today to score a length and a quarter victory in the $25,000-added Monmouth Handicap.

It appeared anybody's horse race as the contenders rounded into the stretch drive, but Atkinson applied a lusty whip and the six-year -old son of Shut Out -Bold Anna drew away.

The Putnam stable's Combat Boots got second place under a drive by Jockey Logan Batcheller by a scant nose from the Rokeby stable's Counts Delight. Joey Boy was fourth, with Three Rings last.

It was a thriller from start to finish for the crowd of 21,569, and One Hitter, the favorite, was clocked in 2:04 1-5 for the mile and one quarter. One Hitter paid $5.20, $3.20 and $2.40.

Charleston Turns Out For 'Mudhens'

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 28 (AP)— Charleston baseball fans spilled over every available seat with 6,631 paid admissions to welcome American Association ball to town, although perhaps only temporarily, and the former Toledo Mudhens responded with a 4-1 victory over the Louisville Colonels.

Hank Behrman bested the Boston Red Sox $125,000 bonus pitching star, 18-year-old Frank Baumann, in a pitching battle. Baumann fanned six and allowed only seven hits, but Charleston's hits were timely. Rollie Hemsley, 43. The manager, doubled as did Fred Taylor. Nino Escaler's triple and singles by Stan Rojek and Barna also figured in the Charleston scoring.

Behrman suffered a bruised shin in the eighth inning when a hard drive by Taft Wright knocked him to the ground, before Bob DiPietro's single scored the only run.

A wall-brushing catch by Barna and a sensational stop by second baseman Leo Righetti helped Behrman.

Rubinoff was a member of the winning doubles team too. He and Jerry Moss beat Bob and Peter Green, Palm Beach, 8-6, 6-3, 6-1.

DIAMOND WIZARD WILL SHOW HERE

Johnny Price Billed For Legion Stadium Friday

Baseball's one - man acrobatic show, Johnny Price, who spent most of the past winter entertaining our soldiers in Korea and the South Seas, has concocted some exciting new tricks to show fans of this area when he appears at Legion Memorial Stadium here Friday in an added attraction to the Monroe - Hot Springs Cotton States League game.

It may not seem possible but the fantastic Price, whose repertoire already includes some amazing maneuvers with a ball, bat and glove, has come up with several new acrobatic stunts in keeping with his policy of maintaining a perpetually fresh bag of tricks.

Baseball's outstanding entertainer, who has thrilled millions of fans from Alaska to South America, performed for the armed services on the Korean battle front this winter. He set up his bazooka and shot autographed baseballs toward the Reds.

"We could see the balls actually land behind the Red lines," Price said. "In fact, we could see the Reds pick up the baseballs. Most of the time they studied the balls for a long time. Guess they thought they were mines or booby traps."

Price, with his keen sense of humor, had actually written on each ball: "Return this ball to Hank Greenberg at Cleveland Stadium and receive two season passes to the Indians' home games," The Cleveland Baseball Company handles Price's bookings.

A minor league ball player for ten years, Price finally reached the majors in 1946 when the Indians brought him up from Oakland to double as a utility infielder as well as an entertainer. But his sensational talent as a trick artist so overshadowed his hitting ability that he soon decided to devote his entire time to presenting his incomparable act.

In it he manages to do everything conceivable with a baseball and a number of things that would never have been dreamed of by a less fertile mind. He can convincingly demonstrate 15 ways not to hit a baseball and then follow it up by showing 15 more for not throwing and not catching one. He chases fly balls in a jeep and even catches them from the moving vehicle while standing on his head. He can bat, throw and catch from this position or while hanging from a trapeze. He even catches high flies in the back or front of his uniform shirt and trousers.

One of his most amazing stunts is the feat of throwing three balls at one time to three different catchers with perfect control. Another is to toss two balls in the air simultaneously and fungo one into centerfield while fouling the other back against the screen in the opposite direction.

Durango Seeking Graziano Match

NEW YORK, June 28 (AP)—Ernie Durando, the "Rock" of Bayonne, N. J., wants to fight Rocky Graziano after his upset unanimous decision win over 20-year-old Norman Hayes of Boston.

"Give me Graziano or Ray Robinson," said Durando in his dressing room last night after the final Madison Square Garden show of the season.

Durando floored Hayes in the third round at a time when Hayes was giving Durando a rough time. The count had mounted to three and Hayes hadn't started to get up when the bell ended the round.

Pittsburgh Steelers Acquire Two Rookies

PITTSBURGH, June 28 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League announced today the signing of two more players, bringing the 1952 roster to 34.

They are rookies Pat Smithwick of Kewaunee, Wis., who played for St. Norbert College, and Jack Gearding of Xavier University, Cincinnati.

Gearding, 230-pound tackle, was the Steelers' fourth draft choice. Smithwick, 16th choice, was a pass-receiving star at St. Norbert. He stands 6-3 and weighs 205 pounds.

Select Coaches For Prep All-Star Game

MEMPHIS, June 28 (AP)— Coaches for the All-American high school football game were named today: Alabama's Red Drew for the East and Bill Glassford of Nebraska for the West.

The annual game, to be played here Aug. 29, matches the cream of prep school players east of the Mississippi River against those of the west.

The game is sponsored by the Wigwam Wisemen, and Oklahoma City charitable organization.

HAS 250TH ANNIVERSARY

NEW YORK (AP)—The Grace Episcopal Church in the borough of Queens has celebrated its 250th anniversary.

It was founded by a missionary of the London Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts in 1702. Next to Trinity Church in Manhattan, it is the oldest Episcopal Church in the State of New York.

BRIDGE TESTER BUILT

LONDON (AP)—Britain has built an 85-ton vehicle, believed to be the only one of its kind in the world, for testing road bridges. Named "Ossa upon Pelion"—after the Greek mountains of those names — the vehicle carries a 35-foot-long 50-ton chunk of concrete which can be maneuvered to change the weight on the vehicle's bogey wheels.

The weight on a single bogey can be varied at will from 20 to 90 tons for bridge-testing.

SNEAD, FERRIER TOP BEST-BALL

Mangrum, Middlecoff Chief Threat For Final Round

TOLEDO, O., June 28 (AP) — The Inverness Best - Ball $18,000 Invitational Tournament settled down to a two-way scrap today between the Sam Snead - Jim Ferrier and duos.

The leading pairs tangle Sunday afternoon in the final round of the 90 - hole clash in which a dozen of the country's top - flight professionals are competing.

Snead and Ferrier clung to a one-point lead with plus six, under the unique Inverness scoring system today. They handed last-placers Jimmy Demaret and Jack Burke a one - down defeat. Mangrum - Middlecoff, with a four-up conquest over Doug Ford and Ed (Porky) Oliver, boosted their rating to plus five.

In third place, at plus one, were veteran Byron Nelson and Skee Riegel, who manufactured a four-up win over Clayton Heafner and Marty Furgol.

Ford and Oliver were fourth, with no points, Heafner and Furgol were fifth at minus four, and Demaret - Burke were on bottom with minus eight after losing three matches.

LOOKOUTS TRIUMPH

CHATTANOOGA, June 28 (AP)—Chattanooga's surging Lookouts won their seventh decision in the last frame with a come-from-behind, 7-5 victory over the league-leading Mobile Bears tonight.

Trailing 4-3 entering their half of the eighth, the Lookouts pushed over four runs after two were out. The big swat was a two-run, pinch-hit triple by Hal Keller.

Piersall Whole Show

BIRMINGHAM, June 28 (AP)—Jim (Showboat) Piersall had a field day tonight as the Birmingham Barons whipped the Memphis Chicks, 8-5, in their series opener.

Piersall, opticned to the Barons by the Boston Red Sox today, flew here tonight, climbed into a Baron uniform, stepped up the plate a few minutes later and hit a home run with two mates on base.

Maxim Declares His Purse Short

GROSSINGER, N. Y., June 28. (AP)—Josey Maxim, world light-heavyweight champion, said today he received only 20 per cent of the gate receipts of Wednesday's bout with Ray Robinson, middleweight king. Robinson, Maxim said, received 40 per cent.

Previously it had been announced that Maxim and Robinson each got 30 per cent and an estimated $100,224.

Maxim thus received an estimated $66,816.40 for winning while Robinson received $133,633 for losing. Maxim made no mention how the theater - TV money, $90,000, was divided. Prior to the fight it was said both would get 30 per cent of that.

VICKERS RALLIES TO TRIP MERRINS

L. S. U. Star Beaten 1 Up In N. C. A. A. Golf Tourney

LAFAYETTE, Ind., June 28. (AP)—Slim Jim Vickers of Oklahoma, twice two holes down, came back in the afternoon round to defeat 19 year-old Eddie Merrins of Louisiana State, one up, in the championship match of the National Collegiate Golf Tournament today.

Dripping in 104 - degree heat, the 128 - pound Vickers tapped in a 15 - foot putt for a birdie 4 on the 36th hole to wind up the tight match. Merrins had a five - foot putt for a bird but, of course, didn't play it out as he had trailed by one hole since the 33rd.

The smooth - swinging Louisiana State boy, only 5 feet 6½, had Vickers two down midway in the morning round and still had a one-hole advantage at noon.

Vickers caught him on the first hole of the afternoon round with a four and one - half birdie 3 putt. The Oklahoman took the lead for the first time on the third afternoon hole with a par 4. Merrins had missed the green.

I'm Marie Claims Mayflower Purse

BOSTON, June 28 (AP)— I'm Marie, the Jay - Bob stable's sharp-running two-year-old filly, turned in a creditable 1:06 2-5 for five and W. L. Huntley's Mr. Songbird by 2½ lengths in the Mayflower Stakes today as Suffolk Downs closed a 60-day meeting.

Jockey Marshall Wilder kept I'm Marie close to the pace and she started her drive rounding the far turn, where Mr. Songbird took over from the tiring Texas Melody.

After the filly pulled away from Mr. Songbird coming into the homestretch, Henry Forrest's Tea Patch closed strongly to gain show honors from Miss Joanne.

Favored by the 21,855 closing day crowd, I'm Marie paid $6.60, $3.40 and $2.80.

STAN MUSIAL TOP ALL-STAR CHOICE

Yankees, Indians Each Land Three On American Squad

CHICAGO, June 28. (AP)—Nine different teams are honored on the American and National League starting units for the all - star baseball game.

The poll conducted by the Chicago Tribune was headed for the second straight year by Stan (The Man) Musial, brilliant St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, who bagged 1,291,532 votes in the far - flung balloting.

The first - place New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians dominated the American League with three starters each, the Chicago White Sox and Boston Red Sox landing one apiece.

The National loop's eight starters, included two each from the Cardinals, first - place Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants, one apiece from the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phils.

Here's the way the 3,991,284 voting fans ordered Managers Casey Stengel of the Americans and Leo Durocher of the Nationals to start the All-Star teams:

American League

First Base—Eddie Robinson, Chicago.

Catcher — Larry Berra, New York.

First base — Whitey Lockman, New York.

Second base — Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn.

Third base — Bobby Thomson, New York.

Shortstop — Gran Hamner, Philadelphia.

Center field — Stan Musial, St. Louis.

Right field — Enos Slaughter, St. Louis.

Catcher — Roy Campanella, Brooklyn.

The 16 honored players will start the game and play at least three innings, unless injured or sick.

Stengel and Durocher, who automatically became rival All - Star managers when they led the Yankees and Giants to 1951 pennants, will round out their 25-player squads with their own pick of pitchers and replacements for the 16 starters.

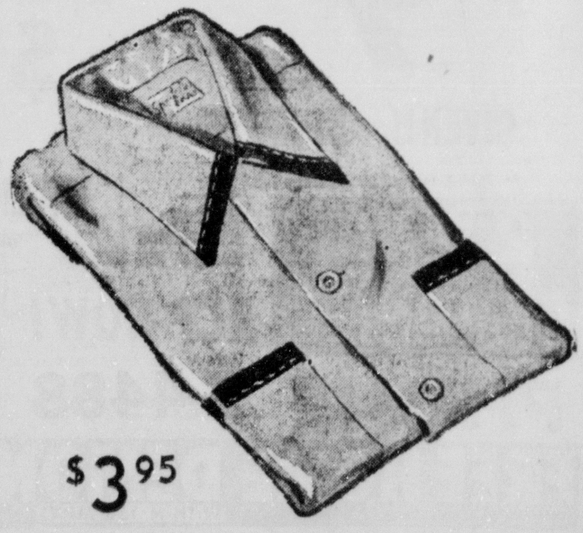

The complete National roster will be announced Monday and the American League roster on Tuesday.

Boston's Di Maggio finished second to Musial in the individual vote - getting with 1,279,818 for the American League center field job. Brooklyn's Robinson was third with 1,266,398, followed by Berra with 1,252,791, and Sauer with 1,241,094.

SHANTZ BLANKS WORLD CHAMPS WITH TWO HITS

Athletics Triumph, 12 To 0; Nats Jump To 2nd Place

NEW YORK, June 28 (AP)— Bobby Shantz, the mighty mite of the Philadelphia Athletics, breezed to his 13th victory of the season today as the A's humiliated the World Champion New York Yankees, 12-0.

Shantz permitted only two safeties and also participated in the 14-hit assault against Johnny Sain and Tom Morgan, driving in two runs on a single, double and squeeze bunt.

Gus Zernial was the big man for the A's, batting in five runs on his 11th and 12th homers of the season. Zernial connected with one aboard in the first inning and climaxed a six-run second inning uprising with a three-run homer.

Shantz held the Yanks hitless until the fifth when Mickey Mantle singled. Bob Cerv doubled with two out in the sixth for the Yanks' other safety. The shutout was the second of theseason for the little lefthander and also the third suffered by the Yanks.

Shantz, in becoming the first pitcher to beat the Yanks three times this season, has permitted the Bombers only four earned runs in 38 innings.

SENATORS CLIMB

BOSTON, June 28 (AP)—Discarded by the Boston Red Sox about two weeks ago, veteran Walt Masterson avenged himself against his former teammates today by turning in a five-hit pitching performance that gave the Washington Senators their fifth straight victory, 5-1.

It also enabled the Senators to take over second place from the Red Sox, who dropped down to fourth.

Gar Rodeo Off To Fast Start; Event Will Continue Through Next Sunday

McQuiston Catches 11 Weighing 456 Pounds First Day

The big Gar Rodeo is off to a fast start as sportsmen and commercial fishermen, competing in separate classes, shoot for some of the valuable prizes being offered by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe and the Ouachita Wildlife unit, co-sponsors, for the fishing tournament that lasts through next Sunday evening at 6 o'clock.

The rodeo got underway Friday morning with L. R. McQuiston setting the early pace as he recorded a first-day haul of eleven gar weighing a total of 456 pounds and the largest weighing in at 102 pounds.

The official weigh-in station for the sporting class is at Bayles' Fish Market, West Monroe, which will remain open today solely for the purpose of handling entries. Bayles has the necessary entry blanks recording number of fish caught in a single day, weight of largest fish, the information that will be used by the wildlife unit and the Jaycees to determine the winners of their awards. Bayles is reminding contenders to keep their catch fresh (either alive or dead) if held for any period before weighing-in.

Royal Feed and Seed Store of Monroe is the official entry station for the commercial class.

Free bait for contending fishermen has been obtained by J. B. Thoman, president of the wildlife unit, and such bait may be obtained for the asking at Thoman's Garage, 606 Hall street, or at Gene's Sporting Goods at Howard Griffin's on South Grand street.

As has been previously announced, there is no admission or registration fee for entering the contest. All persons are eligible to compete in the rodeo designed to rid Ouachita parish fishing waters of as many gar as possible.

Fish may be taken by any methods within the law. Fishermen are not allowed to shoot or take gar by nets, but they may be caught by jug fishing, deep sea outfits, trot lines, casting rods, etc.

Through next Saturday the gar may be taken from any waters in Ouachita parish for official entry. But only fish taken from the Ouachita river next Sunday, the final day, will be eligible, and "headquarters" for the rodeo next Sunday will be set up at Howard Griffin's boat dock.

O'NEILL HANDLES REINS FOR PHILS

Predicts No Immediate Changes For Cellarites

PHILADELPHIA, June 28. (AP)—Jovial Steve O'Neill —"a little excited by it all" — today took over as manager of the National League's Philadelphia Phillies with a promise that "everything's going to look the same around here for a little while anyway."

O'Neill replaced genial (and also jovial) Eddie Sawyer who was "moved up" as assistant to Phil Owner Bob Carpenter "for the good of the club."

The 61 - year - old O'Neill met newsmen and photographers at specially - called conference in Shibe Park and said quite frankly:

1. He wouldn't change the Phil starting lineup, even going along with Sawyer's choice of Robin Roberts to pitch against New York tonight.

2. He was going to keep the present coaching staff — benny Bengough, Cy Perkins and Dusty Cooke —,"at least for the present"

3. He was going to wear Sawyer's uniform "because that's the were weak at hitting the long ball. only one around that will fit me." (O'Neill and Sawyer, heavily - girthed, are well over the 200 - pound mark).

4. He thought the Phils' had the best pitching staff in the majors, one of the better defenses but

O'Neill's appointment, announced suddenly last night in a pre - midnight conference in Carpenter's Shibe Park office after the Phils' blanked the Giants 6-0, was a major surprise.

Not so Sawyer's resignation. This had been rumored for months after the Phils collapsed last season after copping the National League pennant in 1950. Always Carpenter denied the rumors.

Carpenter wouldn't confirm or deny but apparently Sawyer's jig was up before gametime last night. Newsmen were advised at the end of the sixth inning that there was going to be an important conference after the game.

That was when Sawyer said: "I resigned for the good of the club. Perhaps I can do more for the Phillies in this new job."

Carpenter said he didn't make up his mind until yesterday though he and Sawyer had been "kicking this thing around for a long time."

O'Neill said the first inkling of the new job came from Joe Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox, for whom the new Phil pilot worked — until last night — as a scout and coach.

"Cronin telephoned me Thursday night at Louisville," O'Neill said, "and told me that Carpenter was interested in me. He said it was up to me what I wanted to do."

O'Neill hasn't officially signed his contract, which extends to the end of the 1953 season, but he posed with his new boss while the two inked a make - believe pact.

AUSTRALIAN KIDS STUN AMERICANS

Aussie 17-Year-Olds Upset Favored Mulloy, Savitt

WIMBLEDON, England, June 28 (AP)— A team of teen-agers from Australia crushed Gardnar Mulloy and Dick Savitt, America's top doubles combination, today in the biggest upset of the All-England Tennis Tournament.

Lewis Hoad and Ken Rosewall, both 17 years old — their ages don't add up to Mulloy's 38 years —took everything the Americans could offer, and went on to win the third round match, 6-4, 8-6, 1-6, 3-6, 7-5.

The youngsters' triumph underscored Australia's world supremacy in doubles. Earlier, the ace Aussie team of Frank Sedgman and Kem McGregor, champions of virtually everywhere, knocked out the only other American team in the tournament — Herb Flam and Art Larsen — 6-0, 3-6, 6-4, 10-8.

These two matches, played in 92-degree heat, stole the spotlight from the women, who filled out their quarter-final bracket. Four, including Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Shirley Fry of Akron, O., gained the round.

Miss Brough, many times the winner of this tournament, beat Mrs. Nelly Adamson of France, 1-6, 6-1, 6-2, and Miss Fry whipped Michele Bourbonnais of France, 6-4, 6-0. They were joined by Jean Walker - Smith of England, who stopped Georgie Woodgate of England, 6-1, 6-1, and Mrs. Jean Rinkel-Quertier of England who eliminated Mrs. Peggy Dawson Scott of England, 6-1, 6-2.

Olcott-Stone vs. Lennon Motors, 4:30 p. m.

Palace moved into undisputed first place in the Little League yesterday with a 10-6 victory over Olcott-Stone, as Lennion Motors upset United Gas, 8-3.

Three Olcott - Stone hurlers, Sparks, Britt and Stovall, limited Palace to only four hits — one a homer by Reagan — but went down to defeat. Murphy and Snipes were the winning battery, Lowery caught for the losers.

United Gas was handed their second defeat of the week by Lennon Motors. Genuss, with three hits, and Fields and Crowe with two safeties each, led the Lennon hit parade. Winning battery was Carter and Fields, losing battery, Cage and Lawson.

In the other game played yesterday, KNOE blasted Reed Refrigeration 17-8. Perkins of Reed Refrigeration slammed his fifth and sixth homers of the season, but the power - hitting Kinceid, S. Harper and J. Harper proved too much for Reeds. Boyd and S. Harper were the winning battery, House and Henry the losers.

United Gas will be playing Palace Tuesday and will have a chance to tie up the lead, forcing a playoff to see who will be winner of the first half of the season.

3-2 WIN HALTS REDS' 5-GAME LOSING STREAK

Muisal Continues Hitting Streak As Cards Triumph

CINCINNATI, June 28 (AP)— The Cincinnati Reds, virtually helpless against the pitching of Bob Rush for eight innings, pushed across two runs in the last of the ninth today for a 3 to 2 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The victory ended a five-game Cincinnati losing streak.

Rush had held the Reds to three widely scattered hits until the ninth and except for an error and his own wild pitch might have had a shutout going into that frame.

Three Cincinnati hits, an intentional walk and another lapse in the Cub defense brought the Redleg victory, however, with Andy Seminick smashing a two-out single off the left field wall to drive in the winning run.

CARDS NIP BUCS

PITTSBURGH, June 28 (AP)— Stan Musial blasted a triple to run his consecutive hitting streak to 24 games and Solly Hemus smashed his eighth home run as the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 today.

Pitcher Johnny Yuhas, who relieved Joe Presko in the seventh inning, won his second victory in as many days. Last night he went to the mound in the fifth and was credited with the Cards' 6-4 win over the Bucs. His record now is 5-2.

Little Murry Dickson, who shut out the Cards for six innings, was charged with his 11th loss against five triumphs.

Athletics Triumph, 12 To 0; Nats Jump To 2nd Place

NEW YORK, June 28 (AP)— Bobby Shantz, the mighty mite of the Philadelphia Athletics, breezed to his 13th victory of the season today as the A's humiliated the World Champion New York Yankees, 12-0.

Shantz permitted only two safeties and also participated in the 14-hit assault against Johnny Sain and Tom Morgan, driving in two runs on a single, double and squeeze bunt.

Gus Zernial was the big man for the A's, batting in five runs on his 11th and 12th homers of the season. Zernial connected with one aboard in the first inning and climaxed a six-run second inning uprising with a three-run homer.

Shantz held the Yanks hitless until the fifth when Mickey Mantle singled. Bob Cerv doubled with two out in the sixth for the Yanks' other safety. The shutout was the second of theseason for the little lefthander and also the third suffered by the Yanks.

Shantz, in becoming the first pitcher to beat the Yanks three times this season, has permitted the Bombers only four earned runs in 38 innings.

Gar Rodeo Off To Fast Start; Event Will Continue Through Next Sunday

McQuiston Catches 11 Weighing 456 Pounds First Day

The big Gar Rodeo is off to a fast start as sportsmen and commercial fishermen, competing in separate classes, shoot for some of the valuable prizes being offered by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe and the Ouachita Wildlife unit, co-sponsors, for the fishing tournament that lasts through next Sunday evening at 6 o'clock.

The rodeo got underway Friday morning with L. R. McQuiston setting the early pace as he recorded a first-day haul of eleven gar weighing a total of 456 pounds and the largest weighing in at 102 pounds.

The official weigh-in station for the sporting class is at Bayles' Fish Market, West Monroe, which will remain open today solely for the purpose of handling entries. Bayles has the necessary entry blanks recording number of fish caught in a single day, weight of largest fish, the information that will be used by the wildlife unit and the Jaycees to determine the winners of their awards. Bayles is reminding contenders to keep their catch fresh (either alive or dead) if held for any period before weighing-in.

Royal Feed and Seed Store of Monroe is the official entry station for the commercial class.

Free bait for contending fishermen has been obtained by J. B. Thoman, president of the wildlife unit, and such bait may be obtained for the asking at Thoman's Garage, 606 Hall street, or at Gene's Sporting Goods at Howard Griffin's on South Grand street.

As has been previously announced, there is no admission or registration fee for entering the contest. All persons are eligible to compete in the rodeo designed to rid Ouachita parish fishing waters of as many gar as possible.

Fish may be taken by any methods within the law. Fishermen are not allowed to shoot or take gar by nets, but they may be caught by jug fishing, deep sea outfits, trot lines, casting rods, etc.

Through next Saturday the gar may be taken from any waters in Ouachita parish for official entry. But only fish taken from the Ouachita river next Sunday, the final day, will be eligible, and "headquarters" for the rodeo next Sunday will be set up at Howard Griffin's boat dock.

O'NEILL HANDLES REINS FOR PHILS

Predicts No Immediate Changes For Cellarites

PHILADELPHIA, June 28. (AP)— Jovial Steve O'Neill —"a little excited by it all" — today took over as manager of the National League's Philadelphia Phillies with a promise that "everything's going to look the same around here for a little while anyway."

O'Neill replaced genial (and also jovial) Eddie Sawyer who was "moved up" as assistant to Phil Owner Bob Carpenter "for the good of the club."

The 61 - year - old O'Neill met newsmen and photographers at specially - called conference in Shibe Park and said quite frankly:

1. He wouldn't change the Phil starting lineup, even going along with Sawyer's choice of Robin Roberts to pitch against New York tonight.

2. He was going to keep the present coaching staff — benny Bengough, Cy Perkins and Dusty Cooke —,"at least for the present"

3. He was going to wear Sawyer's uniform "because that's the were weak at hitting the long ball. only one around that will fit me." (O'Neill and Sawyer, heavily - girthed, are well over the 200 - pound mark).

4. He thought the Phils' had the best pitching staff in the majors, one of the better defenses but

O'Neill's appointment, announced suddenly last night in a pre - midnight conference in Carpenter's Shibe Park office after the Phils' blanked the Giants 6-0, was a major surprise.

Not so Sawyer's resignation. This had been rumored for months after the Phils collapsed last season after copping the National League pennant in 1950. Always Carpenter denied the rumors.

Carpenter wouldn't confirm or deny but apparently Sawyer's jig was up before gametime last night. Newsmen were advised at the end of the sixth inning that there was going to be an important conference after the game.

That was when Sawyer said: "I resigned for the good of the club. Perhaps I can do more for the Phillies in this new job."

Carpenter said he didn't make up his mind until yesterday though he and Sawyer had been "kicking this thing around for a long time."

O'Neill said the first inkling of the new job came from Joe Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox, for whom the new Phil pilot worked — until last night — as a scout and coach.

"Cronin telephoned me Thursday night at Louisville,' O'Neill said, "and told me that Carpenter was interested in me. He said it was up to me what I wanted to do."

O'Neill hasn't officially signed his contract, which extends to the end of the 1953 season, but he posed with his new boss while the two inked a make - believe pact.

AUSTRALIAN KIDS STUN AMERICANS

Aussie 17-Year-Olds Upset Favored Mulloy, Savitt

WIMBLEDON, England, June 28 (AP)— A team of teen-agers from Australia crushed Gardnar Mulloy and Dick Savitt, America's top doubles combination, today in the biggest upset of the All-England Tennis Tournament.

Lewis Hoad and Ken Rosewall, both 17 years old — their ages don't add up to Mulloy's 38 years —took everything the Americans could offer, and went on to win the third round match, 6-4, 8-6, 1-6, 3-6, 7-5.

The youngsters' triumph underscored Australia's world supremacy in doubles. Earlier, the ace Aussie team of Frank Sedgman and Kem McGregor, champions of virtually everywhere, knocked out the only other American team in the tournament — Herb Flam and Art Larsen — 6-0, 3-6, 6-4, 10-8.

These two matches, played in 92-degree heat, stole the spotlight from the women, who filled out their quarter-final bracket. Four, including Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Shirley Fry of Akron, O., gained the round.

Miss Brough, many times the winner of this tournament, beat Mrs. Nelly Adamson of France, 1-6, 6-1, 6-2, and Miss Fry whipped Michele Bourbonnais of France, 6-4, 6-0. They were joined by Jean Walker - Smith of England, who stopped Georgie Woodgate of England, 6-1, 6-1, and Mrs. Jean Rinkel-Quertier of England who eliminated Mrs. Peggy Dawson Scott of England, 6-1, 6-2.

Palace moved into undisputed first place in the Little League yesterday with a 10-6 victory over Olcott-Stone, as Lennion Motors upset United Gas, 8-3.

Three Olcott - Stone hurlers, Sparks, Britt and Stovall, limited Palace to only four hits — one a homer by Reagan — but went down to defeat. Murphy and Snipes were the winning battery, Lowery caught for the losers.

United Gas was handed their second defeat of the week by Lennon Motors. Genusa, with three hits, and Fields and Crowe with two safeties each, led the Lennon hit parade. Winning battery was Carter and Fields, losing battery, Cage and Lawson.

In the other game played yesterday, KNOE blasted Reed Refrigeration 17-8. Perkins of Reed Refrigeration slammed his fifth and sixth homers of the season, but the power - hitting Kincaid, S. Harper and J. Harper proved too much for Reeds. Boyd and S. Harper were the winning battery, House and Henry the losers.

United Gas will be playing Palace Tuesday and will have a chance to tie up the lead, forcing a playoff to see who will be winner of the first half of the season.

3-2 WIN HALTS REDS' 5-GAME LOSING STREAK

Muisal Continues Hitting Streak As Cards Triumph

CINCINNATI, June 28 (AP)— The Cincinnati Reds, virtually helpless against the pitching of Bob Rush for eight innings, pushed across two runs in the last of the ninth today for a 3 to 2 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The victory ended a five-game Cincinnati losing streak.

Rush had held the Reds to three widely scattered hits until the ninth and except for an error and his own wild pitch might have had a shutout going into that frame.

Three Cincinnati hits, an intentional walk and another lapse in the Cub defense brought the Redleg victory, however, with Andy Seminick smashing a two-out single off the left field wall to drive in the winning run.

Sledge Returning To Join Mobley In Relay Scrap With Scott, Kelly

Daehn Actual Runner-Up To Tidwell In Hitting Race

One of the foremost bone-twisters in the wrestling ranks will make his second appearance Tuesday night at Gus Kallio's Arena. Bill Sledge, who will wrestle Rex Mobley, state light heavyweight champion, is noted for his clean wrestling.

Main event for the evening will be a 90-minute time limit tag team match with two falls to win between performers Sledge and Mobley and "Mighty" Scott from Scotland and his partner Jack Kelly from Belville, Ill.

Sledge, a native Texan, was a physical education mapor at Rice Institute where he was a letterman in football, basketball and track.

In 1931, he left college to join the army air corps and was stationed at Barksdale Field. After he was mustered out of service, he enrolled in the army flying school at Randolph Field, Tex.

Soon Sledge left the school and through the use of the flying tackle bcame the reigning mat sensation. He has won 90 per cent of the matches and is best known for his use of the flying tackles, drop kicks and hammerlocks.

Promoter Kallio and Commissioner David Silverstein said that henceforth there will be two judges in all matches. "This guarantees the wrestlers and fans that any rough wrestler is not going to win on foul tactics."

Tuesday night, Commissioner Silverstein will appoint judges and after the match, the referee and the two judges will decide which team won the match.

Kallio announced that ringside seats will now be cooler since he has rearranged the seats.

CARDS NIP BUCS

PITTSBURGH, June 28 (AP)— Stan Musial blasted a triple to run his consecutive hitting streak to 24 games and Solly Hemus smashed his eighth home run as the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 today.

Pitcher Johnny Yuhas, who relieved Joe Presko in the seventh inning, won his second victory in as many days. Last night he went to the mound in the fifth and was credited with the Cards' 6-4 win over the Bucs. His record now is 5-2.

Little Murry Dickson, who shut out the Cards for six innings, was charged with his 11th loss against five triumphs.

Date Of Layne, Charles Scrap Reset For Aug. 8

OGDEN, Utah, June 22 (AP)—The date for the Rex Layne - Ezzard Charles fight has been changed from Aug. 6 to Aug. 8, fight Promoter Jack Hurley said today.

The bout, which would give the winner a crack at the heavyweight championship now held by Jersey Joe Walcott, was originally scheduled for Aug. 6 but was postponed when the auditorium was not completed in time.

Five Newcomers To Cotton States Are Threat To Batting Leadership

Two Judges Will Aid Referee In Deciding Mat Winners

BY J. P. FRIEND

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., June 28. (Special)—More potential threats to the Cotton States League batting lead, currently held by Greenwood's John Tidwell, appear in the making.

Five newcomers boast better averages than the Dodger outfielder, while another has the same record, .344, all of which may enliven future activity and interest in the second half of the race.

Official records of the Friend News Service list Tidwell with three specialized leaderships, along with his highwater mace mark. He has the most doubles, 19; most total bases, 125, and most runs batted in, 57. His plate record is 75 hits in 218 times at bat, based on the games of Tuesday night.

Don Petchow and Al Moore, both of Greenville, have .378 and .375 in 10 and 11 games, respectively. Hot Springs' Ed Jacobson, is clicking at .353 in 18 contests. In 14 outings Bob Churchill, also of Greenville, posted .351. Since joining Meridian, Hugh Glaze has .348 in 25 games, while Don Allen, new Natchez first baseman, has .344 in 31 games, as compared to Tidwell's 57. Allen has been to bat 125 times with 43 connections. Ray Perry, new El Dorado pilot, has .342 in 22 games, a 33 - point drop during the week.

Nels Daehn, Monroe, is the actual runner-up to Tidwell with .336, a gain of a point. Troy Mitchell, Natchez manager, comes next with a .326, a drop of 12. Ken Cluley, Meridian, has .325 in 20 games.

Fourth spot belongs to Johnny (Tex) Jones, Monroe's slugging first baseman, who leads in hits, 83, and triples, nine, while clouting .319, down from .328. George Ruzina, Natchez, also took a tumble to .313, but has a two - point margin over Jess Van Winkle, Monroe, for No. 5. Gene Harvey, returning to regular action as the Natchez second baseman, climbed back into the select .300 circle at .308 for seventh ranking tie with Felix Gomez, Hot Springs. Nick Siemasz, Greenwood, completes the ultra - swatting list with an even .300. Hillis Layne, Pine Bluff bossman, just missed with .299.

Gene Pompella, Meridian, is the No. 1 scorer with 56 tallies. Bill Carr, Natchez speedster, swiped four bags, June 23, and took the leads in thieving with 20. Marty Devlin, Greenwood, is back with 16. Dolf Regelsky, Meridian, and Roxie Humberson, El Dorado, have seven homers apiece to lead a slow slugging race.

Meridian's brilliant Bobby Harrison wrote two records into the loop annals last week. By winning three games, two June 18, the Newton, Miss., star extended his sensational winning skein to 14 straight victories without defeat, wiping out the old marks of Jake Hirsch, who won 12 and lost none during the 1912 season, and Art Hamilton, who racked up 13 in succession for Hot Springs in 1948. His ERA record is 1.75 in 118 1-3 frames. Jim Hogan, Hot Springs lefty, fell from the unbeaten ranks, June 24, after nine straight wins. John Miskulin, Natchez, has won 11 and lost five, while three others joined the 10-game winning list: Darvin Chrisco, Monroe, 10-2; Joe Kopach, Meridian, 10-3, and John Forizs, Greenwood, 10-4. Laverne Schneider, Pine Bluff, and Ottis Jacobs, Monroe, haven't quite made the grade with 9-5 apiece. Forizs has a substantial lead over teammate Danny Mc - Devitt in strikeouts, 136-108.

KOSHOREK RETURNS

PITTSBURGH, June 28 (AP)—Little Clem Koshorek, rookie shortstop who had been out of the Pittsburgh Pirates lineup for a month with an injured left foot, returned to action today against the St. Louis Cardinals. Manager Billy Meyer started Koshorek at second, keeping another rookie, Dick Groat, at short.

BILL BENCH SHOW FOR HOUNDS HERE

Ouachita Hunters To Show Dogs Next Friday Night

The Ouachita Parish Hunters Association will sponsor a bench show for hounds at the Ouachita Valley Fair grounds in West Monroe next Friday night at 8 o'clock, it was announced yesterday by George Knight, an official of the association and owner of the Fondale Foxhound Kennels.

"Coon, fox and rabbit hounds will be shown and judged separately," Knight said, "and trophies and ribbons will be awarded winners in each type of hound class."

A trophy will be awarted to the best hound in the show.

Knight said any hounds that have already been judged "grand champion" in other shows will not contend at the Fourth of July event, but such hounds will be shown strictly as exhibitionists.

'We are extending a general invitation to the public to enter their hounds in the show, and we expect to be able to present just about every type of hunting hound in making this bench show a popular event for sportsmen of this area," Knight declared.

TRACK DOUBLING TWO BIG PURSES

Fair Grounds Offering Bigger Stakes Next Season

NEW ORLEANS, June 28 (AP)—The New Orleans Handicap to be run next March will be worth $50,000, a 100 per cent increase over the $25,000 stake this year.

The increase was among a number announced today by the Fair Grounds Racing Corporation.

The Louisiana Derby, second highest purse offered by the Fair Grounds will be boosted from $20,000 to $40,000.

Anthony Pelleteri, executive season at the Fair Grounds would offer the greatest value in the track's 77-year history.

Track officials announced recently they planned to ask the Louisiana racing commision for an 82-day season beginning Thanksgiving Day. Last season ran 81 days.

The A. B. Letellier Memorial Handicap has been increased from $10,000 to $15,000, but the Louisiana Handicap and the Lecompte Handicap will remain at $10,000.

Opening day feature, the Thanksgiving Handicap, has been raised from $5,000 to $7,500 and Pelleteri also named 23 other handicaps at $5,000 each.

The minimum purse for any race, he said, will be $1,500 — the highest in local racing history. Daily purses will be graded as in the past with better purses for better horses.

The higher purses came as a result of action by the Louisiana legislature allotting the track two per cent additional revenue on the first $30,000 of daily mutuel play.

Pelleteri said the Fair Grounds is following a policy set down by the corporation in passing increased revenue along to horsemen in larger purses.

Several weeks before the close of the last season the minimum purse had been raised to $1,300 and several $5,000 events were added.

Racing will be conducted on a five-day week basis with four exceptions — which will include Monday racing on the Mondays before Christmas, New Year's Day and Mardi Gras and the Monday following Washington's birthday.

PENNANT CHANCES GOOD

RUSTON, La., June 28 — (Special)— After two rounds of play, the Minden Redbirds are out in front in the Big Eight, but only by one game as the Ruston Ramblers are right on their heels.

With the possible exception of Sterlington, all the teams have an excellent chance to win the pennant and none of the teams have any excuses to make for not getting into the Shaughnessey Playoff.

Dubach, the seventh place club, is only a game and a half behind Homer and Farmerville, who are tied for fourth place. Last week's play featured a Dubach victory over Bernice and Bastrop's win over Ruston.

Farmerville has taken on new life with the addition of Crone to its pitching staff. Homer is now minus their star pitcher, Benny McArdle, who is in ROTC summer camp.

The Big Eight managers will meet Wednesday in order to select the players for the All-Star Big Eight game, which will be played this year at Minden. This game is scheduled to be played on the night of July 7.

Stewart Meets Perry For Title

EVANSTON, Ill., June 28. (AP)—The two top - seeded stars, Hugh Stewart of Southern California and Bob Perry of U. C. L. A., today moved victoriously through the semi - final round of the N. C. A. A. tennis tourney and into a title showdown tomorrow.

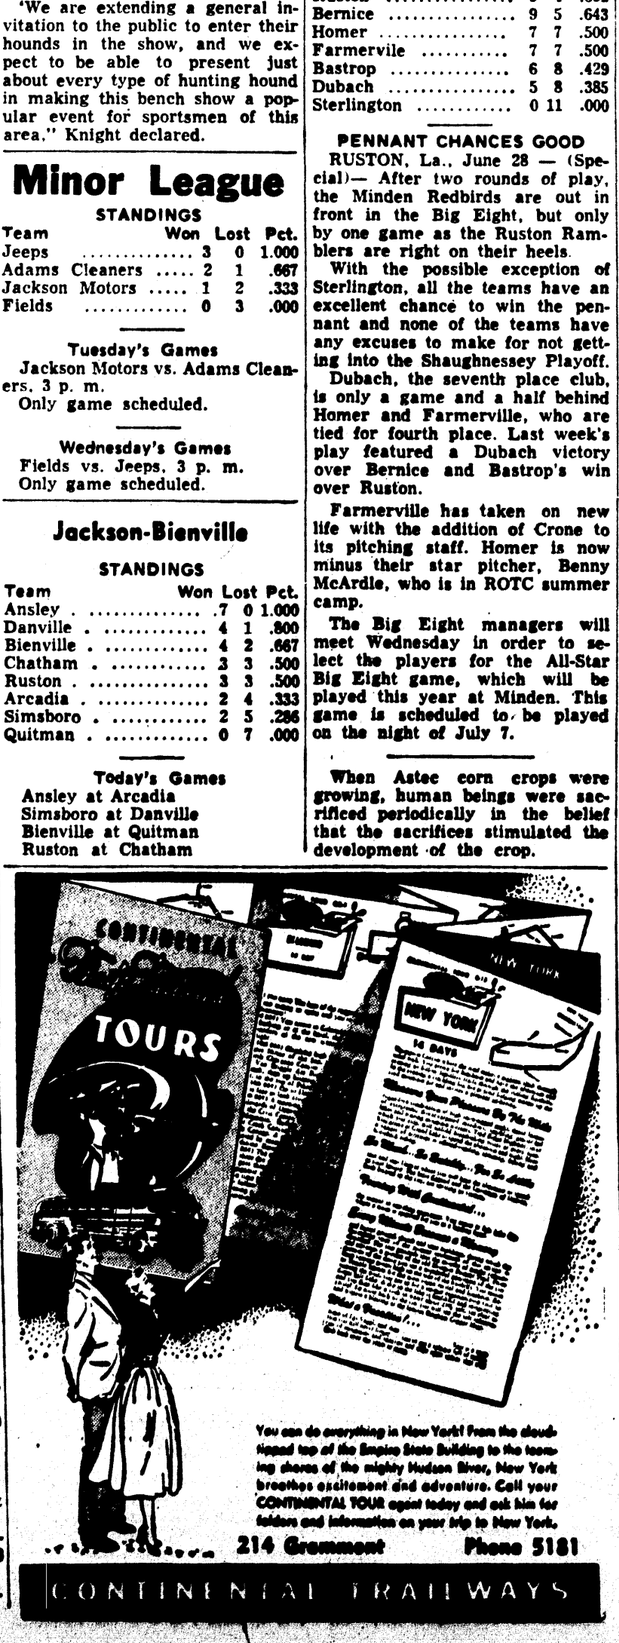

No. 1 seeded Stewart turned back sixth - seeded Larry Huebner of U. C. L. A., 6-4, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2, while Perry bested Tennessee's unseeded Bill Davis, 4-6, 6-4, 6-0, 6-4.

The semi - final winners simply had too much stamina for their foes on the sun - broiled Northwestern University courts.

Perry had some trouble quelling Davis, one of the tourney's surprises. Davis broke a 4-4 deadlock in the opening set to win 6-4. The Tennessean rallied after trailing 5-1 in the second set, but at 5-4, Perry held his service to win.

Perry's powerful forehand began to click and he swept the third set 6-0 and had a string of 10 games before Davis finally won a game in the closing set.

Huebner tied the first set against Stewart at 4-4 before bowing 6-4. The U. C. L. A. player was in charge of the second set for a 6-2 win, but Stewart began pin - pointing his drives to take the next two and the match.

BILL BENCH SHOW FOR HOUNDS HERE

Ouachita Hunters To Show Dogs Next Friday Night

The Ouachita Parish Hunters Association will sponsor a bench show for hounds at the Ouachita Valley Fair grounds in West Monroe next Friday night at 8 o'clock, it was announced yesterday by George Knight, an official of the association and owner of the Fondale Foxhound Kennels.

"Coon, fox and rabbit hounds will be shown and judged separately," Knight said, "and trophies and ribbons will be awarded winners in each type of hound class."

A trophy will be awarted to the best hound in the show.

Knight said any hounds that have already been judged "grand champion" in other shows will not contend at the Fourth of July event, but such hounds will be shown strictly as exhibitionists.

'We are extending a general invitation to the public to enter their hounds in the show, and we expect to be able to present just about every type of hunting hound in making this bench show a popular event for sportsmen of this area," Knight declared.

TRACK DOUBLING TWO BIG PURSES

Fair Grounds Offering Bigger Stakes Next Season

NEW ORLEANS, June 28 (AP)—The New Orleans Handicap to be run next March will be worth $50,000, a 100 per cent increase over the $25,000 stake this year.

The increase was among a number announced today by the Fair Grounds Racing Corporation.

The Louisiana Derby, second highest purse offered by the Fair Grounds will be boosted from $20,000 to $40,000.

Anthony Pelleteri, executive season at the Fair Grounds would offer the greatest value in the track's 77-year history.

Track officials announced recently they planned to ask the Louisiana racing commision for an 82-day season beginning Thanksgiving Day. Last season ran 81 days.

The A. B. Letellier Memorial Handicap has been increased from $10,000 to $15,000, but the Louisiana Handicap and the Lecompte Handicap will remain at $10,000.

Opening day feature, the Thanksgiving Handicap, has been raised from $5,000 to $7,500 and Pelleteri also named 23 other handicaps at $5,000 each.

The minimum purse for any race, he said, will be $1,500 — the highest in local racing history. Daily purses will be graded as in the past with better purses for better horses.

The higher purses came as a result of action by the Louisiana legislature allotting the track two per cent additional revenue on the first $30,000 of daily mutuel play.

Pelleteri said the Fair Grounds is following a policy set down by the corporation in passing increased revenue along to horsemen in larger purses.

Several weeks before the close of the last season the minimum purse had been raised to $1,300 and several $5,000 events were added.

Racing will be conducted on a five-day week basis with four exceptions — which will include Monday racing on the Mondays before Christmas, New Year's Day and Mardi Gras and the Monday following Washington's birthday.

PENNANT CHANCES GOOD

RUSTON, La., June 28 — (Special)— After two rounds of play, the Minden Redbirds are out in front in the Big Eight, but only by one game as the Ruston Ramblers are right on their heels.

With the possible exception of Sterlington, all the teams have an excellent chance to win the pennant and none of the teams have any excuses to make for not getting into the Shaughnessey Playoff.

Dubach, the seventh place club, is only a game and a half behind Homer and Farmerville, who are tied for fourth place. Last week's play featured a Dubach victory over Bernice and Bastrop's win over Ruston.

Farmerville has taken on new life with the addition of Crone to its pitching staff. Homer is now minus their star pitcher, Benny McArdle, who is in ROTC summer camp.

The Big Eight managers will meet Wednesday in order to select the players for the All-Star Big Eight game, which will be played this year at Minden. This game is scheduled to be played on the night of July 7.

Stewart Meets Perry For Title

EVANSTON, Ill., June 28. (AP)—The two top - seeded stars, Hugh Stewart of Southern California and Bob Perry of U. C. L. A., today moved victoriously through the semi - final round of the N. C. A. A tennis tourney and into a title showdown tomorrow.

No. 1 seeded Stewart turned back sixth - seeded Larry Huebner of U. C. L. A., 6-4, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2, while Perry bested Tennessee's unseeded Bill Davis, 4-6, 6-4, 6-0, 6-4.

The semi - final winners simply had too much stamina for their foes on the sun - broiled Northwestern University courts.

Perry had some trouble quelling Davis, one of the tourney's surprises. Davis broke a 4-4 deadlock in the opening set to win 6-4. The Tennessean rallied after trailing 5-1 in the second set, but at 5-4, Perry held his service to win.

Perry's powerful forehand began to click and he swept the third set 6-0 and had a string of 10 games before Davis finally won a game in the closing set.

Huebner tied the first set against Stewart at 4-4 before bowing 6-4. The U. C. L. A. player was in charge of the second set for a 6-2 win, but Stewart began pin - pointing his drives to take the next two and the match.

State Dept. Apologizes To Lattimore; Revokes Order Barring Him From Travel

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—The State Department apologized publicly to Owen Lattimore today and revoked the order barring the Far Eastern affairs specialist from leaving the country.

In a formal statement the department described as false a tip if received to the effect that Lattimore was planning a trip behind the Iron Curtain. It was on the basis of this tip that the department directed customs officials to stop the Johns Hopkins professor from leaving the United States.

"The Department of State," today's statement said, "expressed to Mr. Lattimore its sincere regret over the embarrassment caused him."

Lattimore expressed appreciation for the State Department's action but said assurances should be forthcoming that such a "monstrous and un-American injustice cannot happen again."

He issued a statement expressing the hope "that this fantastic case will make clear to the American people what I know from long and bitter experience; namely, that there are both amateurs and professionals at work in our country blasting the reputation of innocent people and undermining our Democratic values.

"They are today's lynch mob, operating on a grand scale supported and inspired by highly placed officials."

The public apology by the State Department was supplemented by a personal letter to Lattimore from Acting Secretary of State David Bruce, which the department did not make public.

It followed the indictment by a federal grand jury at Seattle yesterday of Harry A. Jarvinen, 32-year-old travel agency executive, on a charge that he gave a baseless tip to the FBI and the Central Intelligence Agency that Lattimore had arranged to buy tickets for a trip to Russia.

When issuance of the supposedly confidential State Department order was disclosed by the Baltimore Sun on June 20, and then officially confirmed, Lattimore denied categorically that he ever intended to make such a trip.

He is a professor at Johns Hopkins University and has sometimes been a consultant to the State Department. He has been a frequent target of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wisc) in the senator's charges of communist influence in government. Lattimore has vigorously denied the senator's assertions that he has been a Communist agent. He says he has never had any Red connections.

While an investigation was being made into the validity of the report, the department on June 6 had asked the Customs Service to direct its port officials to make sure Lattimore did not leave the country.

Any trip he made abroad would have been illegal as his passport had expired. Also special authority is required for any U. S. citizen to go to the Soviet Union or any of the Communist satellite countries.

The State Department, whose action in the case has been subject to criticism in Congress and the press, stressed today that it acted on the basis of a report from an "official security source." It said that it followed violation of laws or of government regulations for controlling the travel abroad of American citizens.

"The thorough investigation of the charges concerning Mr. Lattimore requested by the department has now been completed," the announcement said.

"The FBI has notified the department that the original informant has admitted that the story he had furnished concerning Lattimore's alleged travel abroad was a complete fabrication.

"Proceedings were instituted which resulted yesterday in the indictment by a federal grand jury of the individual who initiated the false report.

"Accordingly, the department has revoked its confidential stop-order against Mr. Lattimore . . . ."

The action had the effect of restoring Lattimore to the status of any other American citizen as far as passport regulations are concerned.

Taft, Eisenhower Camps Exchange Verbal Shots

CHICAGO, June 28 (AP)—The campaign managers of Senator Taft and General Eisenhower fired new verbal blasts today in the hot GOP presidential nomination fight.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, director of Eisenhower's campaign, issued a statement saying, "Taft and his advisors are resorting to desperate last-minute political tricks to thwart the will of the rank and file of the Republican party."

David S. Ingalls, campaign manager for Taft, also using a prepared statement, charged Lodge's "announcement that, contrary to previous statements, Eisenhower is being sent to Chicago emphasizes the inconsistency of the general's whole demeanor in the 1952 presidential campaign."

With scarcely more than a week left before the Republican convention opens July 7, the forces of the two leading candidates shifted their operations to headquarters only two floors apart in the convention headquarters hotel, the Conrad Hilton.

The Ohio senator plans to come to Chicago Sunday (tomorrow) night to be close to the final week's campaign activities. His aides said Taft probably will go home for Independence Day, July 4, and return to Chicago July 5 with his wife and family to remain until the convention ends.

Eisenhower's move from his present Denver headquarters to Chicago will not be made until July 5. Lodge said the general's shift to Chicago will be made "for the purpose of making himself available to convention delegates."

A Sunday afternoon reception for Eisenhower and his wife on July 6, the eve of the convention, has been billed as wide open to delegates, alternates, national committeemen and state chairmen from all of the states and territories.

In criticizing Eisenhower's conduct, Ingalls said the general has rejected earlier stands that professional soldiers should abstain from seeking high political office. Ingalls said Eisenhower had, at one time, let it be known that he did not intend to make speeches or campaign tours, engage in personalities or political arguments, or appear at the convention.

Ingalls said delegates might ask "whether responsible leadership would flow from a candidate who can be led to such radical shifts in position in a period of only six months."

Lodge said the Vermont national committeeman, James F. Dewey, has given his proxy on the committee to Claude Farr, a defeated Taft candidate for convention delegate, in Rhode Island. Lodge said Felix Herbert, the defeated national committeeman, has given his proxy to Stephen Wilson, Taft's Rhode Island manager and a defeated candidate for delegate.

Neither Edward Janeway, the Eisenhower candidate for national committeeman in Vermont, nor Thomas Paolino, winner of the committeeman election in Rhode Island, have been seated, Lodge said.

He added, "these incidents in Vermont and Rhode Island show the same contempt for the will of the people that was shown in Louisiana and Texas." Rival delegate slates have been named by Taft and Eisenhower forces in the two southern states.

"In the 12 primaries this year where about five million people voted their choice," Ingalls said, "the AP reports that Taft led Eisenhower by 670,000 votes.

Since the general left Paris, Taft has picked up 83 delegates while Eisenhower has picked up five. Even the AP poll, which lags some 100 delegates behind actual count for Taft, has listed approximately 500 delegates for Taft and only 407 for the general."

The Associated Press tabulation of delegate preferences, revised frequently on the basis of latest information, is based upon delegate pledges, instructions, or expressed preferences and on concessions of candidates. The latest tabulation shows 483 delegates for Taft, 405 for Eisenhower, 129 for other candidates, and 189 disputed.

Unnoticed by many her posture showed.
A good Samaritan happened along
With a happy heart filled with song.
He beckoned to his daughter go give her a lift.
"It's no time, Daughter, her character to sift."
She accepted the offer a little ill at ease
But the good Samaritan beckoned, "Come on, please."
Another Samaritan met us at the door
With a smile on her face that reflected on the floor.
A table was graciously spread
And it was here, that we shared our bread.
And, too, we offered her a bed
Which surely must of poured hot coals upon her head.
She lifted her head shyly
And this was what she said,
"Don't bother in the morning another table to spread,
For I must be on my way early with many miles ahead."
She departed early without awakening a soul,
She was someone's daughter that had strayed from the fold.
These Samaritans were my father and mother
Who shared what they had. And I'm their daughter
And for this shared experience, I'll always be glad.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, director of Eisenhower's campaign, issued a statement saying, "Taft and his advisors are resorting to desperate last-minute political tricks to thwart the will of the rank and file of the Republican party."

David S. Ingalls, campaign manager for Taft, also using a prepared statement, charged Lodge's "announcement that, contrary to previous statements, Eisenhower is being sent to Chicago emphasizes the inconsistency of the general's whole demeanor in the 1952 presidential campaign."

With scarcely more than a week left before the Republican convention opens July 7, the forces of the two leading candidates shifted their operations to headquarters only two floors apart in the convention headquarters hotel, the Conrad Hilton.

The Ohio senator plans to come to Chicago Sunday (tomorrow) night to be close to the final week's campaign activities. His aides said Taft probably will go home for Independence Day, July 4, and return to Chicago July 5 with his wife and family to remain until the convention ends.

Eisenhower's move from his present Denver headquarters to Chicago will not be made until July 5. Lodge said the general's shift to Chicago will be made "for the purpose of making himself available to convention delegates."

A Sunday afternoon reception for Eisenhower and his wife on July 6, the eve of the convention, has been billed as wide open to delegates, alternates, national committeemen and state chairmen from all of the states and territories.

In criticizing Eisenhower's conduct, Ingalls said the general has rejected earlier stands that professional soldiers should abstain from seeking high political office. Ingalls said Eisenhower had, at one time, let it be known that he did not intend to make speeches or campaign tours, engage in personalities or political arguments, or appear at the convention.

Ingalls said delegates might ask "whether responsible leadership would flow from a candidate who can be led to such radical shifts in position in a period of only six months."

Lodge said the Vermont national committeeman, James F. Dewey, has given his proxy on the committee to Claude Farr, a defeated Taft candidate for convention delegate. In Rhode Island, Lodge said Felix Herbert, the defeated national committeeman, has given his proxy to Stephen Wilson, Taft's Rhode Island manager and a defeated candidate for delegate.

Neither Edward Janeway, the Eisenhower candidate for national committeeman in Vermont, nor Thomas Paolino, winner of the committeeman election in Rhode Island, have been seated, Lodge said.

He added, "these incidents in Vermont and Rhode Island show the same contempt for the will of the people that was shown in Louisiana and Texas." Rival delegate slates have been named by Taft and Eisenhower forces in the two southern states.

"In the 12 primaries this year where about five million people voted their choice," Ingalls said, "the AP reports that Taft led Eisenhower by 670,000 votes.

Since the general left Paris, Taft has picked up 83 delegates while Eisenhower has picked up five. Even the AP poll, which lags some 100 delegates behind actual count for Taft, has listed approximately 500 delegates for Taft and only 407 for the general."

The Associated Press tabulation of delegate preferences, revised frequently on the basis of latest information, is based upon delegate pledges, instructions, or expressed preferences and on concessions of candidates. The latest tabulation shows 483 delegates for Taft, 405 for Eisenhower, 129 for other candidates, and 189 disputed.

J. C. Steele Co. Gets Award For Public Aid

The J. C. Steele Lumber Company has received an award for public services performed for which no pay was either asked or received. The award was made by the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association in Washington, D. C. An exhaustive study of the work of many retail companies was considered in making the choice.

The J. C. Steele Lumber Company through officers and employers has been ever active in aiding in many ways in furnishing trucks, lumber and supplies for public projects, for churches and much help has been given to Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

One of the men of the company, A. P. Kitchens, has been extremely active in Boy Scout work as well as in other lines.

In Memoriam (3)

In Memorian To Mr. & Mrs. Samuel L. Baldwin
A Girl By The Side Of TheRoad
Unnoticed by many her posture showed.
A good Samaritan happened along
With a happy heart filled with song.
He beckoned to his daughter go give her a lift,
"It's no time, Daughter, her character to sift."
She accepted the offer a little ill at ease
But the good Samaritan beckoned, "Come on, please."
Another Samaritan met us at the door
With a smile on her face that reflected on the floor.
A table was graciously spread
And it was here, that we shared our bread.
And, too, we offered her a bed
Which surely must of poured hot coals upon her head.
She lifted her head shyly
And this was what she said.
"Don't bother in the morning another table to spread,
For I must be on my way early with many miles ahead."
She departed early without awakening a soul,
She was someone's daughter that had strayed from the fold.
These Samaritans were my father and mother
Who shared what they had. And I'm their daughter
And for this shared experience, I'll always be glad.
Mrs. Joe F. Smith—

Miss Leora Louise LeFors Is Bride Of John J. Lacy

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Ceremony In Lovely Garden Setting

A lovely wedding of the summer season was that of Miss Leora Louise LeFors, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard LeFors, and John J. Lacy, son of Mrs. Annise Lacy and the late Mr. Freeman Lacy, which was solemnized in a lovely garden setting June 15 at four o'clock in the afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prophit.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive ceremony against a background of white lattice work entwined with green and silver bay leaves and yellow day lilies. At each end of the lattice was huge white urns filled with shasta daisies and fern. The kneeling rail was white and flanked by baskets of yellow lilies and fern. Rev. Ralph Cain officiated at the ceremony.

Mrs. Raymond F. Heritage, at the organ, rendered a program of prenuptial selections and accompanied Miss Betty Spurlock who sang Bach - Gounod's "Ave Maria," "The Lord's Prayer," and "At Dawning." The traditional processional and recessional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Heritage.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of white Duchess satin, Chantilly lace and nylon net. The tight fitting bodice of Chantilly lace was attached to the bouffant ankle-length skirt of nylon net. Her veil of illusion fell from a tiara of satin and Chantilly lace embroidered with seed pearls. She wore a single strand of crystal and gold beads, a gift of the groom.

The bride's bouquet was of yellow rosebuds and forget-me-nots tied with satin ribbon.

Miss Mickey Glankler, of Alexandria, was maid of honor and was wearing an ankle-length gown of aqua nylon organdy. Her picture hat of horsehair braid was of aqua and she wore matching linen pumps. She carried a bouquet of shasta daisies.

Bridesmaid was Miss Jill Faulkner, of Oxford, Miss. Her ankle-length gown was of mist pink and she wore a picture hat of horsehair braid in mist pink with linen pumps to match. She also carried a bouquet of shasta daisies.

Louis Weil served the groom as best man. Usher was Jack Inabnet. Both male attendants and the groom were wearing summer tuxedos.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lefors chose an aqua net and aqua and white checked gingham gown complemented by a corsage of white rosebuds pinned at her waist. Her picture hat and linen pumps were of white. Mrs. Lacy, mother of the bridegroom, was wearing an eggshell lace dress and beige and rust hat. Her other accessories were of matching color.

Wedding Reception

A reception followed the wedding ceremony in the Prophit gardens with the bride and groom and the members of the wedding party receiving the guests.

The bride's table, which was overlaid with a natural colored Irish linen lace cloth, was centered with the beautiful tiered wedding cake which was topped with white lace vase of the bride's yellow rosebuds, fern, and ribbon. At each corner of the table were silver trays holding individual cakes in assorted garden flower colors.

The refreshment table which held the punch bowl was covered with a white linen cloth.

Presiding at the cake service was Mrs. A. M. Locken, of Alexandria, while Mrs. M. M. Crane, of Jackson, Miss., sister of the bride, presided at the punch service.

Tea girls were Miss Patsy Batten, Miss Pat Sanders, both of Monroe, and Miss Freddie Cleveland and Miss Chick Gobbert, of Alexandria.

BRIDAL COUPLE HONORED AT LOVELY BUFFET SUPPER

Mr. and Mrs. George Guerriero, Miss Patricia Guerriero and "True" Guerriero entertained at a lovely buffet supper honoring Miss Mary Addie Maxwell and Gene Goad following their wedding rehearsal Friday, June 6.

This lovely event was held on the patio which is bordered in huge varigated calladiums with tall glossy green camellia bushes in the background. Mrs. Guerriero, aunt of the bride-elect, presented each of the ladies with a gardenia to pin in her hair.

Beautiful arrangements of red gladioli were used throughout the receiving rooms of the Guerriero home while arrangements of gardenias and sweet bay added a pleasant aroma to the setting. Placed down the center of the buffet table were magnolia blossoms.

The bride's table was marked by an arrangement of gardenias.

The honoree was wearing a handpainted skirt with white dotted Swiss blouse. Mrs. Guerriero chose a white pique and Miss Guerriero was wearing an embroidered chambray. Mrs. Maxwell, mother of the honoree, chose a plaid gingham. The honoree took this occasion to present her aunt with a beautiful sterling silver compote in appreciation of the many kindnesses shown her during her engagement days.

A delectable supper which consisted of stuffed crabs, barbecued turkey, potato salad, barbecued beans, spiced fruits, relishes, rolls, homemade cakes, lime sherbert and wedding ring cookies were served by the hostess. Ice cold Cokes were served from an ice filled wheelbarrow which was banked with magnolia blossoms.

Enjoying this event with Miss Maxwell and Mr. Goad were the Rev. and Mrs. R. T. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Patrick, grandparents, of Jerome, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Maxwell, Lt. and Mrs. F. E. Maxwell, Jr., of Petersburg, Va., Misses Anita and Truman Holmes, of Houston, Tex., Mrs. W. E. Coats, of Delhi, Miss Pearl LeFevre, Miss Eva Reed, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, Mrs. Walter Hastings, Mr. Sam Rubin, Jr., Mr. Fred Bennett, Jr., Miss Georgia Blanchard.

QUOTA CLUB MEMBERS HEAR MISS MARY EVELYN DICKERSON

Miss Mary Evelyn Dickerson, executive vice - president of the Monroe and West Monroe Chamber of Commerce, and Ouachita Parish Industrial development committee, delivered an inspiring address to Quotarians and their guests on Thursday.

Present to hear Miss Dickerson at the luncheon at the Frances Hotel were the following guests and members: Miss Virginia Hamel, Mrs. Marion Huckaby, Mrs. Olive Prendergast, Miss Odie Lee Gossett, Miss Hermoine Driskell, Mrs. Edelle Guerriero, Miss Billie June Sanderson, Mrs. Helen Norris, Mrs. Frances Ritter, Mrs. Tony Veazey, Miss Freeda Mickel, Miss Ovelle Thomas, Mrs. Chris Collins, Mrs. Roslyn Haas, Miss Mamie McNeill, Miss Ibbie Elliget, and Miss Armandine Renaud.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Frances Ritter, vice-president of Quota in the absence of Mrs. Helen Agnew who is attending the national convention of Quota in California. Miss Dickerson was introduced by Mrs. Tony Veazey.

She opened her address by expressing her gratitude to the citizens of Monroe and West Monroe for the kindness and consideration shown her. She cited the fact that her position with the Louisiana department of commerce and industry will be of great help in her present job. She brought out the fact that since May 1948, five hundred and ninety - six new industries have been brought to Louisiana, which in terms of money represents two and one half billion dollars and has created more than sixty thousand new jobs. Miss Dickerson stated one reason for this large increase in industries is that Louisiana is the only state in the union that extends a ten year tax exemption to new industries. Miss Dickerson finished her address by saying to bring new industry to a place is a slow process of effort and work and is not an overnight job.

Ramona McCathern And Lloyd Mills Are United In Marriage

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service At Methodist Chapel In Ruston

The Ruston-Methodist Childern's Home Chapel was the setting Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock of the wedding of Miss Ramona McCathern of Ruston, and Lloyd Mills, of Chehalis, Washington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Mills.

Dr. C. B. White officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with tall baskets of colored gladioli, magnolia, and three-branched candelabra burning white tapers.

Mrs. Frank Pernici, Jr., of Shreveport, sister of the bride was Miss McCathern's matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a pink silk, full-length gown with matching gloves. She carried a bouquet of white carnations. The candle lighters were Miss Marie Bowers and Miss Leona Wemple who wore matching dresses of pink organdy and sprays of pink daisies in their hair. Music was provided for by Misses Mary Ann McLaurin who played and Emma Jean McLaurin who sang. The numbers selected for the wedding were "Through the Years and "The Lords Prayer.

Mr. Jim McDonough of Monroe served Mr. Mills as best man, and the ushers were Jimmy Butler and Charles Humphries.

The bride entered on the arm of Mr. Frank Pernici, Jr., her brother-in-law. She wore a bridal gown of white duchess satin with full skirt. She carried a bouquet of gardenias centered with an orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the James Memorial building. Guests were greeted by the bridal party.

The brides table was covered with a handsome crocheted table cloth and held at one end by a three-tiered wedding cake on a miniature reflector with sprays of tiny flowers and fernery. At the other end stood the punch bowl. Centering the table was a large basket of shasta daisies and other mixtures which were consistant throughout the house.

Mrs. Mable Manning of Ruston served the punch bowl and Mrs. Leon Manning of Ruston served the wedding cake. Assisting in courtesies were Geneva Howard, Janice Wemple, Betty Ashworth, and Miss Ann Lewis had charge of the guest book.

The bridegrooms mother wore a purple and lavender crepe with a corsage of white carnations, and Mrs. F. L. Carroll, guardian to the bride, wore black silk with a matching corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. H. W. Lindsey of Baton Rouge wore a pale lavender evening dress of silk with a corsage of white carnations. Other guests of special importance were Mrs. C. B. White and Miss Eunice Everett.

The bride chose for traveling a suit of pale yellow shantung with navy blue matching accesscries. She also wore the orchid which centered her brides bouquet. The couple left for New Orleans on their honeymoon trip.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Wade and Nancy of Jonesboro, Miss Ruby Riddle of Jonesboro, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pernici of Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lindsey of Baton Rouge, Mr. Jim McDonough of Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Durrett of Monroe, Miss Rachel Johnson of Monroe, Miss Zella Beasley of Monroe, Mrs. Earl B. Mills of Chehalis, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Corley of Shreveport and Mr. Leon Hammonds of Monroe.

Miss Faye Banks Todd Weds John Dillard Wink

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service At Parkview Baptist Church

A lovely ceremony characterized by beauty and simplicity was solemnized in the Parkview Baptist Church of Monroe at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon of June 21.

On this occasion Miss Faye Banks Todd, daughter of Mrs. Renard Todd became the bride of John Dillard Wink, son of Mrs. J. D. Wink. Rev. H. L. Sampson, pastor, performed the ceremony.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive double - ring service before an altar which was centered with a large open Bible, a treasured heirloom of the Wink family. On either side of the Bible were floor baskets of pink daisies and magnolia foliage. Tall candelabra in a graduated arrangement held slender pink tapers.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. William Wilkerson, at the organ, rendered a program of prenuptial music which consisted of "Thine Alone," "At Dawning," "To A Wild Rose." She accompanied Mrs. A. R. Doughty as she sang "Because" and later as she sang "The Lord's Prayer," at the close of the ceremony. "Liebestraum" was softly played during the service.

The maid of honor, Miss Helen Todd, sister of the bride, wore a ballerina length dress of aqua nylon net, with triple tucked bodice, delicately accented by a cloud-like detachable stole. The bouffant skirt was over a rustling taffeta slip. She carried a lovely fan of aqua nylon net adorned with pink altheas. She wore painted daisies in her hair.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Colvin Todd, of Tallulah, was lovely in her wedding dress of imported Chantilly lace ballerina length of blush pink over nylon net and taffeta. The lace bodice was designed with a Mary Stuart collar and detachable pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt was an unfurling of pleated Chantilly lace. Her shoulder length veil of blush imported illusion fell from a fitted Juliet cap with medallions of Chantilly lace. She carried a white Bible adorned with a large pure white orchid from which cascaded satin streamers.

Mr. Julius Wink served his brother as best man. The ushers, Gordon Mitchell and Mr. E. J. Hodge lighted the candles.

Reception

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the home of the bride. Throughout the house were lovely arrangements of white stock, asters, and daisies.

The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, embossed with roses and ornamenting the top tier was a wedding bell under a heart shaped archway encircled with a ruffle of tulle. Pink altheas and tulle made a lovely arrangement encircling the cake. On each end of the table were silver candelabra from which long pink tapers burned.

Presiding at the bride's book was Miss Rita Clements. Assisting in the serving courtesies were Miss Bennie Fluker, Miss Jackie Voorhees, Mrs. Elizabeth Atkinson, and Mrs. Elaine Castle.

When later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Wink left for their wedding trip to points in Tennessee, she was wearing a gray and white ensemble of tweed linen, with black accessories complemented by the single white orchid from her wedding bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Neville High School and attended Northeast Louisiana State College and Louisiana State University. The bridegroom graduated from Ouachita Parish High School and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute.

Out - of - town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Addie Readmond, Sam Readman, of Gulfport, Miss., Peyton Readman of New Orleans, Mrs. Joe Peters, Jackson, Miss., Mrs. Tom Simmons, Miss Marjo Simmons, Bogalusa, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin P. QUOTA CLUB MEMBERS HEAR MISS MARY EVELYN DICKERSON

Miss Mary Evelyn Dickerson, executive vice - president of the Monroe and West Monroe Chamber of Commerce, and Ouachita Parish Industrial development committee, delivered an inspiring address to Quotarians and their guests on Thursday.

Present to hear Miss Dickerson at the luncheon at the Frances Hotel were the following guests and members: Miss Virginia Hamel, Mrs. Marion Huckaby, Mrs. Olive Prendergast, Miss Odie Lee Gossett, Miss Hermoine Driskell, Mrs. Edelle Guerriero, Miss Billie June Sanderson, Mrs. Helen Norris, Mrs. Frances Ritter, Mrs. Tony Veazey, Miss Freeda Mickel, Miss Ovelle Thomas, Mrs. Chris Collins, Mrs. Roslyn Haas, Miss Mamie McNeill, Miss Ibbie Elliget, and Miss Armandine Renaud.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Frances Ritter, vice-president of Quota in the absence of Mrs. Helen Agnew who is attending the national convention of Quota in California. Miss Dickerson was introduced by Mrs. Tony Veazey.

She opened her address by expressing her gratitude to the citizens of Monroe and West Monroe for the kindness and consideration shown her. She cited the fact that her position with the Louisiana department of commerce and industry will be of great help in her present job. She brought out the fact that since May 1948, five hundred and ninety - six new industries have been brought to Louisiana, which in terms of money represents two and one half billion dollars and has created more than sixty thousand new jobs. Miss Dickerson stated one reason for this large increase in industries is that Louisiana is the only state in the union that extends a ten year tax exemption to new industries. Miss Dickerson finished her address by saying to bring new industry to a place is a slow process of effort and work and is not an overnight job.

Miss Faye Banks Todd Weds John Dillard Wink

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service At Parkview Baptist Church

A lovely ceremony characterized by beauty and simplicity was solemnized in the Parkview Baptist Church of Monroe at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon of June 21.

On this occasion Miss Faye Banks Todd, daughter of Mrs. Renard Todd became the bride of John Dillard Wink, son of Mrs. J. D. Wink. Rev. H. L. Sampson, pastor, performed the ceremony.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive double - ring service before an altar which was centered with a large open Bible, a treasured heirloom of the Wink family. On either side of the Bible were floor baskets of pink daisies and magnolia foliage. Tall candelabra in a graduated arrangement held slender pink tapers.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. William Wilkerson, at the organ, rendered a program of prenuptial music which consisted of "Thine Alone," "At Dawning," "To A Wild Rose." She accompanied Mrs. A. R. Doughty as she sang "Because" and later as she sang "The Lord's Prayer," at the close of the ceremony. "Liebestraum" was softly played during the service.

The maid of honor, Miss Helen Todd, sister of the bride, wore a ballerina length dress of aqua nylon net, with triple tucked bodice, delicately accented by a cloud-like detachable stole. The bouffant skirt was over a rustling taffeta slip. She carried a lovely fan of aqua nylon net adorned with pink altheas. She wore painted daisies in her hair.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Colvin Todd, of Tallulah, was lovely in her wedding dress of imported Chantilly lace ballerina length of blush pink over nylon net and taffeta. The lace bodice was designed with a Mary Stuart collar and detachable pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt was an unfurling of pleated Chantilly lace. Her shoulder length veil of blush imported illusion fell from a fitted Juliet cap with medallions of Chantilly lace. She carried a white Bible adorned with a large pure white orchid from which cascaded satin streamers.

Mr. Julius Wink served his brother as best man. The ushers, Gordon Mitchell and Mr. E. J. Hodge lighted the candles.

Reception

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the home of the bride. Throughout the house were lovely arrangements of white stock, asters, and daisies.

The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, embossed with roses and ornamenting the top tier was a wedding bell under a heart shaped archway encircled with a ruffle of tulle. Pink altheas and tulle made a lovely arrangement encircling the cake. On each end of the table were silver candelabra from which long pink tapers burned.

Presiding at the bride's book was Miss Rita Clements. Assisting in the serving courtesies were Miss Bennie Fluker, Miss Jackie Voorhees, Mrs. Elizabeth Atkinson, and Mrs. Elaine Castle.

When later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Wink left for their wedding trip to points in Tennessee, she was wearing a gray and white ensemble of tweed linen, with black accessories complemented by the single white orchid from her wedding bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Neville High School and attended Northeast Louisiana State College and Louisiana State University. The bridegroom graduated from Ouachita Parish High School and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute.

Out - of - town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Addie Readmond, Sam Readman, of Gulfport, Miss., Peyton Readman of New Orleans, Mrs. Joe Peters, Jackson, Miss., Mrs. Tom Simmons, Miss Marjo Simmons, Bogalusa, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin P. Simmons, Jack and Sue Simmons, Monticello, Miss., Mr. Arnold Simmons, Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Guinn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Todd of Tallulah, Mrs. John Morris, Bastrop, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper B. Morris, Camden, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Todd, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ancel Ard, Miss Wayne Ard, Mrs. Frank Gibbes, Miss Bettye Horn, Robert Barr Todd, all of Bastrop, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brunson of New Orleans, Mrs. S. N. Butler, and Mrs. Nolan Moore, of Winnsboro, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mitchell, of Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hodge, of New Iberia, and Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Bates, Jr. of New Orleans.

Rehearsal Supper

Following the rehearsal Saturday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Colvin Todd of Tallulah honored Miss Todd and Mr. Wink with a lovely luncheon at the Rendezvous.

The luncheon table was centered with an artistic arrangement of white stock and asters and silver candelabra holding long white candles.

A delicious luncheon was served to the following guests: Miss Todd, Mr. Wink, Miss Helen Todd, Mr. Julius Wink, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Guinn, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Morris, all of Tallulah, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper P. Morris, Camden, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mitchell of Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hodge of New Iberia, Mrs. A. R. Doughty, Mrs. William Wilkerson and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Todd.

Miss Todd presented her maid of honor a lovely vanity engraved with her wedding date and she gave lovely leather jewelry cases to Mrs. Wilkerson and Mrs. Doughty. Mr. Wink presented the ushers and his best man with leather billfolds.

Wedding Vows Of Cecile Danna And Frank Buckley Exchanged

Nuptial Mass At St. Matthew's Catholic Church Unites Local Couple In Impressive Ceremony

Beauty and simplicity marked the ceremony in which wedding vows were exchanged by Cecile Elizabeth Danna and Charles Frank Buckley on Saturday, May 31 at St. Matthew's Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Danna and the bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. Frank Buckley of Monroe.

In an impressive double - ring service, the Rev. William Sheldon officiated at a nuptial mass at 8 o'clock in the morning.

A concert of pre-nuptial music included vocal solos by Miss Ronnie Miller, who sang "O Sacrum Convivium" and Gounod's "Ave Maria." She was accompanied at the organ by Mr. Frank Parker, who also played the wedding marches and music by Carlos Rossini during the mass.

The couple exchanged their vows before an altar decorated with attractive arrangements of Shasta daisies.

Bridal Attendants

Miss Anita Danna served as her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Ann Buckley, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Violet Willbanks, close friend and schoolmate of the bride. The three wore identical street-length frocks of toast lace organdy. The crisp full skirts were joined to the waist with black velvet bands, and large roses of lace organdy added to the attractiveness of their dresses. Their rhinestone ear rings, gifts from the bride, matched the clips on either side of the neckline. They wore toast colored linen pumps, and they carried blue daisies which reflected the tone in bride's sash.

Mr. Morris Blumenthal was the bridegroom's best man, and the ushers were Mr. Vincent Danna, brother of the bride, and Mr. Ulysses Rivoire.

Bride's Gown

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a short gown of embroidered organdy. The fitted bodice was caught to a full skirt accented by a French blue satin sash. She carried a white satin prayer book covered with stephanotis and centered with tube roses. For something old, she used a lace trimmed handkerchief, and blue crystal rosary beads. For something borrowed, she carried the prayer book which belonged to her brother, Mr. Salvador Danna.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Cameo room of the Virginia hotel which held beautiful arrangements of white gladioli and magnolias.

Receiving with the bridal party were Mrs. Danna, the bride's mother, and Mrs. A. A. Thoman, the bridegroom's aunt with whom he has made his home for several years. Mrs. Danna was wearing a blue sheer dress and a corsage of white carnations.

The lace - covered table held a five - tiered wedding cake embossed in white and delicate pink floral designs. White doves under a dainty archway surmounted the artistic confction.

Shasta daises and crystal candelabra holding gleaming white tapers, added pretty decorative notes. The white and pink theme was reflected in the individual cakes and embossed mints. Among the delicacies were small imported Italian confections.

Assisting in serving the wedding cake were Miss Kate Feduccia, the bride's aunt, and Mrs. McCombe.

Lime sherbet punch and small confections were served from a side table.

Following the reception, the bride changed her wedding dress for a chic navy faille tailleur and dainty white blouse. She wore a close - fitting blue velvet hat, corsage of tube roses and white accessories.

Shreveport Residence

After a honeymoon at the Dixie Dude Ranch, Bandera, Tex., the couple are making their home in Shreveport, where Mr. Buckley is associated with the United Gas Corporation. They are residing at 2207 Creswell Road.

Out - of - town guests at the wedding included: Miss Kate Feduccia, Mr. Lawrence Feduccia the bride's uncle, Mr. Dennis Fontaine, Mrs. C. R. Buckley, Sr., the bridegroom's stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Buckley of Arkansas.

The bride was an honor graduate of St. Matthew's High school, then she graduated from Northeast Junior College before entering Louisiana Polytechnic Institute from which she received the bachelor's degree. At the local college she held membership in the Newman club, Delta Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, and the Purple Jackets, women's service organization. At Louisiana Tech she held the presidency of both the Newman club and the Tech Theater players. She also was a member of the Blue Jackets and Sigma Tau Delta, honor society.

Mr. Buckley graduated from Neville High school prior to entering Louisiana State University where he received the bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering. He is affiliated with Lambda Chi fraternity.

COST ESTIMATED

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A Navy would cost the United States almost four trillion dollars to fight an all-out third World War.

Comdr. John W. Seager of the Navy Supply Corps, who is a member of the Industrial College in Washington, said in a recent interview here that each major war the United States has fought has cost roughly 10 times more than the previous one. World War II cost 383 billion dollars, Seager says.

It is only in comparatively recent times that it was known there is no Antarctic ocean.

IMMUNE DOGS

Dogs are not susceptible to ivy poisoning. At times they may show symptoms like those suffered by victims of poison ivy, but dogs with such symptoms apparently are victims of hives, the same kind of hives from which humans suffer.

BAYOU DESIARD GARDEN CLUB MEMBERS HEAR TALK ON CERAMICS

Mrs. Carter Ackle, and Mrs. Hamilton Chapman were hostesses to the Bayou DeSiard Garden club at the Rendezvous where they held their regular June meeting.

"A Gardeners Prayer was read in unison, followed by the reading of the minutes for May by Mrs. W. G. Miller, secretary.

Mrs. R. C. Holler gave the horticultural report for this month.

Mrs. Carter Ackle was in charge of the regular program, which covered chapter four of the study book, entitled "Flower Arrangements. The subject of this chapter was "color. Mrs. Ackle stated that there are six pure colors, and twelve secondary, on intermediate hues, that result from blending one primary hue with the next. She said in part: "Since our interest in flowers is based mostly upon color there are certain color combinations the color circle can help us recognize in making the most of our flower arrangements. These combinations form harmonies.

"It is generally realized that some colors are stimulating while others are actually depressing. Yellow is a happy color, red suggests warmth, green, coolness, blue, tranquility, and violet a touch of the spiritual.

"In placing flowers in the home remember that direct, or brilliant light makes colors more intense and may bring out any lack of harmony in colors used. Several lumps of charcoal in the bottom of the containers will keep flower arrangements fresh longer and also by changing the water daily.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Hazel Smith. Mrs. Smith spoke on a new hobby "ceramics which is a most fascinating as well as relaxing. It satisfies an urge to create, and at the same time solves the gift problem for all occasions.

Mrs. Chapman was in charge of the flower arrangements at the tables.

Three guests welcomed at this time were Mrs. Mercedes Miller, of Houston, Tex., Mrs. Ben Simpson and Mrs. Hazel Smith.

Delicious refreshments were served to Mrs. Shelby Cage, Mrs. P. N. Edwards, Mrs. R. D. Parr, Mrs. R. T. arr, Mrs. J. P. Haggerty, Mrs. R. C. Hollis, Mrs W. G. Miller, Mrs. C. A. Ponder, Mrs H. H. Petty, Mrs. Jack Rushing, Mrs. Frank Smith, Jr., Mrs. Everett Heller, Mrs. J. D. Kelly and the hostesses Mrs. Ackle and Mrs. Chapman.

Wedding Vows Of Cecile Danna And Frank Buckley Exchanged

Nuptial Mass At St. Matthew's Catholic Church Unites Local Couple In Impressive Ceremony

Beauty and simplicity marked the ceremony in which wedding vows were exchanged by Cecile Elizabeth Danna and Charles Frank Buckley on Saturday, May 31 at St. Matthew's Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Danna and the bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. Frank Buckley of Monroe.

In an impressive double - ring service, the Rev. William Sheldon officiated at a nuptial mass at 8 o'clock in the morning.

A concert of pre-nuptial music included vocal solos by Miss Ronnie Miller, who sang "O Sacrum Convivium" and Gounod's "Ave Maria." She was accompanied at the organ by Mr. Frank Parker, who also played the wedding marches and music by Carlos Rossini during the mass.

The couple exchanged their vows before an altar decorated with attractive arrangements of Shasta daisies.

Bridal Attendants

Miss Anita Danna served as her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Ann Buckley, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Violet Willbanks, close friend and schoolmate of the bride. The three wore identical street-length frocks of toast lace organdy. The crisp full skirts were joined to the waist with black velvet bands, and large roses of lace organdy added to the attractiveness of their dresses. Their rhinestone ear rings, gifts from the bride, matched the clips on either side of the neckline. They wore toast colored linen pumps, and they carried blue daisies which reflected the tone in bride's sash.

Mr. Morris Blumenthal was the bridegroom's best man, and the ushers were Mr. Vincent Danna, brother of the bride, and Mr. Ulysses Rivoire.

Bride's Gown

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a short gown of embroidered organdy. The fitted bodice was caught to a full skirt accented by a French blue satin sash. She carried a white satin prayer book covered with stephanotis and centered with tube roses. For something old, she used a lace trimmed handkerchief, and blue crystal rosary beads. For something borrowed, she carried the prayer book which belonged to her brother, Mr. Salvador Danna.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Cameo room of the Virginia hotel which held beautiful arrangements of white gladioli and magnolias.

Receiving with the bridal party were Mrs. Danna, the bride's mother, and Mrs. A. A. Thoman, the bridegroom's aunt with whom he has made his home for several years. Mrs. Danna was wearing a blue sheer dress and a corsage of white carnations.

The lace - covered table held a five - tiered wedding cake embossed in white and delicate pink floral designs. White doves under a dainty archway surmounted the artistic confction.

Shasta daises and crystal candelabra holding gleaming white tapers, added pretty decorative notes. The white and pink theme was reflected in the individual cakes and embossed mints. Among the delicacies were small imported Italian confections.

Assisting in serving the wedding cake were Miss Kate Feduccia, the bride's aunt, and Mrs. McCombe.

Lime sherbet punch and small confections were served from a side table.

Following the reception, the bride changed her wedding dress for a chic navy faille tailleur and dainty white blouse. She wore a close - fitting blue velvet hat, corsage of tube roses and white accessories.

Shreveport Residence

After a honeymoon at the Dixie Dude Ranch, Bandera, Tex., the couple are making their home in Shreveport, where Mr. Buckley is associated with the United Gas Corporation. They are residing at 2207 Creswell Road.

Out - of - town guests at the wedding included: Miss Kate Feduccia, Mr. Lawrence Feduccia the bride's uncle, Mr. Dennis Fontaine, Mrs. C. R. Buckley, Sr., the bridegroom's stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Buckley of Arkansas.

The bride was an honor graduate of St. Matthew's High school, then she graduated from Northeast Junior College before entering Louisiana Polytechnic Institute from which she received the bachelor's degree. At the local college she held membership in the Newman club, Delta Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, and the Purple Jackets, women's service organization. At Louisiana Tech she held the presidency of both the Newman club and the Tech Theater players. She also was a member of the Blue Jackets and Sigma Tau Delta, honor society.

Mr. Buckley graduated from Neville High school prior to entering Louisiana State University where he received the bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering. He is affiliated with Lambda Chi fraternity.

BASTROP

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hawkins of St. Louis are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Hawkins.

Mrs. M. M. Crowe left Saturday to visit with relatives in Bogalusa this week.

Mrs. H. B. Barnette and Mrs. Ed Short were co-hostesses Friday night at a bridge party honoring Mrs. O. W. Hamilton of Atlanta, a former resident of Bastrop. The gracious home of Mrs. Barnette was decorated for the occasion with arrangements of coral gladiola and shasta daisies, placed at points of interest throughout the living room. Midway through the evening's games the hostesses served iced colas, and at the conclusion of the festivities dainty finger sandwiches and pineapple parfait were served the assembled guests. High scores for the evening were held by Mrs. Ray Green and Mrs. O. W. Hamilton, and the honoree was also the recipient of a gift of jewelry, presented her by the hostesses. Guests included the Mesdames C. L. Jernigan, M. M. Crowe, Charles Anderson, Jack Warren, Wilson Hornsby, A. E. Verbeke, James Hamilton, Sr., Joe Walsh, Garland Gregory, A. C. McKeithen, Gilbert White, Todd Spear, Vernon White, Ray Green, and Roy Swartz.

COST ESTIMATED

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A Navy would cost the United States almost four trillion dollars to fight an all-out third World War.

Comdr. John W. Seager of the Navy Supply Corps, who is a member of the Industrial College in Washington, said in a recent interview here that each major war the United States has fought has cost roughly 10 times more than the previous one. World War II cost 383 billion dollars. Seager says.

It is only in comparatively recent times that it was known there is no Antarctic ocean.

BAYOU DESIARD GARDEN CLUB MEMBERS HEAR TALK ON CERAMICS

Mrs. Carter Ackle, and Mrs. Hamilton Chapman were hostesses to the Bayou DeSiard Garden club at the Rendezvous where they held their regular June meeting.

"A Gardeners Prayer was read in unison, followed by the reading of the minutes for May by Mrs. W. G. Miller, secretary.

Mrs. R. C. Holler gave the horticultural report for this month.

Mrs. Carter Ackle was in charge of the regular program, which covered chapter four of the study book, entitled "Flower Arrangements. The subject of this chapter was "color. Mrs. Ackle stated that there are six pure colors, and twelve secondary, on intermediate hues, that result from blending one primary hue with the next. She said in part: "Since our interest in flowers is based mostly upon color there are certain color combinations the color circle can help us recognize in making the most of our flower arrangements. These combinations form harmonies.

"It is generally realized that some colors are stimulating while others are actually depressing. Yellow is a happy color, red suggests warmth, green, coolness, blue, tranquility, and violet a touch of the spiritual.

"In placing flowers in the home remember that direct, or brilliant light makes colors more intense and may bring out any lack of harmony in colors used. Several lumps of charcoal in the bottom of the containers will keep flower arrangements fresh longer and also by changing the water daily.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Hazel Smith. Mrs. Smith spoke on a new hobby "ceramics which is a most fascinating as well as relaxing. It satisfies an urge to create, and at the same time solves the gift problem for all occasions.

Mrs. Chapman was in charge of the flower arrangements at the tables.

Three guests welcomed at this time were Mrs. Mercedes Miller, of Houston, Tex., Mrs. Ben Simpson and Mrs. Hazel Smith.

Delicious refreshments were served to Mrs. Shelby Cage, Mrs. P. N. Edwards, Mrs. R. D. Farr, Mrs. R. T. arr, Mrs. J. P. Haggerty, Mrs. R. C. Hollis, Mrs W. G. Miller, Mrs. C. A. Ponder, Mrs H. H. Petty, Mrs. Jack Rushing, Mrs. Frank Smith, Jr., Mrs. Everett Heller, Mrs. J. D. Kelly and the hostesses Mrs. Ackle and Mrs. Chapman.

Miss Margaret Evelyn Woodward Weds Lt. Wayne Eron Busbice

Lee Boulevard Baptist Church In Falls Church, Va., Is Setting For Impressive Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Woodward, of Falls Church, Virginia, announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Evelyn, to Lt. Wayne Eron Busbice, son of Mrs. Fay C. Busbice and the late O. O. Busbice, Sr., of Eros.

The wedding took place on May 17, at the Lee Boulevard Baptist church in Falls Church, with the Rev. M. J. White performing the ceremony.

Betty Jean Harrison of Washington, D. C. served as maid of honor, and was the bride's only attendant. Mr. Connella A. Busbice, of Falls Church, served as best man for his brother.

The bride wore a ballerina length white Chantilly lace dress, with shoulder-length veil, and carried the groom's white Bible with a white orchid and streamers of lilies of the valley.

After the wedding, a reception was held in their honor at the home of the bride.

The bride wore as her traveling costume a yellow pastel taffeta dress, with matching picture hat and a white orchid corsage.

After the wedding trip to the Blue Ridge Mountains and the Skyline Drive, the couple drove to Selma, Ala., where Lieutenant Busbice is stationed at Craig Air Force Base, as assistant base information and education officer.

The bride is a graduate of Eastern High school of Washington, D. C., and attended Strayer's Business College there. She worked five years in the accounting office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company in Washington D. C.

The groom is a member of the Masonic lodge, and is a graduate of Southwestern Louisiana Institute, radio operator's school and officers' candidate school. He plans to make teaching his career.

Mr. And Mrs. Harmon A. Cox To Celebrate Fiftieth Anniversary

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon A. Cox will entertain at a reception in celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of their marriage Sunday, July 6th from four until seven o'clock at the home of Miss Clydie Cox, Bon Aire Drive, Edgewater Gardens.

As formal invitations were only mailed to out-of-town guests, friends and relatives are invited to attend through this medium.

THROW RUGS—DANGER!!!

Whenever I see a throw rug I remember what John Edward Godfrey said once, which was: "No need to fear the firing line on the war front if you've ever walked across a polished floor with throw rugs on it." How right he was and is. No need to fear throw rugs though because you can buy rug backing at a local department store. This is painted on the back of your rug according to instructions on the can. But—a good old homemade trick that I explained to Mrs. Hilton last week is: Just sew jar rings (rubbers) across each end of the rug on the back. You'll need a ring for about each foot of width and one on each corner.

Transportation to Baton Rouge

Home Demonstration women will rent a school bus to make the trip to Farm and Home Week—if—they can get thirty passengers. If there is anybody in the Twin Cities who would like transportation by bus call me at 3-2251. I believe the fare will be between $4 and $5, depending on the number of passengers to go. Farm and Home Week will be August 11-15, but the club women must know by July 10 the number who want to go in the bus.

Garden Rakings

Found Mrs. John Gebhardt worrying about her violets a couple of weeks ago. We decided they needed some leaf mold and more water. More water meant a good soaking once a week instead of a sprinkling every afternoon. With her eyes sparkling the young gardener told me yesterday her violets were looking fine.

You've always heard that clematis likes its roots shaded, its top in the sun—well—yours truly had perfect proof of that. My vine simply would not grow. Three weeks ago I put a clump of asperdistra very close to the clematis so the roots were shaded. It seemed the vine started growing over night. Work a little lime around the roots too. The clematis loves this and will reward you.

Keep a good mulch around your shrubs and small trees. This sun is very hot. (As if you didn't already know that.) Roots need protection and the mulch holds moisture.

Keep that compost pile well soaked if you want fast decay. Put the hose on top of the pile and let it drip for several days and nights, moving it about, of course. There will be no waste of water but there will be enough moisture to soak the compost.

Did you ever notice your roses sending up shoots from the under stock on which they were grafted? You can usually tell these shoots because they often have seven leaflets instead of five. Cut these shoots off close to the bark where they leave the main roots. They'll sap the strength from your plants.

Let me remind you again—don't water the lawn or shrubs unless you're going to soak the ground. Sprinkling does much more harm than good.

I'm working with Mrs. Parkerson and neighbor Monday morning making their landscape plans. If you want help making that plan, please call and let's make a summer date. It is impossible to answer all the requests in the fall and winter. The days are longer, now and I can get in more calls. I'd like to work with several in the neighborhood at the same time. Time can be saved that way and we can have nice interchange of ideas.

Food News

Peaches get the featured spot on the July plentiful list. Other fruits include lemons, limes and canned and frozen citrus products. Seasonal fresh vegetables are in good supply along with canned and frozen peas. Completing the list are eggs, turkeys, fresh fish, cottage cheese, and buttermilk. Plentiful foods are usually cheaper and are therefore easier on the budget.

LOVELY JUNE BRIDE

Mrs. Lucian E. Russell, the former Mary Inez Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby W. Smith, before her marriage Sunday, June 22 at the First Baptist Church of Monroe. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lillian DeMasterson of Monroe, and Mr. S. Russell, of Alexandria.

Miss Mary Inez Smith Is Bride Of Lucian E. Russell

First Baptist Church Of Monroe Is Setting For Impressive Wedding Ceremony

In a beautifully impressive ceremony at the First Baptist Church, Monroe, Sunday afternoon, June 22, at 4:30, Miss Mary Inez Smith, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby W. Smith, became the bride of Mr. Lucian E. Russel, son of Mrs. Lillian DeMasterson, Monroe, and Mr. S. Russell, Alexandria.

Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr., pastor of College Place Baptist Church, heard the exchange of vows in the presence of an assemblage of friends and relatives.

Prevading the atmosphere of the sanctuary was an air of reverence expressed in music as Mrs. Alma Woodham rendered a concert of wedding selections. During the rendition, the ushers, Mr. R. J. Goza, Jr. and Mr. Frank Mobley, lighted the tapers which were held aloft by branched candelabra entwined with greenery. Baskets of pastel Marconi daisies were placed against the lush background, and complemented the pastel gowns worn by the attendants of the bride.

Mr. Irby R. Cox served as soloist and was accompanied by Mrs. Woodham in singing "I Love You Truly," "Always", and "Because."

Lohengrin's wedding march announced the entrance of the wedding party.

Miss Annirie McDuffie, close friend of the bride, was her maid of honor, and wore mauve marquisette over the same shade of taffeta. The extremely full skirt fell to street length, and over the moulded sleeveless bodice, a bolero of self - material was worn. She carried a crescent - shaped bouquet of lavender asters tied with matching ribbon.

Miss Billie Mae Meeks, also a close friend, and an associate in the office of the First Baptist Church where the ceremony took place, was the bridesmaid. She wore turquoise marquisette over a matching shade of taffeta and fashioned identical to that worn by the maid of honor. She carried rose - colored asters of the same design, and both she and Miss McDuffie wore halos fashioned of the same flowers as their bouquets.

Miss Meeks was escorted to the altar by Mr. Jimmy Simrall, a groomsman. Mr. Tony Russell served his brother as best man.

The radiant bride walked the aisle on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, and was beautiful in traditional white. Fashioned of white marquisette over white taffeta, the fitted basque featured a round neckline with row upon row of valenciennes lace forming a bertha effect. The cap sleeves repeated the same lace treatment, as did the medallions which graced the front of the full skirt.

The full elbow - length veil fell from a Dutch cap of lace, and was designed by a close friend, Mrs. Forrest Seaman. Her bridal bouquet was a gorgeous white orchid arranged on a white Bible and cascaded with narrow white satin ribbons and caught with stephanotis. For ornament she wore cut-crystal choker, earbobs, and bracelet.

Mrs. Smith chose for her daughter's wedding a bolero dress of aqua linen with heavy matching lace banding. Her accessories were white and her corsage was of yellow roses. The mother of the bridegroom wore navy with white accessories and a similar corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride changed her wedding raiment for a black and white faille two - piece dress, with which she wore white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell will reside at Montgomery, Ala., where he is associated with Greyhound Bus Lines. Mrs. Russell was an employee of the First Baptist Church in a secretarial capacity.

Rehearsal Party

Mrs. James T. Horton entertained members of the Russell - Smith wedding party at the Baptist parsonage on Saturday evening following rehearsal.

She used red radiance rosebuds in her decorative note, and the same flowers graced the dining table which was overlaid with linen cutwork. Tall white tapers cast a soft radiance over the scene.

The delectable supper was served buffet, and after the meal the young couple presented their attendants with appropriate gifts.

Sharing this occasion with Miss Smith and Mr. Russell were Misses Billie Mae Meeks, Annirie McDuffie, Mrs. Clara Seaman, Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr., Mrs. Shelby W. Smith, Mr. Tony Russell, Mr. Irby R. Cox, Mr. Jimmy Simrall, Mr. Frank Mobley, Mr. R. J. Goza, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Green of Canton, Miss., and the hostess, Mrs. Horton.

Miss Margaret Evelyn Woodward Weds Lt. Wayne Eron Busbice

Lee Boulevard Baptist Church In Falls Church, Va., Is Setting For Impressive Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Woodward, of Falls Church, Virginia, announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Evelyn, to Lt. Wayne Eron Busbice, son of Mrs. Fay C. Busbice and the late O. O. Busbice, Sr., of Eros.

The wedding took place on May 17, at the Lee Boulevard Baptist church in Falls Church, with the Rev. M. J. White performing the ceremony.

Betty Jean Harrison of Washington, D. C. served as maid of honor, and was the bride's only attendant. Mr. Connella A. Busbice, of Falls Church, served as best man for his brother.

The bride wore a ballerina length white Chantilly lace dress, with shoulder-length veil, and carried the groom's white Bible with a white orchid and streamers of lilies of the valley.

After the wedding, a reception was held in their honor at the home of the bride.

The bride wore as her traveling costume a yellow pastel taffeta dress, with matching picture hat and a white orchid corsage.

After the wedding trip to the Blue Ridge Mountains and the Skyline Drive, the couple drove to Selma, Ala., where Lieutenant Busbice is stationed at Craig Air Force Base, as assistant base information and education officer.

The bride is a graduate of Eastern High school of Washington, D. C., and attended Strayer's Business College there. She worked five years in the accounting office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company in Washington D. C.

The groom is a member of the Masonic lodge, and is a graduate of Southwestern Louisiana Institute, radio operator's school and officers' candidate school. He plans to make teaching his career.

THROW RUGS—DANGER!!!

Whenever I see a throw rug I remember what John Edward Godfrey said once, which was: "No need to fear the firing line on the war front if you've ever walked across a polished floor with throw rugs on it." How right he was and is. No need to fear throw rugs though because you can buy rug backing at a local department store. This is painted on the back of your rug according to instructions on the can. But—a good old homemade trick that I explained to Mrs. Hilton last week is: Just sew jar rings (rubbers) across each end of the rug on the back. You'll need a ring for about each foot of width and one on each corner.

Transportation to Baton Rouge

Home Demonstration women will rent a school bus to make the trip to Farm and Home Week—if—they can get thirty passengers. If there is anybody in the Twin Cities who would like transportation by bus call me at 3-2251. I believe the fare will be between $4 and $5, depending on the number of passengers to go. Farm and Home Week will be August 11-15, but the club women must know by July 19 the number who want to go in the bus.

Garden Rakings

Found Mrs. John Gebhardt worrying about her violets a couple of weeks ago. We decided they needed some leaf mold and more water. More water meant a good soaking once a week instead of a sprinkling every afternoon. With her eyes sparkling the young gardener told me yesterday her violets were looking fine.

You've always heard that clematis likes its roots shaded, its top in the sun—well—yours truly had perfect proof of that. My vine simply would not grow. Three weeks ago I put a clump of asperdistra very close to the clematis so the roots were shaded. It seemed the vine started growing over night. Work a little lime around the roots too. The clematis loves this and will reward you.

Keep a good mulch around your shrubs and small trees. This sun is very hot. (As if you didn't already know that.) Roots need protection and the mulch holds moisture.

Keep that compost pile well soaked if you want fast decay. Put the hose on top of the pile and let it drip for several days and nights, moving it about, of course. There will be no waste of water but there will be enough moisture to soak the compost.

Did you ever notice your roses sending up shoots from the under stock on which they were grafted? You can usually tell these shoots because they often have seven leaflets instead of five. Cut these shoots off close to the bark where they leave the main roots. They'll sap the strength from your plants.

Let me remind you again—don't water the lawn or shrubs unless you're going to soak the ground. Sprinkling does much more harm than good.

I'm working with Mrs. Parkerson and neighbor Monday morning making their landscape plans. If you want help making that plan, please call and let's make a summer date. It is impossible to answer all the requests in the fall and winter. The days are longer, now and I can get in more calls. I'd like to work with several in the neighborhood at the same time. Time can be saved that way and we can have nice interchange of ideas.

Food News

Peaches get the featured spot on the July plentiful list. Other fruits include lemons, limes and canned and frozen citrus products. Seasonal fresh vegetables are in good supply along with canned and frozen peas. Completing the list are eggs, turkeys, fresh fish, cottage cheese, and buttermilk. Plentiful foods are usually cheaper and are therefore easier on the budget.

LOVELY JUNE BRIDE

Mrs. Lucian E. Russell, the former Mary Inez Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby W. Smith, before her marriage Sunday, June 22 at the First Baptist Church of Monroe. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lillian DeMasterson of Monroe, and Mr. S. Russell, of Alexandria.

Miss Mary Inez Smith Is Bride Of Lucian E. Russell

First Baptist Church Of Monroe Is Setting For Impressive Wedding Ceremony

In a beautifully impressive ceremony at the First Baptist Church, Monroe, Sunday afternoon, June 22, at 4:30, Miss Mary Inez Smith, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby W. Smith, became the bride of Mr. Lucian E. Russel, son of Mrs. Lillian DeMasterson, Monroe, and Mr. S. Russell, Alexandria.

Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr., pastor of College Place Baptist Church, heard the exchange of vows in the presence of an assemblage of friends and relatives.

Prevading the atmosphere of the sanctuary was an air of reverence expressed in music as Mrs. Alma Woodham rendered a concert of wedding selections. During the rendition, the ushers, Mr. R. J. Goza, Jr. and Mr. Frank Mobley, lighted the tapers which were held aloft by branched candelabra entwined with greenery. Baskets of pastel Marconi daisies were placed against the lush background, and complemented the pastel gowns worn by the attendants of the bride.

Mr. Irby R. Cox served as soloist and was accompanied by Mrs. Woodham in singing "I Love You Truly," "Always", and "Because."

Lohengrin's wedding march announced the entrance of the wedding party.

Miss Annirie McDuffie, close friend of the bride, was her maid of honor, and wore mauve marquisette over the same shade of taffeta. The extremely full skirt fell to street length, and over the moulded sleeveless bodice, a bolero of self - material was worn. She carried a crescent - shaped bouquet of lavender asters tied with matching ribbon.

Miss Billie Mae Meeks, also a close friend, and an associate in the office of the First Baptist Church where the ceremony took place, was the bridesmaid. She wore turquoise marquisette over a matching shade of taffeta and fashioned identical to that worn by the maid of honor. She carried rose - colored asters of the same design, and both she and Miss McDuffie wore halos fashioned of the same flowers as their bouquets.

Miss Meeks was escorted to the altar by Mr. Jimmy Simrall, a groomsman. Mr. Tony Russell served his brother as best man.

The radiant bride walked the aisle on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, and was beautiful in traditional white. Fashioned of white marquisette over white taffeta, the fitted basque featured a round neckline with row upon row of valenciennes lace forming a bertha effect. The cap sleeves repeated the same lace treatment, as did the medallions which graced the front of the full skirt.

The full elbow - length veil fell from a Dutch cap of lace, and was designed by a close friend, Mrs. Forrest Seaman. Her bridal bouquet was a gorgeous white orchid arranged on a white Bible and cascaded with narrow white satin ribbons and caught with stephanotis. For ornament she wore cut-crystal choker, earbobs, and bracelet.

Mrs. Smith chose for her daughter's wedding a bolero dress of aqua linen with heavy matching lace banding. Her accessories were white and her corsage was of yellow roses. The mother of the bridegroom wore navy with white accessories and a similar corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride changed her wedding raiment for a black and white faille two - piece dress, with which she wore white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell will reside at Montgomery, Ala., where he is associated with Greyhound Bus Lines. Mrs. Russell was an employee of the First Baptist Church in a secretarial capacity.

Rehearsal Party

Mrs. James T. Horton entertained members of the Russell - Smith wedding party at the Baptist parsonage on Saturday evening following rehearsal.

She used red radiance rosebuds in her decorative note, and the same flowers graced the dining table which was overlaid with linen cutwork. Tall white tapers cast a soft radiance over the scene.

The delectable supper was served buffet, and after the meal the young couple presented their attendants with appropriate gifts.

Sharing this occasion with Miss Smith and Mr. Russell were Misses Billie Mae Meeks, Annirie McDuffie, Mrs. Clara Seaman, Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr., Mrs. Shelby W. Smith, Mr. Tony Russell, Mr. Irby R. Cox, Mr. Jimmy Simrall, Mr. Frank Mobley, Mr. R. J. Goza, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Green of Canton, Miss., and the hostess, Mrs. Horton.

Miss Ollie Vee Brazzeal Weds William Hayward Phillips

First Methodist Church Is Setting Of Double-Ring Ceremony

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony, Thursday, June 5, at 6:30 o'clock, Miss Ollie Vee Brazzeal, daughter of Mrs. Ella Mae Brazzeal, of Marion, and Mr. Charles Brazzeal, of Monroe, became the bride of William Hayward Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Harmon Phillips of Strong, Ark.

Dr. A. M. Serex performed the impressive double - ring ceremony which took place in First Methodist Church. The altar was banked with white calla lilies against a background of green. White tapers in graduated candelabra cast their soft glow. Prenuptial music was played by Mrs. A. M. Serex, who accompanied Mrs. Maurice Fleming as she sang, "Always," and "Together Down Life's Path We'll Trod." During the ceremony she played "The Lord's Prayer".

The matron of honor, Mrs. Tom Leos, sister of the bride, wore a floor length gown of orchid nylon net, a large matching picture hat of horsehair braid in light orchid. Her bouquet was of rainbow Sacony daisies. Miss Dee DeLay, Miss Beatrice Bruscato, junior bridesmaids, were wearing identical gowns in ballerina length of spring pink and orchid nylon net over taffeta. Their bouquets were of rainbow Sacony daisies. The little flower girl, Sharon Ella Coates, wore a gown identical to those worn by the other attendants. It was yellow. Her bouquet was a miniature of the others.

The candles were lighted by Mr. Dewitt Boatright and Mark Boatright.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother - in - law, Tom Leos, was lovely in her white slipper satin gown. It had a round neck of nylon net and lace, tight fitting basque and long sleeves which tapered over her hands. Her finger tip veil of silk illusion was attached to a tiara of seed pearls, falling to her shoulders. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls given her by the groom as a wedding gift. She carried a single white orchid with cascading stephanotis on satin ribbons. The traditional something old, something new, something borrowed and blue, and a sixpence in her shoe was observed.

Tommy Leos, the bride's nephew, was best man, Mark Boatright and Johnny Leos were groomsmen.

Mrs. Brazzeal, mother of the bride was wearing a navy chiffon with white carnation corsage.

The wedding reception followed immediately and was held at the Rendezvous. The bride's table was overlaid with lovely imported cutwork cloth centered with an exquisite arrangement of white daisies, and crystal candelabra around a three - tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom. The base of the cake was surrounded by a mirror and white daisies. White calla lilies were used in the reception rooms.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. C. C. Lucky and Mrs. Tom Leos.

For their wedding trip to Gulfport, the bride wore a navy blue dress. Her accessories were navy and white. She wore a white orchid.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Edward Delaun Dinger, before her marriage June 7th at St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Lake Providence, was Marie Celeste Hamley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Celestin Hamley. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Chris Anna Dinger of Lake Providence, and Delaun Dinger, of Richmond, Calif.

MISS MARIE CELESTE HAMLEY WEDS EDWARD DELAUN DINGER

Miss Marie Celeste Hamley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Celestin Hamley, became the bride of Edward Delaun Dinger, son of Mrs. Chris Anna Dinger of Lake Providence, and Delaun Dinger of Richmond, Calif., on Saturday, June seventh, at St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

The Rev. William Hopp officiated at the double ring ceremony, performed in the presence of members of the immediate families, with Mrs. J. C. Hamley, mother of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Russel Fleeman, the attendants.

The bride was gowned in a navy blue nylon sheer fashioned with a full pleated skirt and tailored bodice with Peter Pan collar, and front closing of matching blue buttons. As complement of the grooming she added an off white hat and navy kid slippers. Her shoulder corsage was an orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Dinger left for a wedding trip.

The bride was graduated from Lake Providence High school, and has entered a business career being presently employed with the East Carroll P. M. A. office.

The groom, after graduation from Lake Providence high, was associated with T. V. Razer in business interests, before entering service in the infantry division. He holds the rating of sergeant first class and is located at Camp Chaffee, after a years service in Korea and Japan.

Miss Cosette Dugdale Is Bride Of Marshall Boyd, Jr.

The sanctuary of the Alabama Presbyterian Church at Choudrant was the setting June 15 of the wedding of Miss Cosette Dugdale, daughter of Mrs. Howard Dugdale and the late Mr. Dugdale of Choudrant and Sgt. Marshall Boyd, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Boyd.

At the completion of the morning worship service and Sunday sermon, "The Sanctity of Marriage," preached by the Rev. William Robert Gage, pastor of the church, the couple knelt at an altar banked with white gladioli, feverfew, and giant shasta daisies, and were united in marriage by the Rev. Lannie Parnell of the First Presbyterian Church of Mansfield, an uncle of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her uncle Mr. O. L. Futrell of Sterlington, the bride wore a white lace and net gown, the fitted lace bodice with its cuffed cape sleeves flaring into a bouffant nylon net skirt over taffeta. Her veil was attached to a small white straw bandeau which was ornamented with a cameo, a gift from the groom. White accessories and a bouquet of white fleur d'amour on a white Bible completed her bridal costume.

Mrs. Mitchell Dugdale, the bride's sister-in-law, was her matron of honor. She was wearing a full-skirted aqua marquisette dress with white accessories and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Mitchell Dugdale, the bride's brother, served the groom as best man.

Miss Bertie Rae Dugdale a cousin of the bride, accompanied Miss Billie Ann Kelly as she sang "Because" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dugdale wore a dress of navy blue bemberg with white accesories.

After the ceremony, the couple, accompanied by the members of the wedding party, received the best wishes of the congregation in the church foyer.

For traveling, Mrs. Boyd changed to a pink linen suit with navy accessories and wore a white corsage from her bridal bouquet. After a dinner given by the groom's parents in their honor, the couple left on a wedding trip to New Orleans. Afterward they will be at home in Wichita Falls, Tex., where he is stationed with the air force.

Spielman, Jerry Parker, Miss Barbara and Linda Cloyd, Miss Patsy Riser, Miss Nellie Goodwin, James Robert Goodwin, Fred Riser Jr., and Steve Riser.

Girl Scout News

Those in charge report that the Girl Scout swimming lessons were the most successful ever. Anyway you look at it, 120 girls for 15 days add up to a whale of a lot of swimming. Beverly Hatchell, Agnes Jones, and Roy Ashton were the capable teachers, conducting classes for girls in all stages of advancement from the non-swimmer to the junior lifesaver. While all girls showed improvement, the following qualified for Red Cross cards showing the progress they had made: Beginner, Carol Haddad, Cecie Wood, Beth Fink, Linda Bassett, Wista Anderson, Tommie Dixon, Teddy Dixon, Bobbie Gilbert, Linda Keller, Stuart Miles, Betty Lou Overton, Judy Lee, Anne Ragland, Shirley Jolissaint, Stevie Menuet, Nancy Martin, Mary Jean Martin, Maxine Brown, Dolores Calderone, Pat Coats, Charlotte Pankey, Carolyn Block, Ginger Dean, Serite Currier, Glenda Rogers, Linda Rogers, Sallie Ann Williams. Intermediate, Patricia Graham, Dar Lynn Gilbert, Marilyn Hewitt, Sandy Lou Jolissaint, Sandy Dean, Sandra Knowles, Peggy Fairchild, Amy Hood, Lynn Lewis, Susanne Smith, Gloris Jean Rogillio, Frances Ruth Phillips, Shelia Ann Irvin, Natalie Roy, Mary Joanna Strausser, Billie Sue Dixon. Swimmer, Gwen Gerhard, Jo Ann Campbell, Betty Rose Haddad, Linda Faye Atkins, Carolyn Clark, Anne McDonald Betty Hemphill, Margaret Brady, Nancy Breard, Janis Joyce, Gay Demmary. Lifesaver, Anne McDonald, Betty Hemphill, Margaret Brady, Nancy Breard, Janis Joyce, Gay Demmary, Gerrie Dickerson, Martha Riser Mary Emma Wilson Cheryl Fink.

Speaking of day camp, it is time to register. According to Louise Adams, day camp chairman, no registrations will be accepted after July 3. So before you girls and your parents go off on that long week end, attend to the little matter of registration.

Sometimes parents have to be prodded in matters like this, so, girls, see what you can do about it. A bigger and better day camp is promised for nine days in July—July 14-24.

With the conclusion of the six-day sewing classes, we are hearing about the pretty slips, blouses and skirts the girls have made. Best of all, it was fun for girls and teachers, too. To Mrs. Mildred Swift should go a lot of credit, too, for organizing the course. Mrs. Swift has helped the Girl Scout program committee ever since it was organized, and the Scouts are grateful.

Don't forget day camp registration!

A wedding claiming wide interest was celebrated June 7 in the St. Francis de Sales Church of Houma, when Miss Patricia Louise Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrell Willis, became the bride of Raymond Saadi, son of Ferris Saadi and the late Josephine Mohana.

The morning ceremony was held at 10 o'clock with the Rev. Frederick J. Pooley officiating. Daisies and gladioli on the altar and in the sanctuary formed a background for the rites.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of white eyelet organdy and a small white lace hat with nose - length veil. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias centered with an orchid.

Miss Patsy Hurst was the brides maid of honor and her only attendant.

She wore a dress of beige nylon with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses.

Nolan Moosa was the best man.

A reception was held at the home of the brides parents following the ceremony. Mrs. Willis was assisted in receiving by Miss Mary Mohana, aunt of the groom.

Daisies, gardenias and gladioli decorated the Willis home. The five - tiered cake with miniature bride and groom atop, was banked with pink daisies and fern. White gladioli bordered the beautifully appointed table.

After the traditional cutting of the first slice of cake by the bride and groom, Mrs. Linus Bass served the guests, Mrs. Abel LeBlanc poured punch.

Out - of - town guests included Mrs. Frank Willis of Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sellers of Ruston, Commander and Mrs. T. C Pipes, of the Algiers naval station, New Orleans, Mrs. Theophile Moosa, Mrs. Rema Joseph, Mrs. William Sonnier, Ronald Moosa, and Mr. and Mrs. George Copeland of New Orleans.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High school and attended Louisiana Tech, and Francis T. Nicholls college.

The groom graduated from St. Francis de Sales school and attended Loyola University.

After the reception the bride and groom left for a wedding trip on the Mississippi and Florida Gulf coasts. The brides going away dress was of beige linen. She wore an orchid corsage.

First Methodist Church Is Setting Of Double-Ring Ceremony

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony, Thursday, June 5, at 6:30 o'clock, Miss Ollie Vee Brazzeal, daughter of Mrs. Ella Mae Brazzeal, of Marion, and Mr. Charles Brazzeal, of Monroe, became the bride of William Hayward Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Harmon Phillips of Strong, Ark.

Dr. A. M. Serex performed the impressive double - ring ceremony which took place in First Methodist Church. The altar was banked with white calla lilies against a background of green. White tapers in graduated candelabra cast their soft glow. Prenuptial music was played by Mrs. A. M. Serex, who accompanied Mrs. Maurice Fleming as she sang, "Always," and "Together Down Life's Path We'll Trod." During the ceremony she played "The Lord's Prayer".

The matron of honor, Mrs. Tom Leos, sister of the bride, wore a floor length gown of orchid nylon net, a large matching picture hat of horsehair braid in light orchid. Her bouquet was of rainbow Sacony daisies. Miss Dee DeLay, Miss Beatrice Bruscato, junior bridesmaids, were wearing identical gowns in ballerina length of spring pink and orchid nylon net over taffeta. Their bouquets were of rainbow Sacony daisies. The little flower girl, Sharon Ella Coates, wore a gown identical to those worn by the other attendants. It was yellow. Her bouquet was a miniature of the others.

The candles were lighted by Mr. Dewitt Boatright and Mark Boatright.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother - in - law, Tom Leos, was lovely in her white slipper satin gown. It had a round neck of nylon net and lace, tight fitting basque and long sleeves which tapered over her hands. Her finger tip veil of silk illusion was attached to a tiara of seed pearls, falling to her shoulders. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls given her by the groom as a wedding gift. She carried a single white orchid with cascading stephanotis on satin ribbons. The traditional something old, something new, something borrowed and blue, and a sixpence in her shoe was observed.

Tommy Leos, the bride's nephew, was best man, Mark Boatright and Johnny Leos were groomsmen.

Mrs. Brazzeal, mother of the bride was wearing a navy chiffon with white carnation corsage.

The wedding reception followed immediately and was held at the Rendezvous. The bride's table was overlaid with lovely imported cutwork cloth centered with an exquisite arrangement of white daisies, and crystal candelabra around a three - tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom. The base of the cake was surrounded by a mirror and white daisies. White calla lilies were used in the reception rooms.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. C. C. Lucky and Mrs. Tom Leos.

For their wedding trip to Gulfport, the bride wore a navy blue dress. Her accessories were navy and white. She wore a white orchid.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Edward Delaun Dinger, before her marriage June 7th at St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Lake Providence, was Marie Celeste Hamley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Celestin Hamley. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Chris Anna Dinger of Lake Providence, and Delaun Dinger, of Richmond, Calif.

MISS MARIE CELESTE HAMLEY WEDS EDWARD DELAUN DINGER

Miss Marie Celeste Hamley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Celestin Hamley, became the bride of Edward Delaun Dinger, son of Mrs. Chris Anna Dinger of Lake Providence, and Delaun Dinger of Richmond, Calif., on Saturday, June seventh, at St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

The Rev. William Hopp officiated at the double ring ceremony, performed in the presence of members of the immediate families, with Mrs. J. C. Hamley, mother of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Russel Fleeman, the attendants.

The bride was gowned in a navy blue nylon sheer fashioned with a full pleated skirt and tailored bodice with Peter Pan collar, and front closing of matching blue buttons. As complement of the grooming she added an off white hat and navy kid slippers. Her shoulder corsage was an orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Dinger left for a wedding trip.

The bride was graduated from Lake Providence High school, and has entered a business career being presently employed with the East Carroll P. M. A. office.

The groom, after graduation from Lake Providence high, was associated with T. V. Razer in business interests, before entering service in the infantry division. He holds the rating of sergeant first class and is located at Camp Chaffee, after a years service in Korea and Japan.

Miss Cosette Dugdale Is Bride Of Marshall Boyd, Jr.

The sanctuary of the Alabama Presbyterian Church at Choudrant was the setting June 15 of the wedding of Miss Cosette Dugdale, daughter of Mrs. Howard Dugdale and the late Mr. Dugdale of Choudrant and Sgt. Marshall Boyd, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Boyd.

At the completion of the morning worship service and Sunday sermon, "The Sanctity of Marriage," preached by the Rev. William Robert Gage, pastor of the church, the couple knelt at an altar banked with white gladioli, feverfew, and giant shasta daisies, and were united in marriage by the Rev. Lannie Parnell of the First Presbyterian Church of Mansfield, an uncle of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her uncle Mr. O. L. Futrell of Sterlington, the bride wore a white lace and net gown, the fitted lace bodice with its cuffed cape sleeves flaring into a bouffant nylon net skirt over taffeta. Her veil was attached to a small white straw bandeau which was ornamented with a cameo, a gift from the groom. White accessories and a bouquet of white fleur d'amour on a white Bible completed her bridal costume.

Mrs. Mitchell Dugdale, the bride's sister-in-law, was her matron of honor. She was wearing a full-skirted aqua marquisette dress with white accessories and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Mitchell Dugdale, the bride's brother, served the groom as best man.

Miss Bertie Rae Dugdale a cousin of the bride, accompanied Miss Billie Ann Kelly as she sang "Because" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dugdale wore a dress of navy blue bemberg with white accesories.

After the ceremony, the couple, accompanied by the members of the wedding party, received the best wishes of the congregation in the church foyer.

For traveling, Mrs. Boyd changed to a pink linen suit with navy accessories and wore a white corsage from her bridal bouquet. After a dinner given by the groom's parents in their honor, the couple left on a wedding trip to New Orleans. Afterward they will be at home in Wichita Falls, Tex., where he is stationed with the air force.

Mrs. Joe Wellerman Is Club Hostess

The McClendon Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Joe Wellerman for its June meeting. After the opening song, "Auld Lang Syne" by Mrs. Henry Blazier, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance by group, and prayer by Mrs. Lizzie Heckford, the business meeting was held.

Reports were given by leaders: Gardening—Mrs. Lizzie Heckford, safety—Mrs. Fred Riser, how to be well dressed—Mrs. Euna D. Spielman. The meeting adjourned and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Those present were Mrs. Fred Riser, Mrs. Billy Smith, Mrs. O. O. Cloyd, Mrs. Henry Blazier, Mrs. Dorothy Huntsman, Mrs. Connie Goodwin, Mrs. Lizzie Heckford. Visitors were Mrs. Euna D. Spielman, Jerry Parker, Miss Barbara and Linda Cloyd, Miss Patsy Riser, Miss Nellie Goodwin, James Robert Goodwin, Fred Riser Jr., and Steve Riser.

Girl Scout News

Those in charge report that the Girl Scout swimming lessons were the most successful ever. Anyway you look at it, 120 girls for 15 days add up to a whale of a lot of swimming. Beverly Hatchell, Agnes Jones, and Roy Ashton were the capable teachers, conducting classes for girls in all stages of advancement from the non-swimmer to the junior lifesaver. While all girls showed improvement, the following qualified for Red Cross cards showing the progress they had made: Beginner, Carol Haddad, Cecie Wood, Beth Fink, Linda Bassett, Wista Anderson, Tommie Dixon, Teddy Dixon, Bobbie Gilbert, Linda Keller, Stuart Miles, Betty Lou Overton, Judy Lee, Anne Ragland, Shirley Jolissaint, Stevie Menuet, Nancy Martin, Mary Jean Martin, Maxine Brown, Dolores Calderone, Pat Coats, Charlotte Pankey, Carolyn Block, Ginger Dean, Serite Currier, Glenda Rogers, Linda Rogers, Sallie Ann Williams. Intermediate, Patricia Graham, Dar Lynn Gilbert, Marilyn Hewitt, Sandy Lou Jolissaint, Sandy Dean, Sandra Knowles, Peggy Fairchild, Amy Hood, Lynn Lewis, Susanne Smith, Gloris Jean Rogillio, Frances Ruth Phillips, Shelia Ann Irvin, Natalie Roy, Mary Joanna Strausser, Billie Sue Dixon. Swimmer, Gwen Gerhard, Jo Ann Campbell, Betty Rose Haddad, Linda Faye Atkins, Carolyn Clark, Anne McDonald Betty Hemphill, Margaret Brady, Nancy Breard, Janis Joyce, Gay Demmary. Lifesaver, Anne McDonald, Betty Hemphill, Margaret Brady, Nancy Breard, Janis Joyce, Gay Demmary, Gerrie Dickerson, Martha Riser Mary Emma Wilson Cheryl Fink.

Speaking of day camp, it is time to register. According to Louise Adams, day camp chairman, no registrations will be accepted after July 3. So before you girls and your parents go off on that long week end, attend to the little matter of registration.

Sometimes parents have to be prodded in matters like this, so, girls, see what you can do about it. A bigger and better day camp is promised for nine days in July—July 14-24.

With the conclusion of the six-day sewing classes, we are hearing about the pretty slips, blouses and skirts the girls have made. Best of all, it was fun for girls and teachers, too. To Mrs. Mildred Swift should go a lot of credit, too, for organizing the course. Mrs. Swift has helped the Girl Scout program committee ever since it was organized, and the Scouts are grateful.

Don't forget day camp registration!

BRIDE AND GROOM

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Melton, of El Dorado, Ark., shown above following their recent marriage at the New Zion Baptist Church of Oak Grove. The bride is the former Flora Morgan, formerly of Oak Grove. Mr. Melton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Melton, of Ruston.

Miss Elizabeth Carter Weds Dr. Amzi Denbo Montgomery

Bridal Couple To Reside In New Orleans Following Wedding Trip To The Great Smokies

Dignity and simplicity marked the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sidney Carter, of Oak Ridge, and Dr. Amzi Denbo Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thadeus Montgomery, of Lafayette, in the St. Charles Avenue Presbyterian Chapel in New Orleans, on June 10th at high noon. Dr. J. C. Land, a personal friend of the groom's parents, read the impressive double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few close friends.

Artistic arrangements of white peonies, gladioli and marconi daisies in tall empire baskets were placed on either side of the altar. White tapers in graduated candelabra cast a soft glow on the scene. Pews were marked with single peonies and satin ribbon bows.

The traditional wedding marches marked the processional and recessional, while soft organ music was played throughout the ceremony.

Mrs. Charles Thadeus Montgomery, Jr, matron of honor, wore a sky blue linen suit, a large white hat, and carried a nosegay of asters and fever few in shades of blue and yellow, with yellow streamers

Miss Carroll Ann Smith, the maid of honor, was in dusty pink linen and a large white hat. Her nosegay was pink rosebuds and fever few with blue streamers.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Joseph Sidney Carter, Jr, was lovely in a honey - beige linen dressmaker suit, the soft flolds of self material perfectly complemented by a white Italian straw hat. Her only ornament was the groom's gift, a string of pearls. She carried a white Bible centered by a single white orchid, from which cascaded a dainty shower of fever few.

Dr. Montgomery was attended by his brother, Mr. Charles Thadeus Montgomery, Jr., and Mr. Herbert Heymann.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Carter chose a cocoa dress with toast accessories. The groom's mother wore cream linen with purple accessories. Both wore corsages of purple orchids.

The bride is a graduate of Hockaday Preparatory school in Dallas, Tex. and is now a junior at Sophie Newcomb college, where she is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Dr. Montgomery attended Louisiana State University, was graduated from Southwestern and Tulane school of medicine. His fraternities are Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Chi Chi.

Following a wedding trip to the Great Smokies, Dr. and Mrs. Montgomery will be at home at 7535 St. Charles avenue, New Orleans, after July 1st, when Dr. Montgomery begins his internship at Charity Hospital.

Rehearsal Supper

Following the rehearsal at the St. Charles Avenue Presbyterian Chapel, New Orleans, Joseph Sidney Carter, Jr. was host at a dinner to the members of the Carter-Montgomery wedding party.

In a private dining room at Arnauds the decorations of mantel and table were done in bridal white. An oblong decor of white marconi daisies centered by a pyramid arrangement of gladioli and fever few, with lacy fern extended the length of the table.

The bride presented her attendants silver monogramed compacts, engraved with the date of the wedding. The groom's gift were cuff links.

For the rehearsal dinner, Miss Carter wore a lovely trousseau model of rose linen with white ornamentations at the neckline.

The guest list included Miss Elizabeth Carter, Dr. Derbo Montgomery, Miss Carroll Ann Smith, Miss Dorothy Hatcox, Mrs. Joseph Sidney Carter, Mrs. A. B. Denbo, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thadeus Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thadeus Montgomery, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Heymann, and Dr. William de Gravelles.

UNWANTED FAT UNDER ATTACK

Nationwide Drive To Create Slimmer People Is Started

With 25,000,000 Americans over weight by at least 20 pounds, the health organizations, the medical profession and insurance companies have begun a concerted drive to point out to the American public that "your waistline is your lifeline."

One of the few people in this country who can say "I told you so" is Ann Delafield, famed reducing expert and beauty authority. As head of a famous Fifth avenue salon and author of numerous articles of expert guidance on the subject, Miss Delafield holds what must be the world's record for master-minding the disappearance of literally thousands of tons of unsightly, unhealthy and certainly unwanted fat.

But, characteristically, Miss Delafield isn't content to sit back and look smug as well as handsome as the all-out battle against bulges begins. She has come up with a new kind of answer which many medical and pharmaceutical authorities feel may be the answer. She worked out a new formula for a supplementary food wafer, non-fattening and low calorie, which is prescribed to be eaten between meals as an appetite appeaser (a "willpower pill," Miss Delafield describes it), allowing you to eat a normal amount of food and quieting craving for excessive eating or gnawing hunger at or between meals. The wafer (which is also delicious to the taste) is part of a new weight reducing "package," called the Ann Delafield Appetite Reducing Plan, which the Rexall Drug Company has placed on sale in their outlets throughout the country. In addition to the month's supply of the wafers, the package contains a month's supply of vitamin capsules and Ann Delafield's new book to follow step by step as you reduce—and afterward, to give your new figure, new face and new personality their full glamour quotient.

Mr. Bodan and Mr. Spatafora of Bodan's and Spatafora's Rexall Drugs of Monroe announced today that the new Ann Delafield Appetite Reducing Plan has arrived at their stores. As two of 10,000 of the independent druggists associated with the Rexall Drug Company who are releasing this plan simultaneously throughout the nation, Bodan's and Spatafora's Rexall Drugs are exclusive distributors for this area. The introductory package is priced at $6.95, with the repeat package for $5.95 for those who continue the course.

E. B. THOMAS IS TOPS IN ENGLISH

Winnfield Student In Tech Out Classes Mates In Examination

RUSTON, June 28 (Special) — Earnest B. Thomas of Winnfield won top honors in the freshman English examination at Louisiana Tech, according to Dr. Herbert L. Hughes, dean of the School of Arts and Sciences.

Thomas, a graduate of Winnfield High School, earned 193 of a possible 247 points on the test.

John R. Goodroe of Shreveport was runner-up with a score of 190 He is a graduate of Byrd High School.

Margie Ann Pesnell of Simsboro took third place honors with 189 points. Pearl Mae Norman of Quitman ran fourth with 188 points and George Lovic Frye of Minden was fifth with 184.

Others in the top ten were:

Savery Glen Stucky, Ruston, 181; Roger Louis Blom, Byrd of Shreveport, 180; John Herman Kendall, Ruston, 178; Leabetta M. Chandler, Athens, 177; and Yvonne Fisher, Ouachita of Monroe, 174.

ILLEGAL BAIT

Goldfish are considered illegal bait in many states, since they are merely fancy carp and, if liberated in streams, would likely revert to type, grow large, and become a nuisance.

ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED

Miss Claudia Jernigan, whose engagement and approaching marriage to John A. LaCara, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam LaCara, of this city is announced today by her Godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Savana, of this city.

MISS BILLIE JEAN HUTCHINSON WEDS ROBERT EUGENE LOLLY

The Jonesboro Methodist church, was the scene Thursday evening at 8 o'clock of the lovely wedding of Miss Billie Jean Hutchinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hutchinson and Robert Eugene Lolly, son of Mrs. Cleve Hornsley of Vienna, and the late Mr. Russell Lolly.

The Rev. W. O. Lynch, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the impressive double ring ceremony before an altar lighted cross and white tapers in branched candelabra. Floor standards of white gladoli interspersed with trailing plumosos fern flanked either side of the kneeling altar.

The sanctuary was entirely lighted by a soft glow of candlelight casting a lovely glow for the wedding scene.

The guests were ushered into the church to the soft strains of music from the organ played by Mrs. Joseph Key. Ushers, Conrod and O. C. Edwards, Jr., of Shreveport, cousins of the bride, seated the guests. They wore white linen suits and bow ties.

Mrs. Key accompanied Miss Myrna Loy Pardue, vocal soloist who sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Miss Pardue sang the "Lords Prayer" at the close of the service.

Casting a soft radiance on the occasion were tall white tapers which were lighted by Miss Charolette Ann Hutchinson, cousin of the bride of Monticello, Ark., and Bennie Head of Quitman. Miss Hutchinson chose a nile green organdy over taffeta. Her corsage was of white carnations and she wore white linen pumps.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, entered to the strains of the traditional wedding march. She was radiant for her wedding in a white satin ballerina length with billowy folds of nylon net. The molded yoke and sleeves were of white Chantilly lace. Her finger tip veil of nylon tulle fell in soft folds from a bonnett effect of pink daisies.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis and lace, cascaded streamers softly tied in love knots showered from the bouquet. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls with matching earrings. Her pumps were of white linen.

The bride was attended by her maid of honor, Miss Wonda Ann Loe, who wore a gown of orchid lace over orchid taffeta. She carried a bouquet of purple asters, and purple daisies were pinned in her hair. Her pumps were white suede and she chose a rhinestone necklace with matching earrings.

Mr. R. T. Lolly of West Monroe served as best man.

Mrs. Hutchinson chose for her daughters wedding a navy blue nylon dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Hornsby, mother of the groom, chose a rose crepe dress with which she wore a corsage of white carnations and her accessories were of navy.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the bridal reception rooms of the church with the brides parents as hosts. Gladioli and white shasta daisies were placed at vantage points. The brides table was overlaid with a white maderia cloth centered with a lovely arrangement of shasta daisies flanked on either side by crystal candelabra with slender burning tapers.

The three tiered wedding confection embossed with bells, lilies of the valley and sweetheart roses were placed on a reflector at one end of the table. Clusters of daisies, tied with dainty satin bows circled the reflector forming a lovely reflection. Miss Norma Ann Smart attended the cake service. She chose a lovely strapless gown of blue taffeta, featuring folds of blue net. Her corsage was of white carnations. At the opposite end of the table fruit punch was served from a crystal bowl by Miss Naomi Roby who was lovely in a ballerina length model of lime green net over lime green taffeta. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Jeanette Turner presided over the brides book. She chose a strapless gown of soft blue taffeta and blue net, her shoes were silver and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

Helping with the serving courtesies were Mrs. E. B. Hutchinson of Monticello, Ark., Mrs. E. A. Walsworth and Mrs. Effie Smart, aunts of the bride.

The bride is a resident of Jonesboro and a graduate of the Jonesboro Hodge High school, class of 1952. The groom is a graduate of the Ruston High and at present time is stationed with the U. S. navy as Y-2C in San, Diego, Calif. After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in San Diego.

For traveling Mrs. Lolly chose a two piece navy Salina suit with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

She is the niece of Mrs. Otis Edwards in Shreveport where she has been a frequent visitor.

The grooms brothers, R. T. and J. S. are residents of West Monroe.

MICROFILM NOW ADDED AT TECH

Gives Wider Scope Of Information For College Library

RUSTON, June 28. —(Special)— Addition of a microfilm reader to the services of Louisiana Tech's library was announced this week by E. J. Scheerer, librarian.

Available to both students and faculty, the new machine will be placed in the northwest corner office on the main floor of the library. The first reference material placed on film for use in the machine included issues of The Ruston Daily Leader for the past eight years and nine months, from March 2, 1942, to December 29, 1950.

Later, it is planned to obtain a microfilm record of two other newspapers, The Tech Talk and The New York Times.

In commenting on the new machine, Mr. Scheerer said that the microfilm reader will now enable the library to build up back files of newspapers, periodicals and proceedings and transactions of the various scientific societies. He also pointed out that the library will be able to add rare and out-of-print reference materials that are available now only on microfilm.

Much of the reference material now on hand in the library had a high reader interest immediately following publication, he said, but that interest tends to diminish as time passes. He cited the fields of chemistry and physics as examples where interest rapidly declines after three years.

Yet the library must have back files of those publications available, he said. Most of these are indexed in the engineering index, the industrial arts index, the agriculture index, education index, and the Readers' Guide.

The completeness of its periodical holdings is one of the points on which the library is rated by accrediting societies, the Tech librarian said, and it is there that microfilm answers the problem of filing infrequently-used and space-filling materials that are essential when needed.

Mr. Scheerer cited an example of the compactness for storage that microfilm provides by noting that one foot of film will accomodate approximately 40 pages of a periodical.

The Tech machine has a viewing screen 20x20 inches, with a magnification 19 times greater than the film panel. Either 35mm or 16mm film can be used in the Recordak machine purchased by the library here.

Microfilming the pages of The Ruston Daily Leader through the period that the newspaper has been indexed by Tech's library was done by the microfilm department of the Louisiana State University library.

W. S. C. S. HOLDS PROGRAM MEET

Exercise Held For Brownville Church; Budget Adopted

Mrs. W. A. Coates, vice president and program chairman, Brownville, W. S. C. S., selected "Choose Ye This Day" as the topic of a most impressive pledge service Tuesday evening.

In urging all to pledge, Mrs. Coates said in part: "All things are Thine; no gift have we, Lord of all gifts, to offer Thee; and thence with grateful hearts today, Thine own before Thy feet we lay. . . . Just now we stand at the crossroads, planning the world of tomorrow. Do we choose to spread the idea of healthy bodies, Christian homes, Christian leadership, Christian communities for tomorrow's world? There is an old Spanish proverb; 'Take what you want,' says God, "Take what you want and pay for it!" Our buying power is threefold: greenbills — medium of exchange of the realm; silver coins of service; and the gold coins of prayer. "Take what you want, says God, "Take what you want, and pay for it."

Mrs. Bessie Robinson concluded the program with an interesting talk, "All Children Our Concern." The keynote of her talk was the real needs of children — the unknown child, the child of the city, migrant children, children of the minority group, children of working mothers, — in each instance Mrs. Robinson very ably pointed out the child's needs. She referred to the recent midcentury White House conference and its pledge to children, which she urged all members to secure a copy.

Mrs. G. B. Wilson, president, presided during the business hour. The budget for the year was adopted. It will entail $1,000 and includes much local work as well as meeting the requirements for foreign work. The group feel that they have set a goal, which may be difficult to reach, but when met will mean a great deal to every church member at Brownville.

Only a few generations ago, many English words were spelled in several different ways by reputable writers.

VISITING IN MONROE

Mrs. James F. Prendergast, formerly of this city and now of Corpus Christi, Tex., and who is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. ILLEGAL BAIT

Goldfish are considered illegal bait in many states, since they are merely fancy carp and, if liberated in streams, would likely revert to type, grow large, and become a nuisance.

ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED

Miss Claudia Jernigan, whose engagement and approaching marriage to John A. LaCara, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam LaCara, of this city is announced today by her Godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Savana, of this city.

MISS BILLIE JEAN HUTCHINSON WEDS ROBERT EUGENE LOLLY

The Jonesboro Methodist church, was the scene Thursday evening at 8 o'clock of the lovely wedding of Miss Billie Jean Hutchinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hutchinson and Robert Eugene Lolly, son of Mrs. Cleve Hornsley of Vienna, and the late Mr. Russell Lolly.

The Rev. W. O. Lynch, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the impressive double ring ceremony before an altar lighted cross and white tapers in branched candelabra. Floor standards of white gladoli interspersed with trailing plumosos fern flanked either side of the kneeling altar.

The sanctuary was entirely lighted by a soft glow of candlelight casting a lovely glow for the wedding scene.

The guests were ushered into the church to the soft strains of music from the organ played by Mrs. Joseph Key. Ushers, Conrod and O. C. Edwards, Jr., of Shreveport, cousins of the bride, seated the guests. They wore white linen suits and bow ties.

Mrs. Key accompanied Miss Myrna Loy Pardue, vocal soloist who sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Miss Pardue sang the "Lords Prayer" at the close of the service.

Casting a soft radiance on the occasion were tall white tapers which were lighted by Miss Charolette Ann Hutchinson, cousin of the bride of Monticello, Ark., and Bennie Head of Quitman. Miss Hutchinson chose a nile green organdy over taffeta. Her corsage was of white carnations and she wore white linen pumps.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, entered to the strains of the traditional wedding march. She was radiant for her wedding in a white satin ballerina length with billowy folds of nylon net. The molded yoke and sleeves were of white Chantilly lace. Her finger tip veil of nylon tulle fell in soft folds from a bonnett effect of pink daisies.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis and lace, cascaded streamers softly tied in love knots showered from the bouquet. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls with matching earrings. Her pumps were of white linen.

The bride was attended by her maid of honor, Miss Wonda Ann Loe, who wore a gown of orchid lace over orchid taffeta. She carried a bouquet of purple asters, and purple daisies were pinned in her hair. Her pumps were white suede and she chose a rhinestone necklace with matching earrings.

Mr. R. T. Lolly of West Monroe served as best man.

Mrs. Hutchinson chose for her daughters wedding a navy blue nylon dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Hornsby, mother of the groom, chose a rose crepe dress with which she wore a corsage of white carnations and her accessories were of navy.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the bridal reception rooms of the church with the brides parents as hosts. Gladioli and white shasta daisies were placed at vantage points. The brides table was overlaid with a white maderia cloth centered with a lovely arrangement of shasta daisies flanked on either side by crystal candelabra with slender burning tapers.

The three tiered wedding confection embossed with bells, lilies of the valley and sweetheart roses were placed on a reflector at one end of the table. Clusters of daisies, tied with dainty satin bows circled the reflector forming a lovely reflection. Miss Norma Ann Smart attended the cake service. She chose a lovely strapless gown of blue taffeta, featuring folds of blue net. Her corsage was of white carnations. At the opposite end of the table fruit punch was served from a crystal bowl by Miss Naomi Roby who was lovely in a ballerina length model of lime green net over lime green taffeta. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Jeanette Turner presided over the brides book. She chose a strapless gown of soft blue taffeta and blue net, her shoes were silver and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

Helping with the serving courtesies were Mrs. E. B. Hutchinson of Monticello, Ark., Mrs. E. A. Walsworth and Mrs. Effie Smart, aunts of the bride.

The bride is a resident of Jonesboro and a graduate of the Jonesboro Hodge High school, class of 1952. The groom is a graduate of the Ruston High and at present time is stationed with the U. S. navy as Y-2C in San, Diego, Calif. After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in San Diego.

For traveling Mrs. Lolly chose a two piece navy Salina suit with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

She is the niece of Mrs. Otis Edwards in Shreveport where she has been a frequent visitor.

The grooms brothers, R. T. and J. S. are residents of West Monroe.

MICROFILM NOW ADDED AT TECH

Gives Wider Scope Of Information For College Library

RUSTON, June 28. —(Special)— Addition of a microfilm reader to the services of Louisiana Tech's library was announced this week by E. J. Scheerer, librarian.

Available to both students and faculty, the new machine will be placed in the northwest corner office on the main floor of the library. The first reference material placed on film for use in the machine included issues of The Ruston Daily Leader for the past eight years and nine months, from March 2, 1942, to December 29, 1950.

Later, it is planned to obtain a microfilm record of two other newspapers, The Tech Talk and The New York Times.

In commenting on the new machine, Mr. Scheerer said that the microfilm reader will now enable the library to build up back files of newspapers, periodicals and proceedings and transactions of the various scientific societies. He also pointed out that the library will be able to add rare and out-of-print reference materials that are available now only on microfilm.

Much of the reference material now on hand in the library had a high reader interest immediately following publication, he said, but that interest tends to diminish as time passes. He cited the fields of chemistry and physics as examples where interest rapidly declines after three years.

Yet the library must have back files of those publications available, he said. Most of these are indexed in the engineering index, the industrial arts index, the agriculture index, education index, and the Readers' Guide.

The completeness of its periodical holdings is one of the points on which the library is rated by accrediting societies, the Tech librarian said, and it is there that microfilm answers the problem of filing infrequently-used and space-filling materials that are essential when needed.

Mr. Scheerer cited an example of the compactness for storage that microfilm provides by noting that one foot of film will accomodate approximately 40 pages of a periodical.

The Tech machine has a viewing screen 20x20 inches, with a magnification 19 times greater than the film panel. Either 35mm or 16mm film can be used in the Recordak machine purchased by the library here.

Microfilming the pages of The Ruston Daily Leader through the period that the newspaper has been indexed by Tech's library was done by the microfilm department of the Louisiana State University library.

W. S. C. S. HOLDS PROGRAM MEET

Exercise Held For Brownville Church; Budget Adopted

Mrs. W. A. Coates, vice president and program chairman, Brownville, W. S. C. S., selected "Choose Ye This Day" as the topic of a most impressive pledge service Tuesday evening.

In urging all to pledge, Mrs. Coates said in part: "All things are Thine; no gift have we, Lord of all gifts, to offer Thee; and thence with grateful hearts today, Thine own before Thy feet we lay. . . . Just now we stand at the crossroads, planning the world of tomorrow. Do we choose to spread the idea of healthy bodies, Christian homes, Christian leadership, Christian communities for tomorrow's world? There is an old Spanish proverb; 'Take what you want,' says God, "Take what you want and pay for it!" Our buying power is threefold: greenbills — medium of exchange of the realm; silver coins of service; and the gold coins of prayer. "Take what you want, says God, "Take what you want, and pay for it."

Mrs. Bessie Robinson concluded the program with an interesting talk, "All Children Our Concern." The keynote of her talk was the real needs of children — the unknown child, the child of the city, migrant children, children of the minority group, children of working mothers, — in each instance Mrs. Robinson very ably pointed out the child's needs. She referred to the recent midcentury White House conference and its pledge to children, which she urged all members to secure a copy.

Mrs. G. B. Wilson, president, presided during the business hour. The budget for the year was adopted. It will entail $1,600 and includes much local work as well as meeting the requirements for foreign work. The group feel that they have set a goal, which may be difficult to reach, but when met will mean a great deal to every church member at Brownville.

Only a few generations ago, many English words were spelled in several different ways by reputable authors.

Miss Barbara Jean Mobley Is Bride Of Guy Breese Jones

First Presbyterian Church Of Alexandria Is Setting For Impressive Service

The First Presbyterian Church of Alexandria was the setting for the marriage of Miss Barbara Jean Mobley, daughter of Mr. Clifton Wayne Mobley, and the late Mrs. Barbara Mobley, of Alexandria, and Ensign Guy Breese Jones, of the United States Coast Guard, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Jones, of this city, Saturday, June 14th at four o'clock in the afternoon.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive service before an altar which was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and greenery. Banking the choir loft were large wreaths of magnolia leaves centered with the blossoms and tied with white satin streamers.

Mrs. N. M. Walters at the console of the organ played a program of nuptial selections preceding the ceremony. The soloist, Miss Doris Nell Penny, sang "I Love Thee" and "At Dawning and as the benediction, "The Lord's Prayer". As Miss Mobley entered with her father who gave her in marriage, the organist played the "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin."

The bride was wearing a gown of white Chantilly lace over ice-blue satin. The tight fitting bodice was made with self-covered buttons down the back and the full ballerina - length skirt was scalloped at the hemline. Her veil of illusion was held by a wreath of stephanotis and her cascade bouquet of orchids was encircled with small white blooms. Her only ornament was a necklace of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Mrs. James Erle Clark, of Strong, Ark., was matron of honor, and Miss Agnes Jones, sister of the bridegroom was maid of honor. They wore gowns of light blue nylon net over matching taffeta, made with shirred bodices and full ballernia - length skirt. They wore blue slippers to match their dresses. Their bouquets were of white glamelias.

Mr. Jones attended his son as best man. Ushers were Hudson Tomlinson, of Monroe, now stationed at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss., Tommy Phillips, of Baton Rouge, Elwyn Mobley, Jr., cousin of the bride, and James Erle Clark, of Strong, Ark.

Following the ceremony there was a reception in the lower auditorium of the church, which was decorated with white gladioli and quantities of greenery. Miss Lesle Mobley, aunt of the bride, received in a dress of lavender linen trimmed with beading. Assisting her was Mrs. Jones, mother of the bridegroom, whose dress was of dusty rose linen and lace. Their corsages were of rose-colored carnations.

The bride's table, overlaid with a cloth of embroidered cutwork linen, was decorated with a centerpiece of stephanotis on either side of which were silver candelabra holding lighted tapers. At the cake service was Mrs. Bailey Grant, of Monroe, aunt of the bridegroom, and pouring punch was the bride's aunt, Mrs. Katherine M. Beaty of Little Rock. Others assisting were Misses Emily Mobley, cousin of the bride and Betty Sue Scott, of Monroe, and Mrs. Forster Brewer. Mrs. Elwyn Mobley, aunt of the bride, registered the guests.

For traveling Mrs. Jones chose a summer suit of mauve-colored shantung with which she wore white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Bolton High School and just recently from the Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston, where she was a member of Kappa Delta sorority. She is the maternal granddaughter of Mrs. W. H. Hyde and the late Mr. Hyde of Shreveport and paternally she is descended from the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoover Mobley of this city.

Ensign Jones, who will be stationed in Corpus Christi, Tex., was graduated from the Neville High school and from Louisiana Tech where he was a member of Kappa Sigma and Delta Sigma Pi. He is the grandson of Mr. F. C. Breese of Bay St. Louis, Miss., and the late Mrs. Dora M. Breese, and the late Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jones, of Gainesville, Tex.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. W. H. Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zoder of Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Grant and Miss Bennie Bresse Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Breese and Kim and Fred Breese, Miss Bettie Sue Scott, Mrs. M. S. McGuire, all of this city, Mrs. F. F. McNeeley, Mr. Tom Littlepage, and Mary Lairnia McNeeley of Colfax.

Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Nugent Hill entertained at a supper party in the patio of their home in Alexandria. The event honoring Miss Barbara Jean Mobley and Ensign Guy Breese Jones, was held following the rehearsal for their wedding in the First Presbyterian church. A bride's bouquet of gardenias decorated the supper table.

Miss Mobley presented her attendants with leather jewel boxes and Mr. Jones' attendants received gold tie clips.

Others in the party were the bride-elect's father, Mr. Clifton Wayne Mobley, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Jones of Monroe, parents of the bridegroom-elect, and Miss Lessie Mobley, Mrs. Katherine M. Beaty of Little Rock, Ark., Miss Agnes Jones, of Monroe, Dr. and Mrs. William G. Foster, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Mobley, Jr., Miss Emily Mobley, Miss Doris Nell Penny, Hudson Tomlinson of Monroe, Tommy Phillips of Baton Rouge and Mr. and Mrs. James Erle Clark of Strong, Ark.

Roamin' In The Rural

with
Euna D. Spielman
Home Demonstration Agent

The L. S. U. farm and home week is August 11-15th this year. This is refresher week for those attending. They will be given up-to-date information to be used on the farm and in the home. Lodging is free, the L. S. U. dormitories. The cost of transportation and meals is small.

The home garden program has many interesting features this year.

Dr. W. D. Kimbrough will have both slides and actual roses from the test plot at L. S. U. experimental farm to show best varities and latest information on control of rose diseases and insects.

Kirby L. Cocherham, extension entomalogist will show how to win your battle with the bugs which attack flowers and ornamentals. He will give demonstrations on control methods.

The conservation and use of native plant material will be given by Professor Martin B. Applequist forestry professor at L. S. U. He will discuss how to save the rare and scarce plants and will also tell you how to safely move and take care of any native plants you want to use in landscaping your surroundings.

Mrs. U. B. Evans of Haphazard plantation will show you how to have year round color in your garden. Mrs. Evans is a noted authority on bulbs of Louisiana.

Ronnie Merrill a 4-H, high school East Baton Rouge boy will demonstrate "corsages for everyone." And Ronnie is an excellent teacher of this subject.

Mr. Marshall Hicks, a decorator from a New Orleans furniture store will give a program on "Fabrics and Color Schemes for Period Rooms" including a Georgian drawing room, a Chippendale dining room, a French provincial living room, a colonial master bedroom and an Early American living room, a modern entrance hall and a modern living room.

Mr. Hicks will have drapery and upholstery fabrics.

The Baton Rouge garden club will provide flower arrangements suggestive of each period.

One afternoon, Mr. Hicks and his wife will give demonstrations on how to - do - decoration on little money.

This is only the garden program. There will be programs on cooking on ice; consumer education, buying shoes, foundation garments meats and canned products. You can get up-to-date on clothing in the clothing division, learn the new fabrics. Watch for other programs. Make plans to attend. Anyone interested in getting information offered through this office is urged to get in touch with the agent at 3-2251. This program is open to everyone in the parish of Ouachita. You do not have to be a member of a home demonstration club to go. If 25 or 30 women (or men) register to go with the extension service, agricultural building, West Monroe, the agents will arrange for transportation by bus for the group.

Bug Trouble

Remember use 20 per cent sabedilla dust to control squash, calico and stinkbugs on tomatoes, squash, field peas, butter beans, collards and other plants. For the tomato fruit worm bettles on snap beans, cucumbers, cantelopes, watermelons and squash use cryolite 30 cer cent. For worms in cucumbers, eggplants use dithane Z-78 8 per cent.

Get leaflets on insect control from extension service.

Home Management Hints

Don't stand and sprinkle clothes for thirty minutes. Buy you a plastic bag used for this purpose. Follow instructions on how to use, it tells how much water per pound of clothes to use. It will save time and energy and clothes will be just moist enough to iron. Store in ice box or home freezer until you are ready to iron these clothes to prevent a sour odor in hot weather.

If you have any brass, clean it with lemon and salt. Use silver polish to clean silver and pewter.

Yes, there's lots of ironing these hot days and maybe the face of your iron has taken on its coating of brown, too. You can clean your iron's face withou making it rough by using silver polish. Be sure not to scrape it with a metal knife, as it will cause it to be rough.

Use household ammonia to clean glass, mirrors and to remove grease from stove. Sponges are better than clothes to use in cleaning these, save figure bruises.

Farmers Bulletin No. 1834, United States department of agriculture house cleaning management and methods gives many other sug gestions on house cleaning.

Club Notes

Cadeville has a real active home demonstration club. The officers and leaders assume their responsibilities, in spite of the heat 14 women were present Tuesday to participate in the club meeting.

Mrs. Nell Wilder, the hostess, is one of the broiler producers of Ouachita with near 4,000 broilers ready for market in 5 weeks. The club members saw her demonstration. That poultry house was wonderfully cool for such a hot day. So be sure you get a blue print from the extension office, if you are going to build a broiler house.

The agent will not roam in the rural for the next three weeks, as she will be up-to-dating herself on new methods to be used in extension work. She will attend the southern regional school for extension workers at Fayettville, Ark., June 30th to July 18th. Roam with you when I return.

CUT WEDDING CAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayo, Jr., shown above at the reception following their marriage which was solemnized June 6 at the First Methodist Church. The bride is the former Sara Guy, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Guy, of this city. Mr. Mayo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayo, Sr.

Miss Sarah Guy Is June Bride Of Henry Mayo, Jr.

First Methodist Church Chapel Is Setting For Impressive Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Sara Guy became the bride of Henry Mayo, Jr., in an impressive ceremony Friday, June 6, at 6 o'clock in the evening in the beautiful little chapel of the First Methodist Church. Dr. A. M. Serex neard their wedding vows before the altar which was appointed with the altar cloth of handsome imported linen cut work. At each end was a beautiful floral arrangement of white lilies and gardenias with a background of graceful gladioli and green fern in tall silver vases. The chapel was softly lighted by tall burning white wedding tapers. Bows of white satin ribbon tied with white gardenias marked the aisle for the bride to enter.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Guy of Monroe. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayo, Sr., of Monroe, La.

For the prenuptial music, Mr. Slade Brown played the beautiful "Largo" by Handel and "Oh, Promise Me." Mrs. Slade Brown sang in glorious voice "Because."

The matron of honor, Mrs. R. B. Bailey, wore pale jade nylon net over taffeta with matching nylon lace jacket, and mitts and Juliet cap of the same pattern of lace. Her bouquet was of lavender asters, which were fashioned in wagon wheel design. Mrs. Bailey preceded the bride to the altar to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March. Mr. Henry Mayo, Sr., father of the groom, served as best man.

The bride was never lovelier as she walked down the aisle on the arm of her brother, Mr. E. L. Guy, who gave his sister in marriage. Her gown was ankle length of bride's white nylon net with very full skirt over white nylon taffeta with strapless bodice of lace over which she wore a waist length fitted jacket of nylon lace with long tight sleeves which pointed at the wrist. Her jacket was pointed at the waist line in the back and was buttoned down the front with tiny covered buttons. A short flared peplum emphasized the petite figure of the bride. Her Juliet cap was fashioned of matching lace with veil of illusion shoulder length. The only jewelry worn by the bride was a choker of perfectly matched pearls. The bride carried a small white satin covered Bible topped by one beautful orchid with streamers of narrow white satin ribbon tied with white tube roses. The bride carried out the traditional "Something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue." For "something old" she carried in the folds of the satin covered Bible an heirloom, a tiny pin which has been in the bridegroom's family for over 150 years and has been used for the same purpose for many years by each member of his family.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Abington with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas May as co-host and hostess. Mrs. Abington, who met the guests and invited them in, was wearing a champagne lace dress with pink carnation corsage. The receiving line was formed before the beautiful mirrored mantle, which was tastefully appointed with a large arrangement in fan shape of white gladioli, white daisies and white baby mums. Mrs. George Whitmeyer introduced the guests to Mrs. Charles North, sister of the bride and Mr. E. L. Guy, brother of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayo, Sr., parents of the groom, stood next in line. Mrs. Mayo, the groom's mother, was wearing a blue shadow print accordion pleated model with off the shoulder short sleeved bodice and a shoulder corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. R. B. Bailey, matron of honor, stood next to the bride and groom.

The guests were invited by Mrs. Thomas May, wearing a lovely white pique and lace dress, into the dining room, where the bride's table was overlaid with a handmade Italian lace cloth. At one end of the table was the three-tiered bride's cake, surrounded by gardenias. Near the cake was a handsome silver candelabra with tall white tapers, each tied with a bow of white satin ribbon in the center of which was placed a gardenia. At the other end was an exquisite silver punch bowl. Champagne punch was served to the guests who passed on through the dining room to the lovely sola - rium. Pouring was Miss Dorothy Horton, wearing a becoming model of navy, gray and gold striped nylon. She was assisted by Norma Jean Holcomb and Judy Abington, who passed around confections. Beautiful arrangements of white bridal flowers were at vantage points, making a lovely background for the wedding party.

The couple left for a brief honeymoon. They are now at home at 808 North Fourth street.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and Northeast Center of L. S. U. The groom is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and Louisiana State University.

MISS MARY LOU FURY IS BRIDE OF LEE ROY CROCKER

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Mary Lou Fury, who is a A2-C in the WAFs, and A1-C Lee Roy Crocker, of Tulsa, Okla.

The ceremony took place in Roswell, N. M. in the presence of friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Rose Fury of Lafayette, La., formerly of Monroe and the granddaughter of Mrs. Frank Tichell of this city. She entered the service in November of this past year and was recently promoted to the rank of a 2-C. Before her enlistment in the WAFs she was employed by D. C. Hall Transport, Inc., of this city.

A 1-C Crocker is a native of Tulsa, Okla.

The couple are making their home in Roswell, N. M. where both are stationed at Walker Air Force Base.

Miss Barbara Jean Mobley Is Bride Of Guy Breese Jones

First Presbyterian Church Of Alexandria Is Setting For Impressive Service

The First Presbyterian Church of Alexandria was the setting for the marriage of Miss Barbara Jean Mobley, daughter of Mr. Clifton Wayne Mobley, and the late Mrs. Barbara Mobley, of Alexandria, and Ensign Guy Breese Jones, of the United States Coast Guard, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Jones, of this city, Saturday, June 14th at four o'clock in the afternoon.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive service before an altar which was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and greenery. Banking the choir loft were large wreaths of magnolia leaves centered with the blossoms and tied with white satin streamers.

Mrs. N. M. Walters at the console of the organ played a program of nuptial selections preceding the ceremony. The soloist, Miss Doris Nell Penny, sang "I Love Thee" and "At Dawning and as the benediction, "The Lord's Prayer". As Miss Mobley entered with her father who gave her in marriage, the organist played the "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin."

The bride was wearing a gown of white Chantilly lace over ice-blue satin. The tight fitting bodice was made with self-covered buttons down the back and the full ballerina - length skirt was scalloped at the hemline. Her veil of illusion was held by a wreath of stephanotis and her cascade bouquet of orchids was encircled with small white blooms. Her only ornament was a necklace of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Mrs. James Erle Clark, of Strong, Ark., was matron of honor, and Miss Agnes Jones, sister of the bridegroom was maid of honor. They wore gowns of light blue nylon net over matching taffeta, made with shirred bodices and full ballerina - length skirt. They wore blue slippers to match their dresses, Their bouquets were of white gladiolas.

Mr. Jones attended his son as best man. Ushers were Hudson Tomlinson, of Monroe, now stationed at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss., Tommy Phillips, of Baton Rouge, Elwyn Mobley, Jr., cousin of the bride, and James Erle Clark, of Strong, Ark.

Following the ceremony there was a reception in the lower auditorium of the church, which was decorated with white gladioli and quantities of greenery. Miss Lessie Mobley, aunt of the bride, received in a dress of lavender linen trimmed with beading. Assisting her was Mrs. Jones, mother of the bridegroom, whose dress was of dusty rose linen and lace. Their corsages were of rose-colored carnations.

The bride's table, overlaid with a cloth of embroidered cutwork linen, was decorated with a centerpiece of stephanotis on either side of which were silver candelabra holding lighted tapers. At the cake service was Mrs. Bailey Grant, of Monroe, aunt of the bridegroom, and pouring punch was the bride's aunt, Mrs. Katherine M. Beaty of Little Rock. Others assisting were Misses Emily Mobley, cousin of the bride and Betty Sue Scott, of Monroe, and Mrs. Forster Brewer. Mrs. Elwyn Mobley, aunt of the bride, registered the guests.

For traveling Mrs. Jones chose a summer suit of mauve-colored shantung with which she wore white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Bolton High School and just recently from the Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston, where she was a member of Kappa Delta sorority. She is the maternal granddaughter of Mrs. W. H. Hyde and the late Mr. Hyde of Shreveport and paternally she is descended from the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoover Mobley of this city.

Ensign Jones, who will be stationed in Corpus Christi, Tex., was graduated from the Neville High school and from Louisiana Tech where he was a member of Kappa Sigma and Delta Sigma Pi. He is the grandson of Mr. F. C. Breese of Bay St. Louis, Miss., and the late Mrs. Dora M. Breese, and the late Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jones, of Gainesville, Tex.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. W. H. Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zoder of Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Grant and Miss Bennie Bresse Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Breese and Kim and Fred Breese, Miss Bettie Sue Scott, Mrs. M. S. McGuire, all of this city, Mrs. F. F. McNeeley, Mr. Tom Littlepage, and Mary Lairnia McNeeley of Colfax.

Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Nugent Hill entertained at a supper party in the patio of their home in Alexandria. The event honoring Miss Barbara Jean Mobley and Ensign Guy Breese Jones, was held following the rehearsal for their wedding in the First Presbyterian church. A bride's bouquet of gardenias decorated the supper table.

Miss Mobley presented her attendants with leather jewel boxes and Mr. Jones' attendants received gold tie clips.

Others in the party were the bride-elect's father, Mr. Clifton Wayne Mobley, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Jones of Monroe, parents of the bridegroom-elect, and Miss Lessie Mobley, Mrs. Katherine M. Beaty of Little Rock, Ark., Miss Agnes Jones, of Monroe, Dr. and Mrs. William G. Foster, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Mobley, Jr., Miss Emily Mobley, Miss Doris Nell Penny, Hudson Tomlinson of Monroe, Tommy Phillips of Baton Rouge and Mr. and Mrs. James Erle Clark of Strong, Ark.

Roamin' In The Rural

with
Elma D. Spielman
Home Demonstration Agent

The L. S. U. farm and home week is August 11-15th this year. This is refresher week for those attending. They will be given up-to-date information to be used on the farm and in the home. Lodging is free, the L. S. U. dormitories. The cost of transportation and meals is small.

The home garden program has many interesting features this year.

Dr. W. D. Kimbrough will have both slides and actual roses from the test plot at L. S. U. experimental farm to show best varities and latest information on control of rose diseases and insects.

Kirby L. Cocherham, extension entomologist will show how to win your battle with the bugs which attack flowers and ornamentals. He will give demonstrations on control methods.

The conservation and use of native plant material will be given by Professor Martin B. Applequist forestry professor at L. S. U. He will discuss how to save the rare and scarce plants and will also tell you how to safely move and take care of any native plants you want to use in landscaping your surroundings.

Mrs. U. B. Evans of Haphazard plantation will show you how to have year round color in your garden. Mrs. Evans is a noted authority on bulbs of Louisiana.

Ronnie Merrill a 4-H, high school East Baton Rouge boy will demonstrate "corsages for everyone." And Ronnie is an excellent teacher of this subject.

Mr. Marshall Hicks, a decorator from a New Orleans furniture store will give a program on "Fabrics and Color Schemes for Period Rooms" including a Georgian drawing room, a Chiopendale dining room, a French provincial living room, a colonial master bedroom and an Early American living room, a modern entrance hall and a modern living room.

Mr. Hicks will have drapery and upholstery fabrics.

The Baton Rouge garden club will provide flower arrangements suggestive of each period.

One afternoon, Mr. Hicks and his wife will give demonstrations on how to - do - decoration on little money.

This is only the garden program. There will be programs on cooking on ice; consumer education, buying shoes, foundation garments meats and canned products. You can get up-to-date on clothing in the clothing division, learn the new fabrics. Watch for other programs. Make plans to attend. Anyone interested in getting information offered through this office is urged to get in touch with the agent at 3-2251. This program is open to everyone in the parish of Ouachita. You do not have to be a member of a home demonstration club to go. If 25 or 30 women (or men) register to go with the extension service, sericultural building, West Monroe, the agents will arrange for transportation by bus for the group.

Bug Trouble

Remember use 20 per cent sabedilla dust to control squash, calico and stinkbugs on tomatoes, squash, field peas, butter beans, collards and other plants. For the tomato fruit worm battles on snap beans, cucumbers, canteloupes, watermelons and squash use cryolite 20 cer cent. For worms in cucumbers, eggplants use dithane Z-78 8 per cent.

Get leaflets on insect control from extension service.

Home Management Hints

Don't stand and sprinkle clothes for thirty minutes. Buy you a plastic bag used for this purpose. Follow instructions on how to use, it tells how much water per pound of clothes to use. It will save time and energy and clothes will be just moist enough to iron. Store in ice box or home freezer until you are ready to iron these clothes to prevent a sour oder in hot weather.

If you have any brass, clean it with lemon and salt. Use silver polish to clean silver and pewter.

Yes, there's lots of ironing these hot days and maybe the face of your iron has taken on its coating of brown, too. You can clean your iron's face without making it rough by using silver polish. Be sure not to scrape it with a metal knife, as it will cause it to be rough.

Use household ammonia to clean glass, mirrors and to remove grease from stove. Sponges are better than clothes to use in cleaning these, save figure bruises.

Farmers Bulletin No. 1834, United States department of agriculture house cleaning management and methods gives many other suggestions on house cleaning.

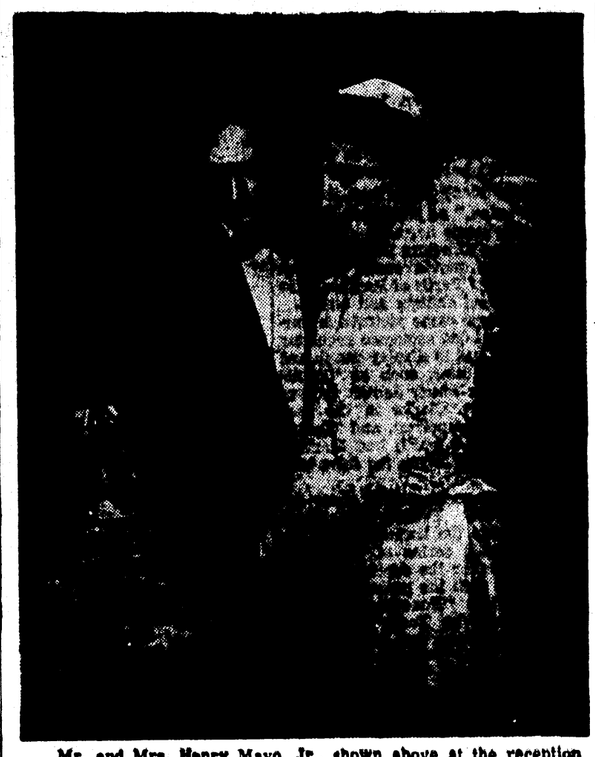

Club Notes

Cadeville has a real active home demonstration club. The officers and leaders assume their responsibilities, in spite of the heat 16 women were present Tuesday to participate in the club meeting.

Mrs. Nell Wilder, the hostess, is one of the broiler producers of Ouachita with near 4,000 broilers ready for market in 5 weeks. The club members saw her demonstration. That poultry house was wonderfully cool for such a hot day. So be sure you get a blue print from the extension office, if you are going to build a broiler house.

The agent will not roam in the rural for the next three weeks, as she will be up-to-dating herself on new methods to be used in extension work. She will attend the southern regional school for extension workers at Fayetteville, Ark., June 30th to July 12th. Roam with you when I return.

CUT WEDDING CAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayo, Jr., shown above at the reception following their marriage which was solemnized June 6 at the First Methodist Church. The bride is the former Sara Guy, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Guy, of this city. Mr. Mayo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayo, Sr.

Miss Sarah Guy Is June Bride Of Henry Mayo, Jr.

First Methodist Church Chapel Is Setting For Impressive Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Sara Guy became the bride of Henry Mayo, Jr., in an impressive ceremony Friday, June 6, at 6 o'clock in the evening in the beautiful little chapel of the First Methodist Church. Dr. A. M. Serex heard their wedding vows before the altar which was appointed with the altar cloth of handsome imported linen cut work. At each end was a beautiful floral arrangement of white lilies and gardenias with a background of graceful gladioli and green fern in tall silver vases. The chapel was softly lighted by tall burning white wedding tapers. Bows of white satin ribbon tied with white gardenias marked the aisle for the bride to enter.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Guy of Monroe. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayo, Sr., of Monroe, La.

For the prenuptial music, Mr. Slade Brown played the beautiful "Largo" by Handel and "Oh, Promise Me." Mrs. Slade Brown sang in glorious voice "Because."

The matron of honor, Mrs. R. B. Bailey, wore pale jade nylon net over taffeta with matching nylon lace jacket, and mitts and Juliet cap of the same pattern of lace. Her bouquet was of lavender asters, which were fashioned in wagon wheel design. Mrs. Bailey preceded the bride to the altar to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March. Mr. Henry Mayo, Sr., father of the groom, served as best man.

The bride was never loveller as she walked down the aisle on the arm of her brother, Mr. E. L. Guy, who gave his sister in marriage. Her gown was ankle length of bride's white nylon net with very full skirt over white nylon taffeta with strapless bodice of lace over which she wore a waist length fitted jacket of nylon lace with long tight sleeves which pointed at the wrist. Her jacket was pointed at the waist line in the back and was buttoned down the front with tiny covered buttons. A short flared peplum emphasized the petite figure of the bride. Her Juliet cap was fashioned of matching lace with veil of illusion shoulder length. The only jewelry worn by the bride was a choker of perfectly matched pearls. The bride carried a small white satin covered Bible topped by one beautful orchid with streamers of narrow white satin ribbon tied with white tube roses. The bride carried out the traditional "Something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue." For "something old" she carried in the folds of the satin covered Bible an heirloom, a tiny pin which has been in the bridegroom's family for over 150 years and has been used for the same purpose for many years by each member of his family.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Abington with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas May as co-host and hostess. Mrs. Abington, who met the guests and invited them in, was wearing a champagne lace dress with pink carnation corsage. The receiving line was formed before the beautiful mirrored mantle, which was tastefully appointed with a large arrangement in fan shape of white gladioli, white daisies and white baby mums. Mrs. George Whitmeyer introduced the guests to Mrs. Charles North, sister of the bride and Mr. E. L. Guy, brother of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayo, Sr., parents of the groom, stood next in line. Mrs. Mayo, the groom's mother, was wearing a blue shadow print accordion pleated model with off the shoulder short sleeved bodice and a shoulder corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. R. B. Bailey, matron of honor, stood next to the bride and groom.

The guests were invited by Mrs. Thomas May, wearing a lovely white pique and lace dress, into the dining room, where the bride's table was overlaid with a handmade Italian lace cloth. At one end of the table was the three-tiered bride's cake, surrounded by gardenias. Near the cake was a handsome silver candelabra with tall white tapers, each tied with a bow of white satin ribbon in the center of which was placed a gardenia. At the other end was an exquisite silver punch bowl. Champagne punch was served to the guests who passed on through the dining room to the lovely sola - rium. Pouring was Miss Dorothy Horton, wearing a becoming model of navy, gray and gold striped nylon. She was assisted by Norma Jean Holcomb and Judy Abington, who passed around confections. Beautiful arrangements of white bridal flowers were at vantage points, making a lovely background for the wedding party.

The couple left for a brief honeymoon. They are now at home at 809 North Fourth street.

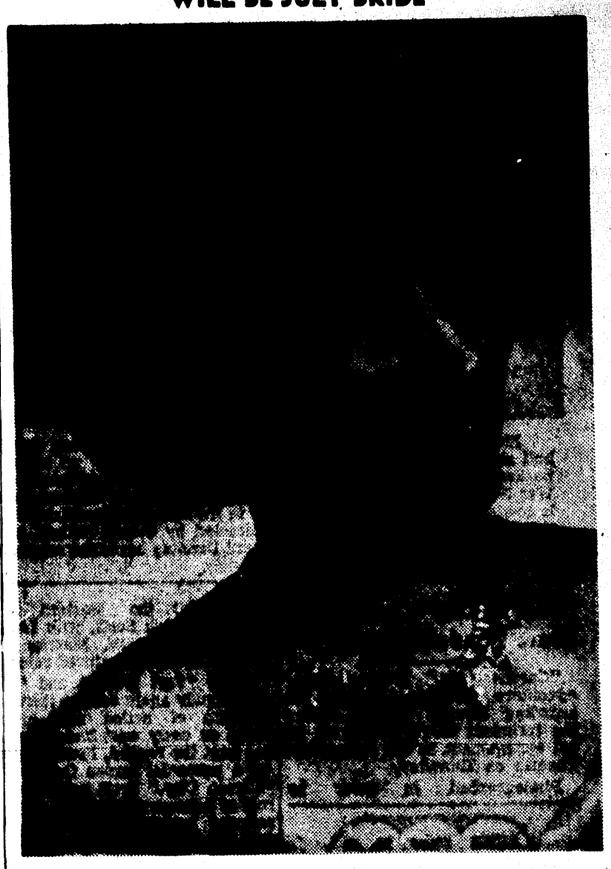

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and Northeast Center of L. S. U. The groom is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and Louisiana State University.

TUESDAY AT JOY

Shapely Yvonne De Carlo plays a colorful New Orleans dance hall siren in Universal-International's "Scarlet Angel," an action-packed story told against the spectacular background of post-Civil War New Orleans and San Francisco. Popular young Rock Hudson is co-starred with Miss De Carlo cast in the role of a swashbuckling sea captain. "Scarlet Angel" was directed by Sidney Salkow and produced by Leonard Goldstein. Richard Denning heads the supporting cast.

De Carlo Boasts Rugged Action Woman Film Roles

Current filmland trend indicates the "action woman" is vanishing from the Hollywood scene.

Yvonne De Carlo, recently named Hollywood's "Belle of the Brawl," is considered one of the last remaining "action" feminine stars. The actress is now starring with popular young Rock Hudson in Universal-International's Tech- "Scarlet Angel," opening Tuesday at the Joy Theater. Yvonne plays the role of a colorful New Orleans dance hall siren in the new action-film and joins Hudson in several rip-roaring barroom brawls.

Not so many years ago the 'action woman," as two-fisted, swashbuckling movie heroines are called by casting directors in films, dominated the movie scene in such thrillers as "Perils of Pauline," the Ruth Roland chillers and others.

After these came pictures featuring at least one sequence requiring their heroines to display rough and tumble qualities, such as "Public Enemy," in which James Cagney slapped Mae Clarke in the face with a half grapefruit, and "Destry Rides Again," which had Marlene Dietrich brawling on the floor with Una Merkel.

It wasn't so long after these examples that Yvonne De Carlo flashed onto the horizon in the beginning of a series of unladylike adventures for the screen that has continued until the present.

Films like "Buccaneer's Girl," "The Gal Who Took the West," "Calamity Jane and Sam Bass," "River Lady," "Black Bart" and others required Yvonne to swing and claw her way through brawling mobs as she played roles depiciting all sorts of characters, ranging from lady pirate to gambling queen.

Richad Denning heads the large supporting cast of "Scarlet Angel." Sidney Salkow directed and Leonard Goldstein produced.

'Carson City' Coming, Stars Randolph Scott

"Carson City," Warner Bros.' adventure story set against the brawling Nevada capital during the turbulent 1870's, begins its local engagement at the Paramount Theatre on Thursday.

Photographed in color by Warnercolor, the western epic stars Randolph Scott, with Lucille Norman, Raymond Massey and Richard Webb in featured roles.

As in "Fort Worth" and "Colt .45," Randy again carries the Scott tradition of action and drama based on early west history which has kept the rugged, handsome actor a perennial screen favorite. In "Carson City," Scott portrays the role of a construction engineer of a railroad being built to haul gold and silver ore from the rich Comstock Lode in the mountains down to the main line. Opposition forces, led by Massey, resort to sabotage and murder in order to hamper the project. The townsfolk look to Randy for justice, and get it in the form of an exciting man hunt climaxed atop the ledge of a mountain.

Among the highlights of the filmplay is the introduction of an outlaw group known as the "champagne bandits," who robbed gold-laden stagecoaches but served al fresco meals to passengers to promote their good will if they should later be asked to describe the hold up men. Passengers were often too tipsy or kindly disposed to the bandits to reveal much about them to law officers.

"Carson City" is also the second film to employ the new Warner Bros. color process called Warnercolor, first used in the recent "The Lion and the Horse."

James Millican, Larry Keating, and Vince Barnett play supporting parts in "Carson City," directed by Andre De Toth.

YOUNG LOVERS

Dale Robertson and lovely Anne Francis are the co-stars in "Lydia Bailey," a Twentieth Century-Fox production in color by Technicolor now showing at the Tem Theatre. Featured are Charles Korvin and William Marshall.

Printers, Stationers Meet In Lafayette

A. V. Breard, Bob Burns and Julius Irving attended a meeting of the board of directors of the Printers and Stationers Association of Louisiana, held in Lafayette Saturday, June 21st, Mr. Burns being secretary - treasurer of the association and Mr. Breard one of the directors.

"Buy It In Louisiana" was a slogan that was unanimously adopted by this meeting to be used in an effort to put a check reign on a tendency of many people in Louisiana to buy from neighboring or other states a product which could be bought in our good state without having to pay a penalty for the purchase. There are millions of dollars made in Louisiana each year that go away from home for a product that should be spent with Louisiana people.

Other organizations, chambers of commerce, newspapers are urgently requested to pick up this slogan and cooperate with the printers and stationers in an effort to keep this good money in Louisiana.

Any organization or agency within the state are invited to join in on this campaign. The printers and stationers are going to push it from all corners of the state.

Spencer Tracy plays a dese, dem and dose sports promoter, with Katharine Hepburn as the world's greatest lady athlete, in "Pat and Mike," M-G-M's hilarious comedy now showing at the Paramount. The new film favorite, Aldo Ray, co-stars and the cast also features such sports personalities as Gussie Moran, Babe Didrikson Zaharias, Don Budge, Alice Marble and Frank Parker.

Tracy And Hepburn Are Comedy Champs

The story of a feminine athletic virtuoso and a shady sports promoter who takes her under his wing for something less than altruistic reasons, provides the framework for "Pat and Mike, the hilarious new M-G-M romantic-comedy co-starring Spencer Tracy and Katherine Hepburn on the Paramount screen.

When it is noted that "Pat and Mike" was written by Ruth Gordon and Garson Kanin, was directed by George Cukor, and was produced by Lawrence Weingarten, the quartet responsible for that earlier Tracy - Hepburn laugh riot, "Adams Rib, an idea may be given of the wit, satire and originality of the new offering, in which Miss Hepburn is seen as Pat, a girl who is a whiz at golf, tennis, baseball, basketball, boxing, skeet-shooting, archery— and Judo! —— with Tracy enacting the unschooled, roughmannered Mike, who attempts to put over his biggest deal by introducing sex appeal into the sports racket.

The amusingly incongruous relationship between the former head of womens physical education at a California university and the Broadway promoter, who already has a racing horse and a heavyweight fighter as "clients and who, possessing the top horse and the top man, is now determined to have the "top woman, makes for one riotous situation after the other, culminating in a plot twist in which the resourceful Pat employs her skill at Judo to vanquish a pair of thugs who threaten Mike, and the latter relies on his own brand of cunning to kill off Pats attachment to a stuffy rival and to win her over to his own colors.

The versatile Miss Hepburn recently won widespread plaudits for her characterization of the frigid spinster in "The African Queen, is now given an opportunity to reveal her prowess in the sports world. In "Pat and Mike," the course of her climb toward all-around athletic championship has her sinking golf balls without a miss, executing smashing volleys in tennis matches, mowing down the rack on a rifle range, and throwing a mean pitch on the baseball diamond. The realism of the films sports scenes is enhanced by the fact that M-G-M engaged such world-famed figures as Gussie Moran, Babe Didrikson Zaharias, Don Budge, Alice Marble, Frank Parker, Betty Hicks, Beverly Hanson and Helen Dettweiler to play "themselves in respective matches, with the indomitable Miss Hepburn holding her own against one and all.

Shapely Yvonne De Carlo plays a colorful New Orleans dance hall siren in Universal-International's "Scarlet Angel," an action-packed story told against the spectacular background of post-Civil War New Orleans and San Francisco. Popular young Rock Hudson is co-starred with Miss De Carlo cast in the role of a swashbuckling sea captain. "Scarlet Angel" was directed by Sidney Salkow and produced by Leonard Goldstein. Richard Denning heads the supporting cast.

'Carson City' Coming, Stars Randolph Scott

"Carson City," Warner Bros.' adventure story set against the brawling Nevada capital during the turbulent 1870's, begins its local engagement at the Paramount Theatre on Thursday.

Photographed in color by Warnercolor, the western epic stars Randolph Scott, with Lucille Norman, Raymond Massey and Richard Webb in featured roles.

As in "Fort Worth" and "Colt 45," Randy again carries the Scott tradition of action and drama based on early west history which has kept the rugged, handsome actor a perennial screen favorite. In "Carson City," Scott portrays the role of a construction engineer of a railroad being built to haul gold and silver ore from the rich Comstock Lode in the mountains down to the main line. Opposition forces, led by Massey, resort to sabotage and murder in order to hamper the project. The townsfolk look to Randy for justice, and get it in the form of an exciting man hunt climaxed atop the ledge of a mountain.

Among the highlights of the filmplay is the introduction of an outlaw group known as the "champagne bandits," who robbed gold-laden stagecoaches but served al fresco meals to passengers to promote their good will if they should later be asked to describe the hold up men. Passengers were often too tipsy or kindly disposed to the bandits to reveal much about them to law officers.

"Carson City" is also the second film to employ the new Warner Bros. color process called Warnercolor, first used in the recent "The Lion and the Horse."

James Millican, Larry Keating, and Vince Barnett play supporting parts in "Carson City," directed by Andre De Toth.

De Carlo Boasts Rugged Action Woman Film Roles

Current filmland trend indicates the "action woman" is vanishing from the Hollywood scene.

Yvonne De Carlo, recently named Hollywood's "Belle of the Brawl," is considered one of the last remaining "action" feminine stars. The actress is now starring with popular young Rock Hudson in Universal-International's Tech-"Scarlet Angel," opening Tuesday at the Joy Theater. Yvonne plays the role of a colorful New Orleans dance hall siren in the new action-film and joins Hudson in several rip-roaring barroom brawls.

Not so many years ago the 'action woman," as two-fisted, swashbuckling movie heroines are called by casting directors in films, dominated the movie scene in such thrillers as "Perils of Pauline," the Ruth Roland chillers and others.

After these came pictures featuring at least one sequence requiring their heroines to display rough and tumble qualities, such as "Public Enemy," in which James Cagney slapped Mae Clarke in the face with a half grapefruit, and "Destry Rides Again," which had Marlene Dietrich brawling on the floor with Una Merkel.

It wasn't so long after these examples that Yvonne De Carlo flashed onto the horizon in the beginning of a series of unladylike adventures for the screen that has continued until the present.

Films like "Buccaneer's Girl," "The Gal Who Took the West," "Calamity Jane and Sam Bass," "River Lady," "Black Bart" and others required Yvonne to swing and claw her way through brawling mobs as she played roles depicting all sorts of characters, ranging from lady pirate to gambling queen.

Richad Denning heads the large supporting cast of "Scarlet Angel." Sidney Salkow directed and Leonard Goldstein produced.

Printers, Stationers Meet In Lafayette

A. V. Breard, Bob Burns and Julius Irving attended a meeting of the board of directors of the Printers and Stationers Association of Louisiana, held in Lafayette Saturday, June 21st, Mr. Burns being secretary - treasurer of the association and Mr. Breard one of the directors.

"Buy It In Louisiana" was a slogan that was unanimously adopted by this meeting to be used in an effort to put a check reign on a tendency of many people in Louisiana to buy from neighboring or other states a product which could be bought in our good state without having to pay a penalty for the purchase. There are millions of dollars made in Louisiana each year that go away from home for a product that should be spent with Louisiana people.

Other organizations, chambers of commerce, newspapers are urgently requested to pick up this slogan and cooperate with the printers and stationers in an effort to keep this good money in Louisiana.

Any organization or agency within the state are invited to join in on this campaign. The printers and stationers are going to push it from all corners of the state.

SOLDIERS REBURIED

NI DEGGEN, Germany (AP)—The last of the German Wehrmacht's World War II fallen soldiers have found their final resting place after seven years. They had been lying in temporary graves hastily dug during the desperate battles of early 1945 by the retreating Germans.

The German War Dead Cemetery Organization has now moved them to new cemeteries in the Rhineland. One of these is the largest military cemetery in Western German. It lies in the Huertgen Forest—site of one of the war's bloodiest battles. The bodies of the Allied soldiers killed in the "Devil's Forest" as it was called by the American GI's were moved to large military cemeteries in Belgium and Luxembourg shortly after the end of hostilities.

The Huertgen cemetery will be dedicated in a solemn ceremony late in August. Three thousand Germans are interred there. Their graves are marked by white stone crosses. But one third of the 3,000 graves are filled by unknown soldiers.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: Recently I was separated from my husband and we both went home to our respective families. We were married not quite a year, and were unhappy for reasons which would take too long to explain. A few days ago I received a clipping from your column about a man married to a girl with a mother fixation. I have no idea who sent such a thing, and I don't think the person who sent it knows what he is doing. I admit I did live near my mother, but had I been happy I would have followed my husband anywhere in the world, if necessary.

The person who sent the clipping does not realize that I received competent advice from marriage counselors before I took this drastic step.

Don't you think it was bad taste to send the clipping without even a name?

PANSY

ANSWER: It is a most despicable thing for anyone to send, or telephone, anonymous messages. I resent very much the use of any part of this column in such a fashion. If the sender of unsigned missives has any idea that his action is guided by a desire to be helpful, he is sadly mistaken, and grievously deluded. His only object is to hurt someone's feelings, reputation or security. The truly helpful person is perfectly willing to give his name in any instance where information is conveyed.

WANTS TO CAUSE TROUBLE

The sender of the column clipping which so disturbed you was motivated by nothing more laudable than a desire to cause trouble.

I might point out, however, that you are not altogether blameless in this anonymity business. You failed to sign your name to the letter sent me, which is as discourteous as any other form of unsigned mail. As I have frequently pointed out, names and addresses are held in strict confidence within the confines of my own desk, and frequently I am in a position to be much more helpful by personal mail than I can be through a column reply.

Whether or not the failure of your marriage was due to a too-close relationship between you and your mother is not a consideration in the present problem. However, since you had the advice of competent counselors, I assume that the step taken was the only recourse under existing circumstances.

I'm sure you are sufficiently aware of the ways of the world to know that you will always have to contend with busybodies who will put their own interpretations on your actions. No one is free from this annoyance and its severity increases in proportion to the gravity of the problem involved. A broken marriage is a situation of particular interest to scandalmongers and there's nothing you can do about them but ignore their gossip.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 16 and going to a prom in a few weeks. After these affairs everyone goes night clubbing. I wonder if you'd tell me what to order at these places. I don't drink, of course, but hate to order ginger ale or some other soft drink and be called sissy. I like the boy I'm going with and wouldn't want him to make fun of me.

KAY

ANSWER: By all means, Kay, and I can't be too emphatic about this, stick to your ginger ale. Even though some thoughtless friend may call you a sissy, your honesty in doing what you know is right will win approval. Furthermore, it is strictly against the law for many places to serve you anything but soft drinks. You are young to be going to a prom, and only by an exhibition of good conduct can you prove your right to be out on such an important date.

"To thine own self be true" is wonderful advice for you to follow; don't compromise with your principles, or do anything you think is wrong simply for the sake of an impression made on your friends.

DEAR MISS DIX: My daughter, an only child, has announced her engagement to a man whose first wife has just started divorce proceedings. I feel that he is still a married man and has no right to give my daughter a ring. Because of my disapproval of the whole matter, my daughter has left home in anger.

TROUBLED MOTHER

ANSWER: The man in question should be horsewhipped, and your daughter, by her rebellious and childish conduct, proves worthy of punishment befitting a spoiled child. She should be forcibly brought home and kept in isolation for a while. Of course this drastic treatment isn't very feasible and, if the girl is of age, not possible. She is certainly in for tragedy, but if her stubbornness continues there's little you can do to help. If the man's present conduct is brought to the attention of his first wife, she may be able to use legal weapons to cancel the engagement but, as she is probably very happy to be rid of such a wretch, there's not too much hope for help from her.

KMLB TO NOTE 23RD BIRTHDAY

KMLB, AM and FM radio station, will celebrate their 23rd birthday with a special program honoring the occasion on July 1.

The special broadcast, which will be narrated by Laurence Gibbs, will also be in memoriam to J. C. Liner, president and founder of KMLB, who died in March.

The program, in which quite a number of employes will participate, will start from the founding of the station in July, 1930, during the turmoil of the great depression and the struggle of the small station to the outstanding place which the station holds now in the community.

Old records and transcriptions, made at the birth of the station, will also be played during the program. Voices will be heard of persons who worked for the station many years ago along with those who work there now.

KMLB issued a personal invitation for all to hear the birthday program.

A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO
by J. Paul Hewitt

Around the Fourth of July, we're reminded of an incident that happened in Paris at the end of the last world war. Although the commemorative dates are different, there's something in the spirit of the time that calls the event to mind. We forget who it was that said, "Know ye a nation by its songs." Well, it seems that the U. S. will long be remembered in Paris by one song . . . THE ST. LOUIS BLUES.

It was a triumphal march . . . with American Blue Jackets swinging along to a stirring four-four beat. The band was hitting up the ST. LOUIS BLUES . . . and down the Champs Elysees, through the Arch of Triumph came the boys in blue . . . swinging along to the stirring strains of a song as American as the Mississippi . . . a BLUES song.

We like to think about that good - humored triumphal march . . . the invasion of a free spirit in a world so long in chains. Maybe it's a good idea for everybody to think about it . . . when we're thinking about our fight for freedom . . . when we're celebrating Independence Day. Maybe we need to remember THE ST. LOUIS BLUES.

For easier, smoother action, select a top-name organ for your playing pleasure. Why don't you stop by soon? We have the famous Hammond organ . . . famous all over for quality and dependability . . . We're at your service at HEWITT, INC. 216 Grammont. Phone: 2-1491.

Our motto: "A church established by God with a future as bright as His face".

Mid-week Services, 7:00 p.m., Wednesday.
Beginning last Sunday morning the pastor started preaching a series of sermons on "What Saith The Scriptures?" The first sermon at the morning worship service was "you have sinned." At the night worship service the second sermon was on "You are lost."
At the morning worship this Sunday his sermon will be "God loves You." At the night worship his theme will be "he will save you."
You are urged not to miss any of the rest of these sermons. There will be three more following the services this Sunday, the title of which will be announced in the following church bulletin.
These sermons are being given with the hope of helping all to find and follow the Lord.

"Christian Science" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and societies Sunday, June 29, 1952.
The Golden Text is: "The ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away" (Isa. 35:10).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you" (John 14:26).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Our Master said, 'But the Comforter . . . shall teach you all things.' When the Science of Christianity appears, it will lead you into all truth" (p. 271).

Our Children

FAMILY TROUBLES

"Our son is coming home from the hospital soon. He was wounded in the war and lost his right leg. How shall we prepare the other children, especially the youngest one, aged six, for his appearance? They don't know that this happened to him."
Tell the children the truth. Tell it in such a way that they look on this loss of a limb in the war as a badge of honor, which it is. Try not to be sad about it in your talk, or in your manner. Be careful not to make the soldier an object of pity.
Maimed soldiers hate to be pitied. That makes them feel that people believe them to be injured so as to make them unfit for any use in life. The thought can destroy a hopeful homecoming soldier. It is an error in the very beginning, for as long as a man or woman feels able and fit to take on life's responsibilities, he is able. To destroy faith in such fitness is to destroy a life.
When these veterans return, they are to be given the heartiest welcome possible. They are to be shown how much they mean to their own people. They are not to be pitied, nor babied, which they will resent mightily. They are to be received with the same matter-of-course attitude with which they were sent off. The loss of arm or leg, a scar here or there, a disability of any sort, is to be accepted "as is," and the veteran shown that he is expected to take up his life where he left off. What help he needs he must have in the same matter - of - course fashion, but no overly sympathetic fussing if he is to be made comfortable.
Trying to hide family misfortunes from the children never helps. They cannot be hidden for any length of time and, if they are discovered by the children from whom they have been hidden, the reaction is not likely to help either the children or their families. The youngsters feel that they have been pushed outside the family circle. That they resent. They feel that they have not been trusted, as members of the inner circle are, and they feel like outsiders with their noses against the window panes.
Tell the children the truth when trouble strikes, so the family faces it together. That is what families are for. Their unity, loyalty, affection one for the other is what forms their defense against grief, a defense against which the storms of life beat in vain. Take the children in so they may lend their united strength to the family's support.

An obedient child is like by everyone and requires little attention on the paren'ts part if training is started in babyhood. Dr. Patri tells how to guide children in obedience in booklet No. 301, "Obedience." To obtain a copy send 25 cents in coin to him, c-o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. .

Meet To Plan New Southside Church

Following an exhaustive canvas house to house in and around the Cotton Mill addition to secure names of Methodists who desire a church on the site that has been purchased by this denomination, there will be held a meeting in the Booster club house, Ouachita avenue, July 13 at 11 a. m. to effect organization.
There are shown to be 127 families in the area named who would welcome a new church. Methodists locally have purchased the site for the church at South Fourth and Wilson streets, near Winnsboro road.
All those interested are urged to attend the meeting when further plans will be effected states Rev. W. H. Giles, district superintendent. Rev. Lea Joyner will be the pastor of the new church.

SILVER STERLINGS

Under the Saxon kings, the British minted coins called sterlings from silver, 240 to the pound. Large quantities of the coins were reckoned as pounds of sterlings; later, pounds sterling, present name of the British monetary unit.

In 1951, the American Bible Society distributed more than eight million Bibles in the United States.

Bible Comment

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Love: the fullfilling of the law

The New Testament cannot be rightly understood without reference to the Old.
Christianity began with Jews, and it was a Jew, Paul, who was its great second-generation interpreter.
Deep and dominant in Judaism was the conception of the Law. One can see how large a part it was in the Epistles of St. Paul, and in his efforts to relate the Law to "the faith that is counted for righteousness" and to his conception of freedom in Christ.
In His recorded words and teachings Jesus gave no such elaborate discussions and expositions as are in Paul's Epistles. In plain, unmistakable words, however, He summed up the Law in two great commandments: to love God with all the heart, and strength, and soul, and mind: love one's neighbor as one's self.
But all was not contained in that simple pronouncement. Jesus amplified it with much concerning humility and service, and the essence of true greatness. Also, He brought to it an unmistakable illustration.
This was the Parable of the Good Samaritan, recorded in Luke 10. That a Samaritan, one of those with whom, racially and religiously, the Jews had no dealings, should actually be a better exponent of the commandment to love one's neighbors than a Jewish priest, or a Levite, was to put the matter in the most challenging way possible, and to assert in the strongest way that love in action meant far more than religious pretentiousness or any professed superiority.
Jesus did not mean to imply for a moment that a Samaritan was better than a priest or a Levite. As a matter of fact there was much warrant historically for the attitude of the Jews toward the Samaritans.
These colonists had brought their various pagan religions with them, but when trouble came upon them, as recorded in II Kings 17: 24-41, they had a Jewish priest come along them to instruct them in "the religion of the land."
The result was a corruption of Jewish religious elements with paganism. But this was not all.
They refused to let Jews pass through Samaria on their way to their religious feasts, and they tried in every way to hamper and oppose the Jews who at a later time returned from Babylon to rebuild Jerusalem (See the Books of Ezra and Nehemiah).
Yet a man of that background, despised by the priest and Levite, who with their background and profession ought to have been the foremost in neighborliness, was the real man of love and compassion. It is character and action that count; not profession, or pride of heritage.
It is a parable for Priests and Levites, and for all "good Christians," who are not Good Samaritans in heart and action. Love is the fulfilling of the law.

ED RAY COY TO BE MISSIONARY

Sterlington Man Will Return To Orient This Time As Preacher

At least one person in commander naval forces, Far East, Tokyo, Japan is not swearing that he will never come back to Japan. Edgar Ray Coy, PN3, does plan to return

—as a missionary. A soft-spoken, mild young man, Ed is one of those people who make stable citizens and good, dependable citizens.
Ed is a native of Louisiana, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pope Coy, of Sterlington. He attended Ouachita Parish High School in Monroe before enlisting in the navy, 10 March 1950. In the navy, he attended Yeoman School in San Diego, Calif., then was shipped to the Far East.
In Tokyo, Ed met the future Mrs. Coy, Miss Bonnie-Ellen Pfaff and Ed became engaged on 16 May 1951. They plan to be married on Ed's return to the United States. In the meantime, Ed is supporting the post office department with the letters winging stateside.
Coy has been accepted for entrance in the Baptist Bible Seminary at Johnson City, New York. Approximately seven years are required for his training before he can return to Japan. When he does come back, his work will probably be on the island of Hokkaido.

Bible Words to Live by

I think my favorite verse in the Bible is:

* * * * *

ST. JOHN 7:17 – "If any man willeth to do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself."

* * * * *

It is my favorite because it opens the way to those who have difficulties with belief. I am always most interested in people without the great privilege of faith. So many of them are starved for it. This verse shows them the door.

Most of us think, "If I only knew, I would be willing to do what religion says." This tells us, "Do what religion says, get open to that, and you will understand with your mind." It is an invitation to spiritual experiment.

It is the doorway to understanding the Christian faith itself. Do the will of God so far as you know it, get open to God and surrendered to Him, whatever or Whoever He is – and then you will begin to know Him, and hence to understand Him.

It is the doorway to the discovery of His will. Open yourself to whatever His will is, whether it coincide with your own or not – and you will find out what His will is.

This verse is an invitation to try believing in a scientific, experimental way. It has led unnumbered people into faith. Maybe it will lead you into it.

A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO

by J. Paul Hewitt

Around the Fourth of July, we're reminded of an incident that happened in Paris at the end of the last world war. Although the commemorative dates are different, there's something in the spirit of the time that calls the event to mind. We forget who it was that said, "Know ye a nation by its songs." Well, it seems that the U. S. will long be remembered in Paris by one song . . . THE ST. LOUIS BLUES.

It was a triumphal march . . . with American Blue Jackets swinging along to a stirring four-four beat. The band was hitting up the ST. LOUIS BLUES . . . and down the Champs Elysees, through the Arch of Triumph came the boys in blue . . . swinging along to the stirring strains of a song as American as the Mississippi . . . a BLUES song.

We like to think about that good - humored triumphal march . . . the invasion of a free spirit in a world so long in chains. Maybe it's a good idea for everybody to think about it . . . when we're thinking about our fight for freedom . . . when we're celebrating Independence Day. Maybe we need to remember THE ST. LOUIS BLUES.

For easier, smoother action, select a top-name organ for your playing pleasure. Why don't you step by soon? We have the famous Hammond organ . . . famous all over for quality and dependability . . . open at your service at HE[illegible] Inc. 208 Grammont, [illegible] 2-3464.

Our motto: "A church established by God with a future as bright as His face"

224 Auburn Ave.

"Christian Science" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and societies Sunday, June 29, 1952.
The Golden Text is: "The ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away" (Isa. 35:10).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you" (John 14:26).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Our Master said, 'But the Comforter . . . shall teach you all things.' When the Science of Christianity appears, it will lead you into all truth" (p. 271).

Angelo Patri

Our Children

FAMILY TROUBLES

"Our son is coming home from the hospital soon. He was wounded in the war and lost his right leg. How shall we prepare the other children, especially the youngest one, aged six, for his appearance? They don't know that this happened to him."
Tell the children the truth. Tell it in such a way that they look on this loss of a limb in the war as a badge of honor, which it is. Try not to be sad about it in your talk, or in your manner. Be careful not to make the soldier an object of pity.
Maimed soldiers hate to be pitied. That makes them feel that people believe them to be injured so as to make them unfit for any use in life. The thought can destroy a hopeful homecoming soldier. It is an error in the very beginning, for as long as a man or woman feels able and fit to take on life's responsibilities, he is able. To destroy faith in such fitness is to destroy a life.
When these veterans return, they are to be given the heartiest welcome possible. They are to be shown how much they mean to their own people. They are not to be pitied, nor babied, which they will resent mightily. They are to be received with the same matter-of-course attitude with which they were sent off. The loss of arm or leg, a scar here or there, a disability of any sort, is to be accepted "as is," and the veteran shown that he is expected to take up his life where he left off. What help he needs he must have in the same matter - of - course fashion, but no overly sympathetic fussing if he is to be made comfortable.
Trying to hide family misfortunes from the children never helps. They cannot be hidden for any length of time and, if they are discovered by the children from whom they have been hidden, the reaction is not likely to help either the children or their families. The youngsters feel that they have been pushed outside the family circle. That they resent. They feel that they have not been trusted, as members of the inner circle are, and they feel like outsiders with their noses against the window panes.
Tell the children the truth when trouble strikes, so the family faces it together. That is what families are for. Their unity, loyalty, affection one for the other is what forms their defense against grief, a defense against which the storms of life beat in vain. Take the children in so they may lend their united strength to the family's support.

An obedient child is like by everyone and requires little attention on the paren'ts part if training is started in babyhood. Dr. Patri tells how to guide children in obedience in booklet No. 301, "Obedience." To obtain a copy send 25 cents in coin to him, c-o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. .

Meet To Plan New Southside Church

Following an exhaustive canvas house to house in and around the Cotton Mill addition to secure names of Methodists who desire a church on the site that has been purchased by this denomination, there will be held a meeting in the Booster club house, Ouachita avenue, July 13 at 11 a. m. to effect organization.
There are shown to be 127 families in the area named who would welcome a new church. Methodists locally have purchased the site for the church at South Fourth and Wilson streets, near Winnsboro road.
All those interested are urged to attend the meeting when further plans will be effected states Rev. W. H. Giles, district superintendent. Rev. Lea Joyner will be the pastor of the new church.

SILVER STERLINGS

Under the Saxon kings, the British minted coins called sterlings from silver, 240 to the pound. Large quantities of the coins were reckoned as pounds of sterlings; later, pounds sterling, present name of the British monetary unit.

In 1951, the American Bible Society distributed more than eight million Bibles in the United States.

Bible Comment

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

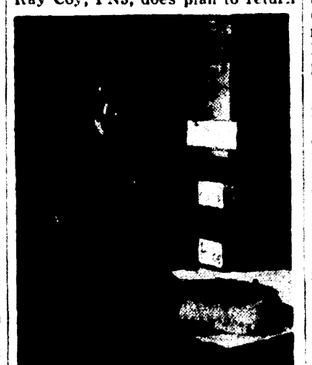

Love: the fulfilling of the law

The New Testament cannot be rightly understood without reference to the Old.
Christianity began with Jews, and it was a Jew, Paul, who was its great second-generation interpreter.
Deep and dominant in Judaism was the conception of the Law. One can see how large a part it was in the Epistles of St. Paul, and in his efforts to relate the Law to "the faith that is counted for righteousness" and to his conception of freedom in Christ.
In His recorded words and teachings Jesus gave no such elaborate discussions and expositions as are in Paul's Epistles. In plain, unmistakable words, however, He summed up the Law in two great commandments: to love God with all the heart, and strength, and soul, and mind: love one's neighbor as one's self.
But all was not contained in that simple pronouncement. Jesus amplified it with much concerning humility and service, and the essence of true greatness. Also, He brought to it an unmistakable illustration.
This was the Parable of the Good Samaritan, recorded in Luke 10. That a Samaritan, one of those with whom, racially and religiously, the Jews had no dealings, should actually be a better exponent of the commandment to love one's neighbors than a Jewish priest, or a Levite, was to put the matter in the most challenging way possible, and to assert in the strongest way that love in action meant far more than religious pretentiousness or any professed superiority.
Jesus did not mean to imply for a moment that a Samaritan was better than a priest or a Levite. As a matter of fact there was much warrant historically for the attitude of the Jews toward the Samaritans.
These colonists had brought their various pagan religions with them, but when trouble came upon them, as recorded in II Kings 17: 24-41, they had a Jewish priest come along them to instruct them in "the religion of the land."
The result was a corruption of Jewish religious elements with paganism. But this was not all.
They refused to let Jews pasa through Samaria on their way to their religious feasts, and they tried in every way to hamper and oppose the Jews who at a later time returned from Babylon to rebuild Jerusalem (See the Books of Ezra and Nehemiah).
Yet a man of that background, despised by the priest and Levite, who with their background and profession ought to have been the foremost in neighborliness, was the real man of love and compassion. It is character and action that count; not profession, or pride of heritage.
It is a parable for Priests and Levites, and for all "good Christians," who are not Good Samaritans in heart and action. Love is the fulfilling of the law.

ED RAY COY TO BE MISSIONARY

Sterlington Man Will Return To Orient This Time As Preacher

At least one person in commander naval forces, Far East, Tokyo, Japan is not swearing that he will never come back to Japan. Edgar Ray Coy, PN3, does plan to return —as a missionary. A soft-spoken mild young man, Ed is one of those people who make stable citizens and good, dependable citizens.

Ed is a native of Louisiana, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pope Coy, of Sterlington. He attended Ouachita Parish High School in Monroe before enlisting in the navy, 10 March 1950. In the navy, he attended Yeoman School in San Diego, Calif., then was shipped to the Far East.
In Tokyo, Ed met the future Mrs. Coy, Miss Bonnie-Ellen Pfaff and Ed became engaged on 16 May 1951. They plan to be married on Ed's return to the United States. In the meantime, Ed is supporting the post office department with the letters winging stateside.
Coy has been accepted for entrance in the Baptist Bible Seminary at Johnson City, New York. Approximately seven years are required for his training before he can return to Japan. When he does come back, his work will probably be on the island of Hokkaido.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

July 4th

The Heritage of Independence.

The Fourth of July has come to mean many different things to us, 176 years after this nation was born. First, it is a day of freedom to do as we please, a day of celebration, of picnics and family reunions, of traveling and perhaps even some oratory, too. Justly so, for what better occasion than this birthday for the free exercise of our independence as individuals, which is the glorious heritage handed down to us by the courageous men who laid the foundation of this nation by signing the Declaration of Independence.

We know that our nation stands today in grave peril; we are warned at every hand of the powerful tyranny which rides today unchecked, growing more threatening and more powerful hour by hour, day by day . . . Russia and her fifth column. We realize that the fate of our freedom is in our own hands. We must not be unconcerned. We must recognize the dangers. We must be ready to sacrifice. Like our forefathers, we must value our democratic freedom more than life itself . . . as we have done for nearly 200 years. Never have the people of America failed to rally in support of the principles set forth in our Declaration of Independence. We never will! Communism cannot take root in the Land of the Free. We have no desire for territory. We have no ambition for conquest and military glory. We want no loot. But we mean to have our freedom and independence, whatever the cost. In 1776, our forefathers made a bold Declaration against Despotism. Today, we stand ready to uphold that Declaration against any powers that be. The Spirit of '76 still lives. The right to Freedom of worship must Prevail.

GOP Chairman Well-Liked By Party And Democrats

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—The temporary chairman of the 1952 Republican National Convention is one party leader who gets on well with Democrats.

Walter Simms Hallanan has been head of the Arrangements Committee for this year's big Chicago meeting primarily because the Democratic bigwigs like him as well as do the top men of his own party.

It was Hallanan who, in his first sting as GOP arrangements chairman in 1944, called on Edward W. Pauley of Los Angeles, Democratic arrangements chairman, and said, "Ed, why don't we co-operate and spread costs of these two conventions?"

Pauley agreed and left the matter of setting up the Chicago Stadium for both conventions to Hallanan.

"Day before the convention started," Hallanan recalls, "Ed came over to look at the hall. He said, it's just fine Walter, except for one thing. I'll have to take down that big portrait of Abraham Lincoln and hang up one of Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Hallanan is a staunch supporter of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for this year's GOP presidential nomination.

But, he says, he can be absolutely impartial at the rostrum while he serves as temporary chairman.

"Anyone who anticipates other than fair play from me challenges my personal integrity," Hallanan says. "It would have been impossible to have named a temporary chairman who didn't favor one candidate. But that has nothing to do with an impartial chairmanship."

Hallanan first jumped into prominence in his party in 1912 during a campaign featuring another Taft.

He served that year as director of publicity for the Republican committee in his native West Virginia.

After the rift between William Howard Taft and Theodore Roosevelt in the 1912 campaign, Hallanan helped to elect the only Republican governor of a normally Republican state that year. West Virginia was considered Republican at that time, but has had uninterrupted Democratic rule for the last 20 years.

Hallanan has been the state's national committeeman for 28 years—a record of service second in length only to that of Perry Howard of Mississippi.

The 62-year-old Hallanan, son of a country doctor, is one of the nation's rich men. His money came from oil exploration and development. The Plymouth Oil Company which he helped to found in 1923 discovered the Big Lake field in 1924, thus opening up all of West Texas. Hallanan has been president of the company since its founding. He holds directorships in several other corporations dealing with oil production and pipelines.

In World War II, he was chairman of the Production Committee of the Petroleum Industry War Council. He is serving his sixth term as chairman of the National Petroleum Council.

To West Virginians, Hallanan is generally known as a Republican rather than a business tycoon. He served 10 years in appointive state jobs—as secretary to former Gov. Henry D. Hatfield, and as a Hatfield appointee to the State Tax Commission.

Despite his political prominence, however, Hallanan has held only one elective political office other than that of national committeeman. He served one term in the West Virginia State Senate and was defeated for re-election.

His plans, whether a Republican is elected this year or not, are to continue working for the party. He declines to discuss the possibility that he might win a high government appointment as a reward for his long party service.

WILDCAT WELL

Quickie dessert: Line a sherbert glass with ladyfingers and fill with chocolate pudding made from a packkaged mix. Top each serving with a mound of whipped cream and a fresh cherry with its stem left on.

The year 1951 was the 10th year in which U. S. meat production exceeded 21 billion pounds.

PILOT CLUBBERS GO TO MEETING

Local Delegation To Attend International Convention

Delegates to the 31st International convention of Pilot International, at Mackinac Island, Mich., left Monroe by Missouri Pacific train last night. They were: Miss Nona (Dutch) Martin, second vice-president of Pilot International; Mrs. Lillie Mae Carroll, Lt. governor; Mrs. Ellen Thompson, president, Monroe Pilot Club; Mrs. Anna Mae Breece, treasurer, Monroe Pilot Club; Mrs. Zola Smith, chaplain; and Mrs. Lou Perkins.

The convention will open July 2 and continue through July 5. All sessions will be in Grand Hotel, the world's largest summer hotel. Opening day will include a tea with presidents of district 15 as hosfesses and a banquet will follow a reception to honor retiring district governors.

The first business session will be on Thursday morning with Miss Helen Hoffman, Washington, D. C., president, presiding. Miss Hoffman is administrative assistant in the office of the special deputy commissioner, bureau of internal revenue and is chairman of the membership committee for the Pan - American liaison committee composed of representatives from the 104 local and national women's organizations interested in furthering inter-American good will.

Pilot International has a membership of more than 8,500 women in 318 clubs.

Sgt. S. D. M'Daniel Now Leaving Army

Sgt. Samuel D. McDaniel is now at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver McDaniel of Clarks, La., after receiving an honorable discharge from the United States army. Sergeant McDaniel served three years and three and one-half months, having enlisted on March 9, 1949. On July 25, 1949 he was sent to Japan where he served for one year on occupational duty. When war broke out in Korea he was sent directly into Korea where he fought for one year with the famed 24th division under General William Dean.

On July 6, 1951, he was returned to the United States and since that date he has served as detail sergeant in Fort Sill, Okla. Sergeant McDaniel has been highly commended for his bravery under fire. He received the President Unit Citation, the Distinquished Unit Citation, the Korean Service medal with five Bronze Camp Stars, the Army Occupational medal from Japan with the Bronze Star medal, and the United Nations service medal.

He served with the 24th division, 52nd field artillery battalion. He is a brother of Mrs. J. H. Tichel of Monroe.

GOP Chairman Well-Liked By Party And Democrats

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—The temporary chairman of the 1952 Republican National Convention is one party leader who gets on well with Democrats.

Walter Simms Hallanan has been head of the Arrangements Committee for this year's big Chicago meeting primarily because the Democratic bigwigs like him as well as do the top men of his own party.

It was Hallanan who, in his first sting as GOP arrangements chairman in 1944, called on Edward W. Pauley of Los Angeles, Democratic arrangements chairman, and said, "Ed, why don't we co-operate and spread costs of these two conventions?"

Pauley agreed and left the matter of setting up the Chicago Stadium for both conventions to Hallanan.

"Day before the convention started," Hallanan recalls, "Ed came over to look at the hall. He said, it's just fine Walter, except for one thing. I'll have to take down that big portrait of Abraham Lincoln and hang up one of Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Hallanan is a staunch supporter of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for this year's GOP presidential nomination.

But, he says, he can be absolutely impartial at the rostrum while he serves as temporary chairman.

"Anyone who anticipates other than fair play from me challenges my personal integrity," Hallanan says. "It would have been impossible to have named a temporary chairman who didn't favor one candidate. But that has nothing to do with an impartial chairmanship."

Hallanan first jumped into prominence in his party in 1912 during a campaign featuring another Taft.

He served that year as director of publicity for the Republican committee in his native West Virginia.

After the rift between William Howard Taft and Theodore Roosevelt in the 1912 campaign, Hallanan helped to elect the only Republican governor of a normally Republican state that year. West Virginia was considered Republican at that time, but has had uninterrupted Democratic rule for the last 20 years.

Hallanan has been the state's national committeeman for 28 years—a record of service second in length only to that of Perry Howard of Mississippi.

The 62-year-old Hallanan, son of a country doctor, is one of the nation's rich men. His money came from oil exploration and development. The Plymouth Oil Company which he helped to found in 1923 discovered the Big Lake field in 1924, thus opening up all of West Texas. Hallanan has been president of the company since its founding. He holds directorships in several other corporations dealing with oil production and pipelines.

In World War II, he was chairman of the Production Committee of the Petroleum Industry War Council. He is serving his sixth term as chairman of the National Petroleum Council.

To West Virginians, Hallanan is generally known as a Republican rather than a business tycoon. He served 10 years in appointive state jobs—as secretary to former Gov. Henry D. Hatfield, and as a Hatfield appointee to the State Tax Commission.

Despite his political prominence, however, Hallanan has held only one elective political office other than that of national committeeman. He served one term in the West Virginia State Senate and was defeated for re-election.

His plans, whether a Republican is elected this year or not, are to continue working for the party. He declines to discuss the possibility that he might win a high government appointment as a reward for his long party service.

WILDCAT WELL

In oil field lingo, a wildcat is a well drilled on unimproved land, while wildcatting is the process of drilling exploratory wells.

Quickie dessert: Line a sherbert glass with ladyfingers and fill with chocolate pudding made from a packaged mix. Top each serving with a mound of whipped cream and a fresh cherry with its stem left on.

The year 1951 was the 10th year in which U. S. meat production exceeded 25 billion pounds.

Local Delegation To Attend International Convention

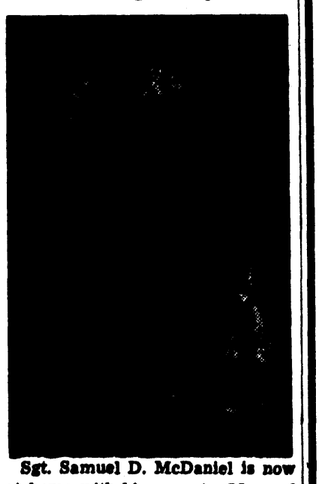

Delegates to the 31st International convention of Pilot International, at Mackinac Island, Mich., left Monroe by Missouri Pacific train last night. They were: Miss Nona (Dutch) Martin, second vice-president of Pilot International; Mrs. Lillie Mae Carroll, Lt. governor; Mrs. Ellen Thompson, president, Monroe Pilot Club; Mrs. Anna Mae Breece, treasurer, Monroe Pilot Club; Mrs. Zola Smith, chaplain; and Mrs. Lou Perkins.

The convention will open July 2 and continue through July 5. All sessions will be in Grand Hotel, the world's largest summer hotel. Opening day will include a tea with presidents of district 15 as hostesses and a banquet will follow a reception to honor retiring district governors.

The first business session will be on Thursday morning with Miss Helen Hoffman, Washington, D. C., president, presiding. Miss Hoffman is administrative assistant in the office of the special deputy commissioner, bureau of internal revenue and is chairman of the membership committee for the Pan - American liaison committee composed of representatives from the 104 local and national women's organizations interested in furthering inter-American good will.

Pilot International has a membership of more than 8,500 women in 318 clubs.

Sgt. S. D. M'Daniel Now Leaving Army

Sgt. Samuel D. McDaniel is now at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver McDaniel of Clarks, La., after receiving an honorable discharge from the United States army. Sergeant McDaniel served three years and three and one-half months, having enlisted on March 9, 1949. On July 25, 1949 he was sent to Japan where he served for one year on occupational duty. When war broke out in Korea he was sent directly into Korea where he fought for one year with the famed 24th division under General William Dean.

On July 6, 1951, he was returned to the United States and since that date he has served as detail sergeant in Fort Sill, Okla. Sergeant McDaniel has been highly commended for his bravery under fire. He received the President Unit Citation, the Distinguished Unit Citation, the Korean Service medal with five Bronze Camp Stars, the Army Occupational medal from Japan with the Bronze Star medal, and the United Nations service medal.

He served with the 24th division, 52nd field artillery battalion. He is a brother of Mrs. J. H. Tichel of Monroe.

If peanut butter and salad dressing are used regularly they may be stored on a cupboard shelf. But if you are keeping an opened jar any length of time store it in the refrigerator to prevent rancidity.

LATER, AT DUSK, THE APE-MAN WAS SURPRISED BY THE FAINT SPOOR OF MAN. PEERING THROUGH THE BUSH, HE SAW A CRUDE NATIVE VILLAGE.

HE APPROACHED CAUTIOUSLY, TO INVESTIGATE, AND FOUND THE STREET DESERTED--BUT THEN, A SHADOWY FIGURE DARTED TOWARD A DISTANT BUILDING!

WITH CAT-LIKE STEALTH, TARZAN JUMPED THE MAN FROM BEHIND. "WHAT IS GOING ON?" HE GROWLED. "WHY DOES EVERYONE HIDE?"

TREMBLING, THE NATIVE LED THE JUNGLE LORD TO THE LARGEST HUT. "IN THERE," HE WHISPERED. "PERHAPS WAMBA CAN HELP YOU."

TARZAN ENTERED A SMOKY, STENCH-FILLED ROOM. A SHRIVELED OLD WITCH DOCTOR REGARDED HIM THROUGH STARING EYES. "WHAT ARE YOU DOING HERE, WHITE MAN--IN THE LAND OF THE LIVING DEAD?"

DADDY-WHY DON'T YOU TRY TO PLEASE MOTHER AND GO TO SOME SWANKY PLACE AND BE SEEN AND GET YOUR NAME IN THE PAPERS?

WELL-HERE'S THAT SWELL CLUB I JOINED YEARS AGO-BUT NEVER VISITED-I WONDER IF ANY OF 'EM ARE STILL ALIVE-

DON'T HESITATE-DADDY- GO IN!

Old Ancients Club.

TOO BAD-SIR-YOU WEREN'T HERE YESTERDAY- THEY TOOK PICTURES OF THE MEMBERS' YEARLY DINNER- IT'LL BE IN THE PAPERS TOMORROW-

IS IT ALL RIGHT IF I BREATHE IN HERE?? I DON'T WANT TO CAUSE A DISTURBANCE!

MR. JIGGS-SORRY YOU WERE NOT HERE EARLIER-SO MANY SOCIETY PEOPLE WERE HERE- THE NEWSPAPERS TOOK MANY PICTURES FOR THE SOCIETY COLUMNS!

THAT'S TOO BAD IN FACT- IT'S WORSE THAN YOU THINK FOR ME!!

YOU SHOULD HAVE BEEN HERE AT NOON- SOCIETY WAS HERE IN FULL BLAST!! YOU MUST HAVE RECEIVED AN INVITATION!!

YOUR PAL DAN MAHANN WAS HERE-TOO-BUT HE WAS WORKING IN THE KITCHEN-

GIT ME MY HAT-I WANT TO GIT OUT OF HERE!

CIGAR

RATS! ONE OF THE SWANKIEST PLACES IN TOWN- I'M GOIN' HOME-I'LL PASS DINTY'S- BUT I'LL NOT GO IN-

BEL-LONNÉ Tavern CLOSED TODAY

I SHOULD HAVE NEVER PASSED HERE!

DINTY

YOU! HAVE YOU SEEN THE EVENING PAPERS? YOUR PICTURE IS ON THE FRONT PAGE!! A FIGHT IN FRONT OF DINTY MOORE'S- WHY DO YOU HANG OUT IN SUCH A DIVE? SPEAK UP!! SHUT UP!! DON'T TRY TO LIE OUT OF IT!!

WHAT'S THE USE?

Last call Surf's $100,000 Li'l Abner Contest

"Jest tell me whut mah Daisy Mae sez 'bout Surf"

1,661 sweet prizes - good clean fun!

First prize $10,000 cash

10 SECOND PRIZES, EACH $500 CASH

50 THIRD PRIZES, EACH $100 CASH

PLUS 1600 DE LUXE CANNON fine quality LINEN CLOSET SETS

Each set worth $50, each in assorted colors of pastel shades including:

- 9 Cannon Fine Quality Bath Towels
- 9 Cannon Fine Quality Face Towels
- 9 Cannon Fine Quality Wash Cloths
- 9 Cannon Guest Towels
- 4 Cannon Percale Sheets, Double Bed Size
- 4 Cannon Percale Pillow Cases

FOLLOW THESE EASY RULES

1. Read what "Li'l Abner" is saying in the 4th picture above. Then print or write plainly, in not more than 20 words, a suitable reply for Daisy Mae. Use coupon.
2. Mail entries to: "Li'l Abner" Contest, P.O. Box 322, New York 46, N. Y. Entries must be postmarked not later than July 13, 1952. Send as many entries as you wish. Include with each entry a box top from any size package of Surf. Each entry must be the original work of contestant submitted in own name.
3. Entries judged by The Reuben H. Donnelley Corporation on the basis of originality, interest and aptness. Judges' decisions final.
4. Contest is confined to the continental United States, Hawaii and Alaska.
5. Prize winners' lists available about August 15 to those enclosing self-addressed envelope.

NOTE: This is all you need to know to compete. Detailed rules included on blanks available through grocers.

YOU MIGHT SAY SOMETHING LIKE THIS: "It is wonderful—there is just nothing like it! Surf gets clothes really sweet clean . . . makes every washing job easier." Or, "Surf is amazing! It gets out the hidden dirt, soap scum and odor that other products leave in!"

GOOD WAY TO GET IDEAS. Make the Linen Closet Test. Do a wash with Surf—and compare the sweet-clean smell of your Surf wash with anything in your linen closet washed with any other product.
